 Otto Gengelbach, the Clackamas populist, was in town the first of the week. This gentleman was a candidate for the legislature, but slept in a hotel where he was given room 13, which proved a hoodoo and he was defeated. He is going to Cape Nome on May 8 where he has been before.
 M. Mulvey has sold his farm at Mulino for $3,500, which is considered a good price for eighty acres. The purchaser is a Mr. Murphy from Kansas, a farmer with plenty of money to make improvements. Mrs. Mulvey, who is suffering from a cancer on the lip, will go to Portland for treatment. His family will remain in Oregon City.
 C. E. Bowman, of Mulino, was in town on business last Saturday. He says that the farmers are building a good many fences and otherwise making improvements. Mr. Bowman says that C. T. Howard, the flourmill man, is fencing considerable of his land. Fence lumber sells at Mulino for $6, a raise of $2 a thousand over what it was two years ago.

STILL MAKING PREMIUM CHEESE.

The Logan Cheese Factory is Increasing its Daily Out-put.

Fred Gerber, salesman, and O. D. Robbins, secretary and treasurer of the Logan cheese factory, were in town Thursday. They regret the fact that Grocer McGlashan, of Oregon City, was obliged to buy Uta cheese because he could not get Logan cheese. Speaking of the matter, Mr. Gerber said:
 "Grocer McGlashan never notified us that he wanted cheese. If he sent word by anybody we failed to get the notice. We are sorry he was disappointed, but we delivered cheese to him on February 28, with the understanding that the next delivery was to be in about 30 days. He ran out of cheese and we did not know it. We are still making the best cheese in the United States, and will take care of our Oregon City customers before anybody else can buy from us. We brought in 15 cases, or about 750 pounds of cheese. The milk supply is increasing, and the cheese product will also increase."

MORE MARITAL WOE.

Married in Tillamook to be Divorced in Clackamas.

George W. Steinhauer has asked for a divorce from Grace Steinhauer. George tells a story of sadness and woe. His married life began over in the classic shadows of Nehalem in Tillamook county. There, in April, 1889, the frogs sang a wedding march as he led his blushing bride to the altar. Three little testimonials of love came to bless the union. They are Willie K. now 11 years old; Lawrence R. 9 and Glen R. 7 years of age. Grace seems to have been a dutiful wife until March 7, 1900, when she packed her trunk and started out to get a touch of high life. George says he is willing that Grace should keep the three boys, but he does not want her to take them out of Oregon.

Short Weight Butter.

It is noticed that some of the farmers are still bringing in butter that is short in weight. The rolls, instead of containing full two pounds, are short from one to two ounces. This was evidently a deliberate design to sell false weights originally, for the butter is pressed into moulds that could not possibly be made to hold two pounds. The new law prohibits the selling of short weights.

Teachers' Examination.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at the court house, Oregon City, commencing Wednesday, April 10, at nine o'clock a. m., and continuing until Friday, April 12, at 4 o'clock.
 Dated this 26th day of March, 1901.

The price of bread has not advanced in Oregon City, although the making of small loaves will be done away with. Hereafter all loaves will weigh about 27 ounces and sell for five cents. In Portland the loaves that sell for five cents weigh from 20 to 22 ounces.

Michael Gelotte, the enterprising boot-black, has been improving his stand until it is quite as attractive and comfortable as any similar institution in the large cities. Mr. Gelotte has had constructed a new rostrum upon which his guests sit, and this rostrum is brass-trimmed, according to the latest designs. Mr. Gelotte has added a stock of cigars and tobacco and aspires to become a merchant.

Although the weather was very disagreeable, Willamette hall was crowded to the door last Friday night, to witness the entertainment given by the Ancient Order of Red Cross. The program went without a hitch, and was a credit to those who managed it. Judge Gordon E. Hayes spoke a few words on the benefits of fraternalism. The Telford children gave several selections to the great delight of the audience. The mandolin playing by Mr. and Mrs. Turney was heartily encored, as were also the recitations of Mrs. Hickman and Vada Boyland. Miss Ida Williams sang a pretty little solo, and Mrs. Springer favored the audience with "Georgia Campmeeting."
