PORTLAND BOY SHOT.—Thomas Jackson, the 17-old son of Charles Jackson, a Portland letter carrier, living in Albina, was accidentally shot Sunday morning, resulting in the loss of his left arm. About one a. m. young Jackson, with two other boys left Portland in a buggy on a hunting trip. They drove until the Clackamas river was reached, where they took the horse from the shafts to water him, then started toward Oregon City. The three boys occupied one seat, each having a gun by his side. Jackson was driving, holding the reins in his right hand with his left hand over the muzzle of the gun, the hammer of which caught in the spring seat and in going over a bump the weapon was discharged, the full charge of No. 6 birdshot penetrating Jackson's arm. The bones were mangled in a terrible manner, a piece of the radius two inches long being blown clear out of the flesh. The boy suffered the most intense pain with great fortitude. He was brought to this city at half past five o'clock and was made as comfortable as possible by Drs. Strickland and Sommer until the arrival of the Southern Pacific train at seven o'clock, when he was sent to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland under the care of a physician and his arm amputated just below the elbow.

Though Dead, Yet He Speaks.

Roger Harding who, for several years past, had been a tenor singer for the Columbia Telephone Co., has passed away. Mr. Harding's records went to all parts of the world, and in every city and town where the graphophone is known his ballads were familiar and most highly prized. Fortunately for talk-machine users, Mr. Harding's songs had recently been perpetuated in permanent form so, notwithstanding his death, his sympathetic voice can be reproduced on countless records and continue to be heard for all time. Before Mr. Harding became identified with graphophone work he was a light opera singer of distinction. His voice was sweet and winsome and he sang with convincing spirit and feeling. While the voices of the world's favorite singers of past times are forever silent, the graphophone makes possible the permanent preservation of the tones of our living singers, the first conspicuous one of whom to die and leave his voice imperially enshrined was Roger Harding. As was written of the pen used by Thomas Starr King, so it may now be said, in a little different sense, of the graphophone record made by a singer or player who has passed on: "This is the wand the dead musician dropped, With tuneful magic in its sheath still hidden."

DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They are safe, prompt, gentle, effective in removing all impurities from the liver and bowels. Small and easy to take. Never gripe or distress. Geo. Harding.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CENEY & Co., Toledo O.
