AMUSEMENTS.

"The Star Boarder." "The Star Boarder" will be the guest of the Shively Opera-house Saturday, February 2. He will bring his varied baggage, and intends to take it away at the close of his engagement. He is accompanied by pretty, dashing and gaily dressed girls, comedians and specialists, who assist him in producing hilarious merriment that is so strong that a dyspeptic or cynic cannot resist the infection which "catches" everybody and holds on good and hard. Long, lean, colorless faces grow short, plump and rosy as a result of seeing this farce comedy, which is a cure-all for blues and allied ailments. It is a good, smart thing for anybody who prefers tear-shedding laughter to tears of sorrow over some sombre play. The "Boarder's" supply of fun is unlimited. Numerous songs, dances and other specialties are freely introduced that make an evening seem like Elysium to playgoers.

"Waifs of New York."

Melodrama of the sort that tells an interesting story of every-day life, embellished with scenic and mechanical effects familiar to us, always appeals to the theater-goer more strongly than do the exaggerated examples imported from foreign countries. "The New Waifs of New York" tells of things, people and happenings made familiar to us by every-day reading of newspapers, and places them on the stage in the most attractive style, causing at times tears of sympathy for the heroine, groans of derision for the villain and roars of laughter at the comedians. The mechanical and scenic effects are startling in their originality and elegance, and never fail to raise an audience to the greatest enthusiasm.

Of Katie Emmet, the star, too much in praise has been written by the critics of the great newspapers to need any lengthy eulogium here. She is the most winsome of all soubrettes, who can assume any boy's attire naturally and without a tinge of vulgarity in dress or manner that so often mars otherwise clever work. In comedy or pathos she is equally effective, while her songs and dances are of a high order of merit, yet catchy and popular. Manager Lorin J. Howard has surrounded his star with a company of clever people. Talent, combined with a stirring play, full of strong situations, is what the management offers its patrons in Katie Emmet and "The New Waifs of New York," and in these days of so much trash the attraction will prove a welcome relief and a popular one with the patrons of the drama in Oregon City when it is presented next Monday night, February 4th.

I have the best land in the county for the least money. Try me.

J. E. HEDGER,

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY.

Annual Convention of the Clackamas County Grange.

Notice is hereby given that the annual county convention of Patrons of Husbandry for the county of Clackamas will be held at the county court house in Oregon City on March 5th, 1901, at 1 o'clock p. m. All subordinate granges are requested to elect delegates at their February meeting to attend said convention.

MARY S. HOWARD, County Deputy.

School Officers, Attention.

There will be held a meeting of clerks and directors at the court house, Oregon City, Saturday, February 16, 1901 for the discussion of matters of mutual interest. I trust every district in Clackamas county will be represented.

The Derbick Club Entertains.

Monday evening the Derbick Musical Club gave an open session in the home of Mrs. Chas. Latourette. The object was to give the musical friends an opportunity to hear one of the programmes and to learn more of the work being done by the members. An interesting programme had been prepared and was successfully carried out. Owing to sickness two of the vocal numbers had to be omitted.

The many present declared themselves very much pleased with the work of the club and a number gave in their names for membership. This club is a credit to our city and it is hoped it will receive hearty support in all they undertake to do.

Death At Colton.

P. E. Bonney, of Colton, was in the city yesterday after a coffin for Mrs. Ellen Hubbard, who died at that place Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hubbard was the widow of Charles O. Hubbard who died about a year ago. She was aged about 45 years, and leaves a family of nine children. Funeral will occur at Colton today.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by G. A. Harding.

Millions of people are familiar with DeWitt's Little Early Risers and those who use them find them to be famous little liver pills. Never gripe. G. A. Harding.

Local Events.

Mrs. Nelson Lawrence and Miss Harding have completed a series of dances which have been given twice a month at Armory during the fall and winter. These parties have been a social pleasure to the young people of Oregon City and who no doubt are very grateful to the patronesses for the successful manner in which they have been conducted.

B. P. Green, representing Eiler's Piano House, of Portland, is in the city this week interviewing those musically inclined. This well-known music house is offering the public exceptional opportunities for securing first-class instruments on good terms. Anyone who contemplates the purchase of an instrument will find it advantageous to see Mr. Green while he is in town.

The "Star Boarder" never misses a meal. The "Star Boarder" never pays a bill.

The much discussed and heralded play "Way Down East" which is now touring the Pacific slope, under the direction of Wm. A. Brady, begins a week's engagement at the Marquam Grand Opera House, Portland on Monday, February 4. We are promised an exact reproduction of the great New York presentation, and with a cast that has received the unqualified endorsement of the San Francisco papers. So strong is the faith of the management that it will be given for one entire week. Matinees will be given on Saturday and Wednesday only. The country within a radius of a hundred miles of Portland has been thoroughly advertised for this engagement, and so confident is the management that the piece will duplicate its success here as in other cities, that they are now concluding to remain two weeks next season.

Miss Brown Dead.

At Clackamas Heights Thursday January 31, of consumption, Mildred E., daughter of A. S. and Martha Brown, aged 19 years. Funeral services will take place today (Friday) at 10:30 a. m. Friends invited.

For Young Men and Young Women.

There is nothing that will arouse the ire of a young man or woman so quick as to have inferior laundry work put off on them. They may dress ever so well, but if their shirt front or shirt waist is mussy their neat appearance is spoiled. The Troy laundry makes a specialty of ladies' and gentlemen's fine work. There can be no better work than is done at the Troy. Leave your orders at Johnson's barber shop.

OUR SALEM LETTER.

SALEM, Jan. 29, 1901

To the Enterprise: In my letter last week written on the first day on which the legislature took a ballot for senator I predicted that there would be but little legislation until a senator was elected. In this I was mistaken, as there is no senator elected yet, but the work of both houses has been going right along as usual and I am told more has been done than ever before this early in the session.

Last week Senator Porter's bill reducing the salary of county judge for Clackamas county to $60 per month, passed the senate.

The vote on senator stands about the same as for several days past but it is thought there will be a break in the forces and some new man come into the race, probably Mr. Mitchell, before the week is out.

Henry Meldrum, Harrison Allen, prosecuting attorney; T. B. Hankins were at the State house last week. J. T. Apperson was here the forepart of this week.

Mr. Barkley, of "hold-up" fame is here, supposedly working for the election of Mr. Corbett for senator. E. P. C.
