Books and Authors

A Harvest Song. The gray bulk of the granary upooms against the sky. The harvest moon has dwindled; they have hoisted the corn and rye; And now the idle reapers lounge against the bolted doors; Without are hungry harvesters, within enchanted stores. Lo, they had bread while they were out a-tolling in the sun; Now they are strolling beggars, for the harvest work is done. They are the gods of husbandry, they gather in the sheaves, But when it's autumn strips the wood they're drifting with the leaves. They plow and sow and gather in the glory of the corn; They know the noon, they know the piteous rain before the morn. They know the sweep of furrowed fields that darken in the gloom— A little their hopes on earth, then evermore their tomb —EDWIN MARKHAM.

A Defense of Aaron Burr. "Bienerhasset," written by Charles Felton Pidgin, is a historical novel based upon facts connected with the duel between Burr and Hamilton, Burr's subsequent actions and the connection of President Jefferson with him.

For almost a hundred years, histories, school books and contemporaneous literature generally, so far as it related to Aaron Burr, has taught all persons alike to look upon him as a traitor almost equal in infamy to Benedict Arnold. This was no doubt due in part to the action of Burr himself in making no explanations but leaving all things to the judgment of the people, which those adverse to him took advantage of, and left no stone unturned to make the obloquy as black as possible.

The author of this book says:—"The men of America today are more tolerant, broader-minded and less bigoted than they were one hundred years ago. My aim has been to present Aaron Burr as he was one hundred years ago, and to ask that he be judged by the rules of order and society then existing; but by minds free from the intolerant political and religious prejudices which blinded the eyes and warped the judgment of his contemporaneous critics."

The opening chapter, "A Den of Treason" shows the treasonable relation of certain officers of the United States with the Spanish Government at the mouth of the Mississippi River, and the following chapter, "A Shrine of Liberty" shows in striking contrast the character of Aaron Burr, who afterwards was prosecuted and persecuted as one of the vilest of the vile.

The whole story is written with a vividness which only is displayed by the master of the craft. There is not a dull page in the whole book, and to delight the fancy, through the entire theme runs a story of love and devotion beautiful for its intensity and touching for its pathos. The book in its entirety is one that the whole public can read with profit and pleasure. (C. M. Clark Publishing Co., Boston.)

The North American Review, in its January number, gives magnificent promise that during the year now beginning it will maintain the broad purpose, the high standard and the authoritative character which have won for it a unique place among periodicals. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, writes of the rise and organization of "Consolidated Labor," and argues that since labor-unions must be regarded as permanent institutions, their recognition by law is desirable in the common interests of labor and capital. Carl Snyder deploras "America's Inferior Place in the Scientific World." T. H. Pardo de Tavera, Benito Lizarda and Jose Luiz de Lozuraga, the Filipino members of the United States Philippine Commission, give in three interesting papers "Filipino Views of American Rule." M. J. Magee, a member of the Irish Board of Agriculture, tells a most pleasing and hopeful story of "Ireland's Industrial Revival" and the means by which it has been brought about. In the series on "The National Debts of the World," A. Raffalovich, French agent of the Russian Ministry of Finance, describes "The Russian Debt," and Mr. Howell examines and characterizes "Some New Volumes of Verse."

Among the notable features of the Argonaut for January 20, 1902, are: "The Undoing of Chief Wet Dog," by Gilbert C. Terry, a story of Indians, cowboys, pony-racing, and poker-playing; "Eugene Field: the Man," a review of the recent most readable and valuable biography of the lovable genius; "Mutable Beauty," a keen, clever essay, by Geraldine Bonner; a criticism of the new drama, "For the White Rose," by Joseph Hart Phelps; and a breezy Washington letter from Faith Hadaway.

If the old saying "All the world loves a lover" is true, then the fiction in The Cosmopolitan for January should be popular indeed. All the stories vary in treatment, plot and action, from Frances Courtenay Baylor's charming story, "Cupid's Practical Joke," to Maarten Maarten's strong domestic tragedy, "Her Father's Wife," but all have love for a central theme.

It is ordered that Mrs. Lila May Nass and Mrs. Minnie M. Beebe, sisters of S. J. Garrison, guardian of Orla Albert Garrison, and all persons interested appear on Monday, February 10th at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause why the undivided 1/2 interest in lots 1 and 2 in block 23, town of Canby, should not be sold.

The heirs of Levi Davis have placed in the hands of E. H. Wright all notes remaining in the hands of A. V. Davis at the time the estate is closed, to be held until further agreement or until they are collected. The heirs are Sarah Klum, Ruth Sherman, Elizabeth Russell, Eileen Sawtell, Nancy McDonald, Mina Wright, Rachel Vanover.

A mortgage was filed in the county recorder's office Wednesday to secure a note given by the Waverly Association to J. H. Lambert for $25,000. This is the balance due on the Sellwood tract of 160 acres which was purchased from Lambert by the Association. Fifteen thousand dollars was paid down on the property. The duration of the mortgage is three years from November 21, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of John Green, deceased, motion of C. D. Latourette, administrator, to strike out certain parts of petition of D. J. Moore, praying for the revocation of letters of administration to Latourette, was denied and administrator was given until January 21st to file an answer. It is further ordered that James P. Lovett be appointed guardian of the person of Mary Green, a sister of deceased heretofore committed to the insane hospital. All parties interested are cited to appear January 27th to show cause why said letters heretofore issued to Latourette should not be revoked.

Rebecca Turney filed a suit in the county clerk's office Wednesday against the Southern Pacific Company for $15,000 damages alleged to have been sustained on September 13, 1900. The complaint says that while the plaintiff was walking along side of the track near Canemah a stick of wood fell from a moving train that was passing, striking her shoulder and breaking her collar bone and three ribs. Since that she has suffered great agony and discomfort and has been unable to carry on her usual avocation. Bennett & Sinnamon, of The Dalles, and Gilbert L. Hedges, of this city, are the plaintiff's attorneys.

MISS BONNIE DELANO

A Chicago Society Lady, in a Letter to Mrs. Pinkham says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Of all the grateful daughters to whom you have given health and life, none are more glad than I. My home and my life was happy until illness came upon me three years ago. I first noticed it by being irregular and having very painful and scanty menstruation; gradually my general health failed; I could not enjoy my meals; I became languid and nervous, with gripping pains frequently in the groins.

"I advised with our family physician who prescribed without any improvement. One day he said, 'Try Lydia Pinkham's Remedies.' I did, thank God; the next month I was better, and it gradually built me up until in four months I was cured. This is nearly a year ago and I have not had a pain or ache since."

Trustworthy proof is abundant that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves thousands of young women from dangers resulting from organic irregularity, suppression or retention of the menses, ovarian or womb troubles. Refuse substitutes.

The New Issue in Temperance.

"WHISKY MEDICINES." THE VOICE, The Leading Temperance Paper, Sounds the Call to a New Crusade in the Following Article.

"ANOTHER HEAD ON THE HYDRA."

"It is time attention was drawn to a form of alcoholic traffic that seems to have been overlooked by those engaged in the crusade against the rum power. If it is believed and taught, alcohol is most dangerous when it fights in ambush, if it is most to be dreaded when it finds its first entrance to the system in the pleasant sauces and dishes of the home, then the form of alcoholic traffic in question is doubly dangerous, for it comes in the guise of medicine and attacks a system prepared by weakness to easily surrender to the assault. In many PATENT MEDICINES which are largely consumed throughout the country, by all classes of people, there is a percentage of alcohol which puts them on a level with beer, rum and whisky as intoxicants. It is the smallest only of the dose prescribed which prevents a prompt recognition of the intoxicating effects of these so-called medicines to those who use them. It is safe to affirm that they are MEDICINES IN NAME ONLY.

Their chief value lies in their alcoholic effect as a stimulant. In fact, those who know, attribute the benefits ascribed to this class of medicines wholly to the stimulative effect of the alcohol they contain. They are used largely by persons not in the habit of drinking liquors, and the little dose taken three or four times a day is as stimulating to these people as his regular "finger" of "biters" is to the regular liquor-drinker.

WHAT CAN BE DONE? "What ought to be done at least is to compel every patent-medicine manufacturer to put on the wrapper of his bottle the quantity of alcohol it contains. That would at least leave people to exercise their own judgments. More than that, no paper truly interested in temperance reform should print the advertisement of any alcoholic medicine. It should be the duty of every temperance organization and branch in the country to look into this question, agitate it, and deal with the facts just as earnestly and as honestly as other facts have been dealt with."

Appreciating the gravity of the issue raised by the strong statement of facts made in the foregoing article, we wish to call general attention to the fact that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contain NO ALCOHOL, NO WHISKY, NO INTOXICANT OF ANY KIND.

These medicines are equally free from opium and other narcotics. They are in the strictest meaning of the words, temperance medicines. Of no other medicine, put up especially for woman's use can it be truthfully affirmed, as of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that it contains neither alcohol nor opium or other narcotic in any form.

While the negative features of Doctor Pierce's medicines may only interest some of the readers of this article, the positive features of these medicines must be of interest to every one. The great value of "Golden Medical Discovery" in the cure of diseased or deranged conditions of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs is testified to by tens of thousands who have found health and healing in this great remedy. The "Discovery" increases the action of the blood-making glands, and by curing the diseases which corrupt and cripple the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs, it enables a full and pure supply of blood to be sent to every part of the body.

WOMEN KNOW ITS WORTH.

Women who are always appreciative of benefits, have been especially appreciative of the benefits following the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its wonderful cures of irregularities, inflammations, ulcerations and female troubles, have caused women to name it, "that God-send to women." It is entitled to wear the "blue ribbon" of merit as well as the blue ribbon of temperance.
