THE LOCAL NEWS.

THE SCHOOL ELECTION.—At the school election held last Monday, Dr. W. E. Carr was elected school director, with a majority of 53 over his competitor, Dr. M. C. Stickland. There were 279 votes cast in all, many women voting. C. O. T. Williams was elected clerk without opposition.

WANTS A DIVORCE.—Addie J. McClure wants a divorce from Robert L. McClure, whom she married at Corvallis, Oregon, October, 14, 1888. Her husband went fishing in February, 1900 and has never returned. She asks for the custody of the children, Olga L., aged 11 years, and Henry H., 8; and Florence M., 2.

HE NEVER CAME BACK.—Orry L. Stuart has begun an action for divorce against George F. Stuart. She says she was married at Webster City, Iowa, June 2, 1877. Along about February 14, 1897, her husband started out to buy some shoestrings and she has never seen him since. She does not know whether he ever found the shoe strings or not. She wants a divorce from a man who is so absent minded.

TEACHERS MEETING.—There will be a teachers' meeting at Mount Pleasant Saturday, March 30, to which all teachers and others are cordially invited. Miss Alice Downing, of Stafford, will read a paper on "The System of the Rural School." The Rev. A. J. Montgomery will speak on "Trees of Clackamas County." Millard Hyatt, of Willamette Falls, has been assigned the subject: "Animals and Birds of Clackamas County." There will also be a discussion "Resolved that the present district school system be abolished. Affirmative T. J. Gary, Mr. Ara McLaughlin. Negative, Alex Thompson, W. H. Karr.

STABEN ESTATE SETTLED.—Last Wednesday afternoon County Judge Ryan succeeded in winding up the affairs of the Staben family that have been so much in a turmoil. It will be recalled that in March, 1898, one Staben, of Beaver Creek, ran away with some woman and left his family. As Staben was only a husband in a superficial manner, his going away did nothing more than cause annoyance. He did not own any of the property beyond the natural interest that fell to him as a husband-in-law. Mrs. Julia Staben, his wife, succeeded in finding him somewhere in the state of Washington, where he was living with the other woman. She obtained a release of his interest in her property, thus clearing her estate from incumbrance. In September, 1900, Mrs. Julia Staben died, leaving her estate to her heirs without a will. Fred Kamrath was appointed administrator and dealt honorably with the orphans. It is such an unusual thing for administrators to deal justly with orphans, that Mr. Kamrath deserves to be specially mentioned in this particular. The Staben estate is worth $4,500. The children are Theresa Staben, a young lady, Henry, 18 years old; George, 16; and Arthur, 14. Fred Kamrath, the administrator rendered an accounting to Judge Ryan, showing that he had received $692.40, and that his expenses had been $312.40, leaving a balance of $380. Judge Ryan appointed Theresa Staben the guardian of the other children, and ordered the administrator to turn over to her the residue of $380 for the immediate use in caring for her brothers.

A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.—At Armory hall last Friday night the Degree of Honor of the A. O. U. W., gave a delightful entertainment. The attendance was a flattering compliment to the popularity of the organization. The entertainment began with the appearance of the Dertlie double quartette in the song entitled, "There's One That I Love Dearly." Miss Holden's reading was a pleasant recital of a love story. Frank Conler's songs were highly appreciated. Mrs. E. Sheahan sang "Wooling" in a very charming manner and responded to a hearty encore with "Dreaming." Mrs. Sheahan has an exceptionally sweet soprano voice and her numerous friends bespeak for her many laurels in the future in the musical world. The reading of Miss Essie Block was intensely interesting, with a pronounced touch of juvenile genius. C. A. Miller explained that he was the only remaining member of a once prosperous and healthy male quartette. Grip and measles had thinned the ranks of the warblers, until only one remained to tell the story of desolation. Mr. Miller sang so well that the audience forgot there had ever been a quartette in existence. The piano trio by Mrs. L. L. Porter, Mrs. G. E. Hayes and Miss Veda Williams, was a splendid performance. Those who have heard one vigorous and healthy Oregon woman sing lost chords in a piano, can imagine what would happen when three of them all sit down to the same piano at the same time. The result was all that could be expected. The Dertlie quartette sang the "Darkies Cradle Song," and the musical entertainment closed with a cake walk by a lot of children. The little ones were decidedly graceful. The following little folks took part: Mildred Warren, of Portland; Clara Fields, Rolland Forsberg, Frankie Michals, Hilda Forsberg, Oren Cheney, Florence Girace, Doty, Forsberg. A dance followed in which all visitors were invited to participate.

DEATH OF ROBERT K. POTTER.—Robert K. Potter, an old and respected resident of Oregon City, was drowned in the Columbia river near Tongue Point last Saturday evening. He fell from the deck of the steamer Hassalo while on a journey from Portland to Astoria. The circumstances connected with his falling into the river are difficult to obtain. He left his home in Oregon City Saturday morning without the knowledge of the members of his family. When it was found that he had gone, his family notified Chief of Police Burns, who immediately started for Portland. Chief Burns found Mr. Potter on board the steamer Hassalo, and thought he was perfectly safe. The officer spoke to the captain of the steamer and told him to take special care of Mr. Potter during the trip. He made the journey in safety until Tongue Point was reached. It was in the early evening and Mr. Potter was sitting in the cabin. He was attacked with a fit of coughing and went out on the deck. Passengers who were standing near him say that he approached the railing and leaned over. The steamer gave a lurch and he plunged headforemost into the river. The cry of "man overboard," was taken up by the crew and passengers. A young man who had just retired, came from his stateroom clad only in his underclothing. A rope was fastened around the young man's waist, and he leaped over the side of the boat. He soon reached the drowning man and brought him to the surface. Mr. Potter was unconscious from the effects of the chilling water. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital at Astoria, where he died at midnight. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the Episcopal church. Mr. Potter came to Oregon City in 1852. In 1855 he was married to Miss Mary E. Patterson. He was one of the most reliable men, always meeting his obligations with promptness. He leaves a wife and three children. He was born in 1815 in Monroe county New York, and was therefore 86 years old. He was a cousin of Bishop Potter, of New York.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best. The Enterprise $1.50 per year.

Prof. Ivison, of Ionaconing, Md. suffered terribly from neuralgia of the stomach and indigestion for thirteen years and after the doctors had failed to cure him they fed him on morphine. A friend advised the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and after taking a few bottles of it he says, "It has cured me entirely. I can't say too much for Kodol Dyspepsia Cure." It digests what you eat. Geo. A. Harding.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain-Balm a trial. It will not cost you one cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cts. G. A. Harding Druggist.
