A Wise Woman.

Manager Shively says he has secured one night from the management of "A Wise Woman." The date will be announced later on. It will be a month or so at least. A little energy of this kind, if pursued, will bring to our town a higher standard of companies.

The Ladies.

Every woman is devout. No handsome woman ever looks into a mirror without a keen appreciation of the wisdom of the Creator in bestowing beauty on so deserving an object.

The woman who is stared at feels insulted. The woman who is not stared at feels neglected.

Women think it is wicked to bet—except on a sure thing.

Many a woman finds out to her sorrow that there is a heap of difference between getting married and being married.

Women like to see a first-class theatrical company, especially if it is a delicious comedy, so why not have them see A WISE WOMAN.

GHOSILY TALE FROM OSWEGO

Clock Stopped When Old Man's Son Died and Behaved Strangely Tue-day.

Russell DeLashmatt, 82 years old, was stricken with paralysis Tuesday at Oswego and his time on this earth is limited to a few days at most. Mr. DeLashmatt is a widower and has one daughter and three sons in the East. He is cared for by Mrs. Hellen, who lives across the street. Dr. Strickland is his medical attendant and they tell the following story, which is vouched for by Mrs. Hellen:

In 1854 Mr. DeLashmatt bought a clock in Oregon City which he placed upon his mantle. The clock kept good time for years until one day in the year 1876 it stopped short. Some time afterwards news was received that Mr. DeLashmatt's youngest son had died on the day the clock stopped. The ancient time-piece withstood all efforts to make it go and Mrs. Hellen gave Mr. DeLashmatt a smaller clock. On the day that Mr. DeLashmatt received the paralytic stroke, this clock also stopped and the old clock, which had not run since 1876, gathered itself together, emitted a ghastly sound, and gave six solemn strokes, and then stopped again. The number of strokes is understood to have meant that Mr. DeLashmatt had but six days to live, and Dr. Strickland says this will probably prove to be the case.
