THE CARD EASTSIDE RAILWAY COMPANY

Table with 2 columns: LEAVE PORTLAND (Couch St.) and LEAVE OREGON CITY. Lists departure times for various routes.

THE LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. Hubbel Dead.—Mrs. Hattie Hubbel, died at her home at Bolton, last Sunday, of consumption. Her remains were brought to this city and interred in the city cemetery Tuesday. She leaves a husband and two little girls.

Death of Miss Hurn.—Miss Nora Hurn, who has been receiving treatment in the city hospital here, died at that place Sunday. Her remains were shipped to Canby for interment Thursday, by Shank and Bissell, undertakers.

Home From Hospital.—Mrs. G. W. Shank, who has been taking treatment at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, and who underwent a critical surgical operation, has recovered sufficiently to be brought to the home of her son, William Shank.

Bicycle Path Gone.—The part of the bicycle path in the low land between this city and the Clackamas bottoms, which was composed of boards, was carried away by the high water last week. It will cost considerable money to replace it, but it will, no doubt be rebuilt in the spring.

Lost a Warehouse.—A big potato warehouse at New Era, belonging to George Brown, a prominent potato grower of that vicinity, became undermined by the high water last week and with its contents, about 400 sacks of potatoes, slid into the river and was washed away. It is a total loss.

Wife Won't Come.—Mat Oleson and Bertha his wife, were married in Sweden in 1880. In 1886 Matt came to America to work and win a home for himself and his wife, and then she was to come to him. But now the obstinate Bertha refuses to leave Sweden and Matt has sued for a divorce, probably thinking that if his wife will not come and live with him, he will discard her and get one that will.

A Deserved Promotion.—The many friends of Miss Laura E. Beatie, a former teacher of the school here, but now of Pendleton will be pleased to hear that she has been promoted from 4th and 5th grades to 8th, with other high school studies with wages increased from $55 to $60 per month. She was tendered the position without any solicitation on her part. Miss Beatie is well qualified for the position.

Crematory Work Begun.—Work on the foundation of the crematory, on the Oregon City railroad near Sellwood, was commenced Monday. The foundations will be of concrete and the walls of brick. The brick will be shipped from Willsburg. The switch of the electric road to the crematory is finished, thus allowing cars to take material to the ground. Superintendent Frank Gibson expects to have the work sufficiently advanced in a week so that the corner stone can be laid with fitting ceremonies. Clergymen and representatives of fraternal organizations will take part in laying the corner stone. The grounds around the crematory will, when finished, be very pretty. There are 30 different varieties of trees growing on the grounds now and others will be planted.

Fell From a Trestle.—Moses Eby sustained a painful injury Monday morning, by falling from a trestle on the Southern Pacific track near town. Mr. Eby, who is an elderly man, lost one of his arms some time ago, and is thus rendered comparatively helpless. He was walking on the trestle and was in the act of stepping off onto the walk when his foot slipped and he fell, striking his head and cutting a gash in his forehead. The injury, though not serious, is a very painful one.

The Fishermen's Bill.—The Fishermen's Union, of this place, will present a bill to the present session of the legislature, asking that the Clackamas be open for fishing during the months of April and May. Traps and fishwheels are allowed in the Columbia; but the Clackamas is closed to the fisherman all the year round. The fishermen here only ask to be allowed to operate two months out of the twelve, and agree to keep off during the time that the hatcheries are taking eggs in the fall run.

Death of Mrs. Paquet.—Mrs. Eliza Paquet, wife of Louis Paquet, a boat-builder of East Portland, died in Los Angeles, California, last Monday morning. Mrs. Paquet was born in Clackamas county in 1858. She was the daughter of Coleman Becker, a well known Oregon pioneer. Accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Mary Walton, she went to Los Angeles for her health. She leaves a husband and one son. Interment will be in Oregon City cemetery.

Team Ran Away.—Last Friday afternoon a team belonging to groceryman Barlow, took a notion to have a little exercise not provided for in their daily routine. So they took a wild skedaddle down Main street, and after going a few blocks, ran into the curb and broke the wagon tongue. When the horses first started to run, S. Mosier, the driver, tried to stop them, and got kicked in the stomach for his pains, or rather to produce pain. He was pretty badly hurt and medical assistance was called, but he soon recovered.

T. A. Boyer's Lecture.—A fairly good sized crowd heard T. A. Boyer deliver his lecture, "Crossing the Century Line," at the Congregational church last Monday night. The lecture was good. It was both interesting and instructive. If the succeeding lectures of the course come up to the standard of the first one, the promoters of the course will have ample reason to congratulate themselves. The people of Oregon City should see that the course does not fail for lack of proper attendance and indorsement.

Will Build a Cheese Factory.—The creamery meeting which was advertised in the Enterprise, took place at New Era last Saturday. Committees appointed to look after cows, reported about 250 that would contribute to the creamery. After careful consideration, it was deemed best to organize a cheese factory association and drop the creamery idea. It is believed that a cheese factory would prove more remunerative and beneficial by itself than a combined creamery and cheese factory, accordingly it was announced that a meeting will be held next Saturday to organize a joint stock company for that purpose. The capital stock will be $1200, in shares of $10 each. The location has not been definitely decided upon, but it will doubtless be in, or very near, New Era.

Wedding Anniversary.—Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Bollinger were given a cleverly planned surprise in the parlors of the Congregational church last Friday evening, that being the 15th anniversary of their wedding. The reverend gentleman and his wife were informed that a surprise was to be given to a member of the congregation, and they were asked to take part. They readily consented and joined the party at the residence of Mrs. George Broughton, whence they all, about 100 in number, repaired to the church. Rev. Bollinger was still in ignorance of the good natured plot which he was helping to carry out, until they arrived at the church and his people began to offer him and his wife congratulations. Mr. C. B. Moore, acting as curate, pronounced them man and wife with privilege of continuing that relationship indefinitely. C. D. Latourette then gave the couple some wholesome advice, which was received in a becomingly meek spirit. Quite a number of valuable presents were given the newly re-married couple. Mrs. E. E. Dye, in behalf of the congregation, presented a water service and a handsome carpet. A number of other presents were given, among them a handsome cutglass vase. The ladies had prepared a nice lunch which was greatly enjoyed. Rev. and Mrs. Bollinger expressed a hearty appreciation of the kindness shown them, and everyone interested experienced a feeling of gladness and good will.

Married at Sunnyside.—Last Sunday, at the home of the bride's parents at Sunnyside, Rev. F. M. Sumner officiating, Zylonia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Davis, and W. R. Stack, of Portland, were married. Quite a number of friends witnessed the ceremony, after which a splendid dinner was served. Miss Myrtle Davis, of Portland, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Ed. Rankin, also of Portland, was best man. The bride is a most estimable young lady and has many friends. Mr. Stack is a prominent business man of Portland with bright prospects. The young couple are beginning married life under most favorable auspices, and the Enterprise joins their many friends in extending congratulations.
