MUIR-ANDREWS.

The First Presbyterian church was crowded to the doors with invited guests Christmas night to witness the marriage of Miss Charlotte May Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Andrews to Mr. Chester Allen Muir. The church decorations were superb. Miss Margaret Williams played the wedding march. The bridesmaid was Miss Lizzie Gilbert and the groom was attended by Mr. George C. J. Jr. The ushers were Mr. Owen Thomas and Mr. Theodore Wood. Rev. A. J. Montgomery read the beautiful marriage service in an impressive manner and the bride and groom received the congratulations of their many friends. After the ceremony the wedding party were driven to Maplewood Farm and partook of a sumptuous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Muir were the recipients of many handsome presents, including an elegant oak sideboard from the Christian Endeavor Society, in which the groom is a leading worker. Mr. Muir is the junior member of the firm of Muir Bros. and has a host of friends in this city who wish him a long and happy married life.

DRAMA AT MILWAUKIE.

"Hickory Farm," a comedy-drama of New England life, was presented Friday evening at the Milwaukie Town Hall, before a crowded house. The play was presented under the auspices of the Milwaukie Brass Band, for uniforms for the band. The company was headed by Miss Ethel Holm, and she was supported by William P. Jacks, William Leyman, Miss Johanna Keil, Jack Walsh, Myrtle Kelson, Wayne Bunnell and H. G. B. Wilson. All had been in public performances before, but Friday evening they were exceptionally good, even surprising the large audience. During the evening the Milwaukie Band rendered several excellent selections. The performance was repeated Saturday evening.

DOUBLE CHINA WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Story and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Welch entertained a number of their friends at the new home of the former, on Sixth and Jefferson streets, Friday evening, the occasion being the 20th anniversary of the marriage of both Mr. and Mrs. Story and Mr. and Mrs. Welch. The parlors were handsomely decorated with Oregon grape, ferns and cut flowers. Mrs. C. F. Story and Miss Myrtle Taylor assisted in entertaining the guests. Mrs. Story and Mrs. Welch were each presented with a handsome Haviland china set by the guests. Games were played and dainty refreshments were served in the dining room, after which all adjourned to the parlors, where they were favored with vocal selections by Mrs. S. K. Hicklin and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dresser. At a late hour the guests departed for their homes, wishing both couples many happy returns.

The masquerade ball at the Armory last Thursday evening was an enjoyable affair. The crowd was not large, but what it lacked in numbers it made up in sociability.

An Evangelist's Story.

"I suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist, of Belle River, Ill. "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds, and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it. Geo. Harding.

In the County Court Judge Thomas F. Ryan made an order that the Clerk of the County Court notify all executors, administrators and guardians whose bonds are not executed in compliance with the revenue law, to immediately comply with its requirements of affixing the proper revenue stamps to all bonds. Of late a number of these bonds have been filed without the stamps, and the order was made accordingly.

Health and Beauty.

A poor complexion is usually the result of a torpid liver or irregular action of the bowels. Unless nature's refuse is carried off it will surely cause impure blood. Pimples, boils and other eruptions follow. This is nature's method of throwing off the poisons which the bowels failed to remove. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are world famous for remedying this condition. They stimulate the liver and promote regular and healthy action of the bowels but never cause griping, cramps or distress. Safe pills. George Harding.

A. J. Snell wanted to attend a party, but was afraid to do so on account of pains in his stomach, which he feared would grow worse. He says, "I was telling my troubles to a lady friend, who said: 'Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will put you in good condition for the party.' I bought a bottle and take pleasure in stating that two doses cured me and enabled me to have a good time at the party." Mr. Snell is a resident of Summer Hill, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by G. A. Harding, druggist.

Special Dispatch From the Capitol.

Senator Hanna is ambitious to place himself securely in a niche of fame. He is now endeavoring to make strikes and lock-outs impossible and to put an end forever to wars between American labor and American capital. In a recent interview he said: "I would disarm capital of its antipathy to trade unions and of its ruinous policy that has too often ruled in the past. I would disarm labor of its distrust of capital and of its desire to place the union ahead of the material welfare of the men who work. Both should be brought together on a platform of mutual good will. I would rather have the credit of doing this than be President of the United States."

Anarchists will have to sing low hereafter. Upon resolution offered by Senator Vest, of Missouri, the Senate Judiciary Committee is preparing a report which will embody measures to prohibit these unwelcome wild beasts of society from coming to this country and to provide means for the deportation of those already here. The committee will also consider the question whether or not a penal colony can be established to which all anarchists may be deported.

The application of the Monroe doctrine is just at this time interesting the State Department. German war vessels are rendezvousing in the vicinity of the Caribbean Sea, and it is believed that Emperor William has ordered this display of force in order to signify to the Venezuelan Government that there must be no further delay in the payment of the $2,000,000 due the German bond-holders. It was just this contingency that President Roosevelt has in mind when he pointed out in his annual message that the Monroe doctrine is to be invoked only to prevent territorial aggrandizement by any power; it does not, however, afford a shelter to a nation which refuses to pay its honest debts.

As predicted the Senate, in secret session, ratified the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty by a nearly unanimous vote, without a word of amendment. We can now build the Nicaragua canal, unhampered by any prior agreement with a foreign power. Senators Bailey and Culberson, of Texas, approved the treaty, for reasons which they have not yet made public. The new treaty will not prevent the United States from fortifying the canal should it so desire, and provides that in time of war the provisions of the treaty are to be no longer in force. This is exactly the opposite to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which it supersedes.

Two Circus Feats.

"A great deal of unnecessary sympathy is wasted upon the circus man who stands up proudly in spangled tights and lets another circus man bring down a sledge hammer upon a rock placed upon his head with force enough to break it," says an old circus man. "This is spectacular, but is entirely painless and calls for no great strength or endurance. Upon the cranium of the strong man is put an iron contrivance weighing about 150 pounds and provided with cushions both above and where it rests upon the head. A pretty good sized rock is used, and the hammer is a heavy one, so you can see that the blow that cracks the rock is really a serious one. But most of the force is taken up by the rock and the rest by the iron and cushions, while the only sensation felt by the subject is a gentle tap."

"No more difficult than this is the act whereby the hero of the canvas tent permits a rock to be broken upon his chest with a blow from a sledge hammer. So long as the subject's back is free and does not rest against any solid object the trick is perfectly simple. A little illustration: Take a board up and let it lie freely in your hand and hit it smartly with a hammer. It is difficult to hurt your hand, and the thicker the board the less the sensation. But now put your hand on the table and hit the board. Hurts, doesn't it? Well, it's the same with the rock on the chest."

How Our Ancestors Quarreled.

A study of medieval rural life is apt to give the impression that the principal part of the life of the people was spent in quarreling or in the commission or prosecution of offenses. Our ancestors certainly were a very litigious and a very disorderly people. The records teem with instances of men and women drawing knives against one another, of breaking into houses, of prosecuting one another for slander. Then we have such entries as these: "It is ordained by common consent that all the women of the village must refrain their tongues from all slander." "Thomas, son of Robert Smith, is fined 12 pence because his wife Agnes beat Emma, the wife of Robert, the tailor, and Robert, the tailor, sixpence because his wife Emma swore at Agnes, the wife of Thomas." "It is enjoined upon all the tenants of the village that none of them attack any others in word or deed, with clubs or arrows or knives under penalty of paying 40 shillings." Such entries, frequently occurring, in addition to the innumerable instances of individual attack, slander, petty theft and other immorality seem to show a community of far from perfect virtue.—Lippincott's.

Italians Love Tomatoes.

Italians more than any other people value tomatoes, and each one that comes to perfection is as carefully tended as though it were an apple of gold. Not only do the housewives delight in the fresh vegetables themselves, but, generally speaking, those home tended are better than any purchased at the market, and so each one is jealously saved to make tomato sauce for the spaghetti, without which no Italian Sunday would be Sunday. One soapbox gardener one season sold enough tomatoes to give her quite a little pin money. No one who knows the Italian well will be surprised to learn that many of the boxes are devoted to peppers, for they in truth furnish much of their spice of life, and even the little Italian girls know how to stuff and cook them in a dozen different ways that tempt the palate.—Boston Transcript.

Coloring of Flowers.

A florist says that the law governing the coloring of flowers makes a blue rose impossible. According to this law the three colors red, blue and yellow never all appear in the same species of flowers. Any two may exist, but never the third. Thus we have the red and yellow roses, but no blue; red and blue verbenas, but no yellow; yellow and blue in the various members of the viola family (as pansies, for instance), but no red; red and yellow gladioli, but no blue, and so on.

Rubber Plants.

Many plant growers become annoyed because the older leaves at the base of their rubber plants turn yellow and fall off. This is a natural process. It does not indicate any defect in the plant. It is simply the ripening of the old foliage, which cannot be retained indefinitely. Sometimes, however, the loss of foliage results from the want of room, but in such cases the plants refuse to grow.

Railroad Telegrams.

When a traveler in the grand duchy of Baden, Germany, wants to send a telegram while he is in the train, he writes the message on a postcard, with the request that it be wired, puts on a stamp and drops it into the train letter box. At the next station the box is cleared and the message sent out.

Matrimony and Eyes.

An old man was rallied by his friends, on his marrying a young wife, on the inequality of their ages. He replied, "She will be near me to close my eyes." "Well," replied a friend, "I've had two of them, and they opened my eyes."—Exchange.

Smart Girl.

Her Mother—Edith, don't you think you are getting too old to play with little boys?
Edith—No, mamma; the older I get the better I like them.—Tit-Bits.

The Consultation.

"My wife always consults me about every article of attire she buys—frocks, hats, shoes, gloves, everything."
"My wife does, too—that is, she asks me for the money."
