

CORRESPONDENCE

Our correspondents will please send in articles before Wednesdays of each week, otherwise it reaches us too late for publication.

CARUS.

Otis Howard is sick with malarial fever.

A. O. Hayward was calling on old friends a few days last week.

Carrick Casedy and family moved back about a week ago from Cllickat.

School is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. G. W. Metzger, of Gresham.

B. Faust received word last Thursday from Salem that his mother had died Thursday morning, aged 59 years and 20 days.

Misses Kate and Sara Jones, Clara Shoenborn, Maggie Lewis, Edna and Iva Irish attended the Portland carnival Saturday.

Miss Jessie Jackson, of Maple Lane, is staying with her aunt, Mrs. Spangler, during the absence of Mr. Spangler in Spokane.

There is quite an attraction in Carus for a young man from Molalla, I wonder why he comes over so often on his wheel? Perhaps he is just learning to ride.

Miss Henrietta Kaldish and Mr. Daniel Spatz, of Kansas, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaldish. They expect to leave for Kansas soon, where they will reside in the future.

MARQUAM.

Rev. Butler was appointed to Marquam in for another year.

The Marquam fair meets Friday and Saturday of this week. A good exhibit is promised.

Rev. Butler was in Hillsboro last week attending the M. E. Church Conference. Mrs. Butler and daughter Vera accompanied him as far as Portland.

RAILWAY.

Why yes, we want one, of course. The early bird catches the worm, so the first electric road through this section will get a good fat worm.

Mrs. D. Meyers met with a very painful accident which nearly cost her life, a week ago last Tuesday. While putting up some fruit she broke a jar, cutting her wrist severely and severing some of the small arteries. The loss of blood almost exhausted her before they could reach the doctor.

SUNNYSIDE.

More rain—more rest.

S. C. Johnson and A. Hunter went to Washington last week on business.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Stella Sumner.

Mr. Becker is building a new house in the city, where he expects to move soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch spent Wednesday and Thursday in Portland visiting friends.

Eck Hunter has returned from Eastern Oregon, where he has spent the summer.

The people who have been wishing for rain ought to be satisfied now. But most of them want it to stop.

Mr. F. M. Sumner and part of the family have moved to California, where they expect to remain. Mr. Bowerman has rented his farm and will occupy their home.

WILHIT.

Spud-digging is the order of the day. Frank Vorheis has moved to Gladstone.

Jake Gresham was busy building a fence one day last week.

Mr. Slaughter and son-in-law left a few days ago for the coast.

You Can Lead a Horse to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food into a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food. Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

Miss Inman, of Springdale, Wash., is visiting relatives in this section.

Bert Wade was visiting friends and relatives in Turner one day last week.

J. W. Inman, of Turner, was doing business in this section one day last week.

R. F. Wyland, who has been in Eastern Oregon the past summer, returned a few days ago.

Miss Francis Groshong, who has been working in Salem for the past summer, is home visiting her parents.

GARFIELD.

Mrs. H. H. Anders has been on the sick list.

Miss Agnes is attending the Portland Carnival.

Mrs. H. H. Anders is expected home from Eastern Oregon the latter part of this week.

Mr. Henry Epperson was seen in Garfield last week.

The fall term of the Garfield school will open Monday, Oct. 7.

Frank Gill and Emmett Huffman returned from Portland last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wills and son are in Portland attending the Carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes were visiting Mrs. H. H. Anders, Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Irvin is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rich, of Kelso.

Misses Laetitia and Dollie Lemon were the guests of Miss Ethel Jones, Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Anders has been very sick for the past three weeks, but is slowly improving.

Mrs. Doc Palmateer met with quite a severe accident last week. While making preserves the hot juice was accidentally spilt on her hands, burning her severely.

Messrs Willie and Horace Davis and Walter Lemon returned last week from the Hot Springs, where they have been spending their leisure time hunting and fishing.

As winter is fast approaching and the young men are returning home from their work, the young ladies of Garfield ought to get up something in the way of amusement that will be of interest to the boys. Everything is dull here.

BARLOW.

Chas. Schmidt opened up his new saloon Tuesday.

Wm. Barlow was transacting business in Oregon City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Toll made a trip to Oregon City Monday.

Fred Snyder is visiting a few days with his mother, Mrs. Chas. Schmidt.

H. T. Melvin returned Saturday from a visit with friends at Woodburn.

Mrs. Huntley, of Oregon City, was visiting friends at Barlow Tuesday.

Fred Covey and family, of Gladstone, have moved to Barlow for the winter.

The dance Saturday night was not very largely attended on account of bad weather.

Dollie Kendall, of Macksburg, visited Wednesday with her brother, W. C. Kendall, and family.

Mrs. Mabel Anthony, of New Era, who has been visiting for several days with Miss Hattie Irvin, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Beckman, who has been visiting her brother, Frank May, and family, returned to her home at Seattle Wednesday.

Mrs. Palmer and children, who have been visiting for several months past with her mother, Mrs. Geo. Newton, returned to their home in Canada Monday.

Fair at Milwaukie.

The Milwaukie Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, will hold a fair today and tomorrow at the Milwaukie Town Hall. No admission fee will be charged, and there will be good vocal and instrumental music and other features of entertainment. This evening there will be a hat-trimming contest. Gentlemen will buy numbered bags containing each a hat, trimming materials, a threaded needle and thimble. Each gentleman will hunt up the lady having the corresponding number and at her suggestion he will trim the hat and she must wear it. Saturday the fair will close at 3 p. m., and in the evening there will be a free social dance. Preparations have been made for a large attendance. Agricultural exhibits will be in charge of Richard Scott. E. W. Bunnell will have charge of decorations, Emil Battemiller will look after flowers and plants. Mrs. S. A. Traylor will superintend the ladies' department and T. R. A. Sellwood will have charge of the miscellaneous division. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

TRY GRAIN-O!

Ask your grocer today to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. 1/2 the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers.

A Cough

"I have made a most thorough trial of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and am prepared to say that for all diseases of the lungs it never disappoints." J. Early Finley, Ironton, O.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral won't cure rheumatism; we never said it would. It won't cure dyspepsia; we never claimed it. But it will cure coughs and colds of all kinds. We first said this sixty years ago; we've been saying it ever since.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. We are willing to leave it with him. We are willing.

Three sizes: 25c., 50c., 1.00. All druggists.

Around the Court House.

In the Circuit Court Tuesday morning Thomas Wike and wife brought suit against Arthur Orr, Belle Orr Dudley, et al, to recover a sum of money due on a promissory note. This note, which was for $200, was dated March 6, 1894, and since that time interest on the note has been paid amounting to $20. On July 9, 1895, W. H. Fries sold, assigned, indorsed over and transferred to plaintiffs the said note and all interest, rights and privileges to those who are now owners of the note. That in order to secure the payment of the note, J. W. Orr, after the making and delivery of the note, on the 6th day of March, 1891, executed and delivered to H. W. Fries a certain indenture of mortgage. For a valuable consideration Fries, in July, 1895, sold and transferred to plaintiff's the mortgage. On January 26, J. W. Orr died in Clackamas County intestate, leaving as his heirs, Wilson Orr, Belle Orr Dudley, Arthur Orr, Edwin Orr, Theresa Orr, Arthur and Stella Wike, children, and Mary Anderson, grandchild. The plaintiffs pray for the usual decree foreclosing the mortgage, and for the sale of said premises by the sheriff that the proceeds of this sale be applied in payment to the amount due to the plaintiffs. In the case Otto Lehman vs. Fred Brackenbusch, it is stipulated and agreed by the respective attorneys that the demurrer heretofore filed by the plaintiff to defendant's answer, may be withdrawn and the plaintiff permitted to file a reply.

Eight hundred and four lots in 43 blocks of Minthorn addition to the city of Portland were sold by Sheriff Cooke Monday for 1892 delinquent taxes and brought only $85. The land is about one mile east of Milwaukie and was assessed to the Oregon Land Company, which was organized by Salem business men in 1888 and went bankrupt in 1897. The company purchased a large tract of land at Scott's Mills not long before its failure and owned property in Marion, Clackamas and Clatsop Counties Charles Scott, formerly of Scott's Mills but now of Woodburn is receiver of the company. The will of James L. Bailey, deceased, was filed for probate Wednesday morning. Bailey died September 18, leaving an estate in Clackamas county consisting of real and personal property amounting to $900. The heirs of the estate are Francis Bailey, Anna Imel, Josephine Curran, Lucinda Anderson, Mrs. V. Clark, F. Walkley and Mrs. H. Van Curen. Francis Bailey has been appointed executor to serve without bonds.

County Clerk Cooper's collections for September amount to $141.95, a slight increase over August. During the year ending June 30, 1901, $2,917.65 was collected, which is $531.55 over the previous year, and greater than for any year since 1896.

Fees collected by the recorder for September total $195.80. Receipts for the same month for three previous years show a steady increase and are: 1898, $128.80; 1899, $153.05; 1900, $158.85.

The county clerk collected $7751.25 of the delinquent tax from the 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1897 rolls since last April. Sheriff Cooke ended the public sale Wednesday morning.

A marriage license was granted this week to Ada Palmer, 34, and George M. Eberle, 34.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Henderson Grimet, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. V. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

TWO GOOD PAPERS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE

"Hand to Mouth" Livers.

One of the paradoxes of waste is that the persons most addicted to it are not men and women of independent means who can support themselves in spite of their extravagant expenditure, but the poorer classes. There is hardly an able-bodied laborer who might not become financially independent if he would but carefully husband his receipts and guard against the little leaks of needless expense. But unfortunately this is the one thing which the workman finds it the hardest to do. There are a hundred laborers who are willing to work hard to every half dozen who are willing properly to husband their earnings. Instead of boarding a small percentage of their receipts so as to provide against sickness or want of employment they eat and drink up their earnings as they go, and thus in the first financial crash, when mills and factories "shut down" and capitalists lock up their cash instead of using it in great enterprises, they are ruined. Men who thus live "from hand to mouth," never keeping more than a day's march ahead of actual want, are little better off than slaves.—Success.

Why the Boy Was Sure.

A certain officious head nurse in the accident ward of a local hospital received an unexpected "call down" recently. An unfortunate young man of the age of 10 had been practicing with a cartridge pistol several sizes too large for him, and the result was unpleasant. The doctors and nurses had cleansed and dressed the wound, and he was resting easily. Then the nurse, who had not been present and who hated to miss a trick, walked over to the little boy's bed, around which the attendants were still standing, and asked him solicitously: "Are you sure that the bullet isn't sticking there still?" "Sure." "What makes you think so?" "It was a blank cartridge." There was a sharp decline in that nurse's stock of pride, and the laughter fell off unanimously by one dissonant voice.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

More Laughter, Less Suicides.

The physiological benefits of laughter cannot be overestimated. It shakes up the diaphragm, sets the pulses beating to a lively measure, stimulates the blood corpuscles, enlivens the brain and sometimes produces dislocation of the jaw when indulged in too heartily by a man with a large mouth. Used with discretion, laughter is as inspiring as a sea breeze, as refreshing as an August shower. Its moral effect is beyond computation. It has killed more ridiculous superstitions by its rollicking roars of unbelief than any other agency. What can be more derisive than a laugh? The man who laughs never kills himself. This is the reason so few Irishmen commit suicide.—Literary Era.

Queer Case of Evolution.

The general law of evolution is from the useful and practical into the ideal and beautiful. This seems to be reversed in the case of the lily and the banana. The banana is really a developed tropical lily from which the seeds have been eliminated and the fruit greatly expanded. This is very much as if an angel should evolve into a fat, comfortable stockbroker.—Exchange.

Ontario.

Ontario, with an area of 220,000 square miles, is larger than all the following states of the Union: New York, 49,170 square miles; Massachusetts, 8,315; Connecticut, 4,900; New Jersey, 7,815; Maine, 33,040; Pennsylvania, 45,215; Maryland, 12,210; Indiana, 34,350; Vermont, 9,505, making a total of 208,670 square miles.

How About Dishwashing?

A writer, one professing to know, states that the progress of modern industrial art has done away with much of the household drudgery to which women were formerly subjected and that the result has been in too many cases, for want of sufficient occupation for needed bodily exercise, ill and diseases.

A Fish That Gives Paint.

The well known brown pigment called sepia is obtained from a ten armed octopus found principally in the Mediterranean and more especially at the head of the Adriatic sea, where it is caught by the natives for food. The sepia is contained in a bag and is really the black fluid of which we have all read as being discharged by the creature to cover its escape. Some naturalists say that the fluid is brownish, which becomes more credible when we know that this is the source of sepia. The pigment is really a powder which dissolves in water; its strength may be estimated by the fact that it will color 1,000 times its own bulk. When the octopus has been killed, the sack or bag is removed and dried to prevent putrefaction. The sepia is treated with ammonia or caustic soda, washed and dried. It is one of the most durable of pigments, except when fully exposed to the fierce rays of the sun, and an even surface can be obtained with it more easily than with most paints. Sepia has been obtained from a fossil cuttlefish thousands of years old and found to be quite good for paint.

The Power of Superstition.

"I wish I wasn't superstitious," said a well known young man. "I'd have it taken off." "Have what taken off?" "Why, this great big mole on my nose." "What are you afraid of about it—bleeding to death?" "No, no; it's just bad luck to have a mole taken off. It's worse than having a black cat across your path or even to have a hooting owl light on the roof." "I don't know why it is bad luck, but my black mammy used to say, 'Chile, don't yo' nebber let 'em try to take dat mole off'n your nose.'" "What'll happen, Aunt Sarah, if I do? I used to ask her." "I dunno, Chile. Some folks say as the place won't nebber get well, and some say as two m'oll come back. Don't nebber pester what the Lord has giv' yo', or he might make it worse." "The old negro woman's doctrine was too deeply embedded in my early education for me to outgrow it, even after 20 years."—Memphis Scimitar.

Schoolboy Definitions.

Q. "Who discovered the law of gravity from the fall of an apple?" A. "Paris." Q. "What is a sarcasm?" A. "A sore on your body." An "antiquarian" is "a place for animals," "barlequinade" "a kind of drink," "a dilemma" "a medicine," "citadel" "a sort of chief policeman," "neutral" "a kind of reptile," and "eulogy" "a chap who feels bumps on our head." "Juggernaut, a mountain in Switzerland." "glacier" is "a mender of windows," "prig" is "a little boat," and the ostrich is "distinct." "Sapphira was a high priest." "Chamelos are a kind of big flea." "The milky way" is "the thick creamy stuff on the top of the milk." "Tableaux vivants" means "hotel dinner." "Elopement" is "the opposite to allopathy."—Collection Made by a London School Principal.
