Wilfred Clarke, the author of the delicious farcial comedy, "A Wise Woman," which has been meeting with such unqualified success all over the country this season, it will interest many to know, is the son of the late John Sleeper Clarke, the great American comedian, for many years a resident actor-manager in London, and it was at his father's theatre in British metropolis that this comedy that has given him an international reputation as a successful playwright was originally produced. The play did 238 nights at the Strand theatre, to capacity business, which is enough in itself to tell the story of success. The reliably reported success of the organization which is producing it is enough to arouse the greatest interest in their forthcoming engagement in this city which occurs at Shively's Opera House, Friday, Nov. 29.

Manager CorJray announces that Wilfred Clarke's great London comedy success, "A Wise Woman" presented by Marie Lamour and a well selected company of players, the leading man of which is Frederic Murphy, has been secured as the attraction at CorJray's for the week starting on Sunday, Dec. 1. This announcement will attract widespread attention among our theatre-goers, as much of a highly complimentary manner has been written and said about this attraction. The remarkable run of 238 nights which Mr. Clark's comedy had on its initial presentation at the Strand theatre, London, is conclusive evidence of the popularity of the play with the public, and added to this the fact that Miss Lamour's support embraces the best available talent is sufficient assurance that the engagement in this city, without question of doubt will be the event of its kind during the present season. Miss Lamour's talents which the press declare to be of a very high standard have been carefully developed for several seasons under the guiding hand of Augustin Daly.
