During the present month thousands of gallons of water have been used on lawns and streets. Consumers should not forget that the low duty pump is out of service and it will take at least a week to put it in order. The high duty pump is doing double service, and if that should break down, the hill residents would suffer. At this season every householder should endeavor to waste as little as possible, so that those who live in elevated sections where the pressure is not strong need not be left with a short supply. The thoughtlessness in this respect is, however, so general that reminder or remonstrance has but little effect, and some day it will be necessary to put a meter in every service pipe, so that those who waste will have to pay for so doing. This will cost a large sum, which will have to be paid out of the receipts for water. If the action of your bowels is not easy and regular serious complications must be the final result. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will remove this danger. Safe, pleasant and effective. Geo. Harding.
