Geo. W. Martin met with an accident Saturday afternoon, that nearly resulted seriously, and laid him up for several days. He was working on a large cap on the breakwater between the O. R. & N. office and the flouring mills, and was boring a hole when his brother stepped on the end of the plank. It not being evenly balanced on the stingers, the plank tipped and the captain fell to the ground below, a distance of about 15 feet. Besides being badly bruised about the head and body, three fingers were dislocated. All that saved him from being seriously injured was the breaking of the rotten boards he fell upon. His brother managed to grab a timber when the plank tipped and was not injured.

BIG SAVING TO COUNTY.

Board of County Commissioners Make Reduction in Clerical Force of Three Offices.

Last Saturday, just prior to adjournment the Board of County Commissioners passed the following order:

"It is hereby ordered by the Board that after the 1st day of October, 1901, that these be allowed: the county assessor, two deputies only, the county sheriff one deputy, the county clerk one deputy."

This order has excited considerable comment in court house circles and came as a surprise to the sheriff's and clerk's offices; but the cut in the force of the assessor was not entirely unexpected, as rumors of a reduction have been current for some time past. County Clerk Cooper said Wednesday that he has never been allowed more than one deputy and that all additional help necessary was performed by clerks. The Board of Commissioners construe the order to mean one assistant to the clerk and one to the sheriff, classing all clerks in county offices as deputies. It is possible that at the next month's session of the Board the matter of hiring additional clerks will be fully and mutually understood.
