Oswego, May 14.—Oswego was favored with two entertainments Saturday evening. A phonostero by the Woodmen at Grange hall, and amateur theatricals by the Artisans at I. O. O. F. hall. The Artisans served a splendid supper and the Woodmen ice cream and cake. Both entertainments were well attended.

Supervisor Hays is doing a good job on the hill near the furnace. By the way—speaking of road precincts—we see the Oregon City and Oswego road is sadly in need of repairs. The supervisor in west Oregon City should attend to it or the county commissioners should put it back into the Oswego road district.

Rev. H. L. St. Clair has resigned his pastorate of the M. E. church. He will make his home at Oswego however. Mr. St. Clair has made hosts of friends at Oswego, who regret very much to lose him.

Mr. Case, of Michigan, has moved into our midst. He occupies a house on Seventh street belonging to Mrs. Zimmerman. County Clerk and Mrs. Cooper attended the Artisan entertainment Saturday evening.

Mrs. T. R. Haines, of Hoehos, was visiting friends and relatives in Oswego last week. Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bossard were visiting in Oswego Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Grant White, of Portland, visited in Oswego Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Banker, of Portland, were in Oswego Saturday, the guests of Mrs. J. C. Haines. A. S. and T. R. Clinefeiler returned home last Sunday from Shanika, eastern Oregon, where they had been employed for some time.

Items of Expense

Which ought not and need not be paid by Portland people. There is no better piano than the Kimball. No piano can outwear it. No piano more thoroughly equals the human voice in sweetness, clearness, purity and power of tone.

This is the sentiment of the musical profession itself—the judgment and recorded verdict of the greatest living artists. There is no better piano than the Kimball. There are no pianos that sell at a higher price. There are pianos worth less than the Kimball that sell at a higher figure. Why?

Kimball pianos are made in the most modern and most perfectly equipped piano factories in the world, and they are made on a much more extensive scale than was ever before attempted in the history of piano making. Kimball pianos are sold at a figure closely proportioned to the cost of production—in other words, at the actual and absolute value. The price of many other makes of pianos includes a great deal more than their simple excellence and worth. It includes extra freights, cartages, handlings, advertising and merchant's excessive profits. The purchaser foots these bills. The price of a Kimball, when bought of Eber's piano house, is reasonable, because it is simply the factory cost of the piano plus necessary expenses and a very little profit. Eber's piano house sells more Kimball pianos than all other western dealers combined sell of their best pianos. Catalogues for the asking. Retail salesroom, 351 Washington street, Portland, Oregon.

Fanston, The Man From Kansas.

William Allen White will contribute to an early number of The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, a striking anecdotal article on "Fighting Fred" Funston, the man who captured Aguinaldo. This is the second of a series of remarkable character studies by this brilliant journalist now appearing in the Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. White will also contribute to early numbers of the magazine an unusually interesting short serial story dealing with Kansas life.

A Noteworthy Combination.

The consolidation of the Chicago Record and the Chicago Times-Herald was one of the most important events in the history of modern metropolitan journalism. People familiar with the newspapers published in the great capitals of the world say that the best daily papers are made in Chicago, and it is well known that The Chicago Record and The Chicago Times-Herald ranked at the very front among Chicago's best dailies. Each covered the world's news thoroughly every day, and each possessed also distinctive special features giving it that individuality so attractive to its readers. Now that the two have been combined, all the resources and world-wide facilities of both papers are united in The Chicago Record-Herald. It is in truth "a great combination"—a combination without parallel in American journalism. The fortunate readers of The Chicago Record and The Chicago Times-Herald now receives every day a newspaper whose news facilities are unequalled by any other American newspaper.
