END OF MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

Reds Are In the Lead, But It Is Impossible to Say Which Side Will Be the Winner.

Now that the season for indoor games s over, the results of the Oregon City Young Men's Christian Association games are summed up.

The local association had a strong team In the field during the entire season, al though the personnel was changed very much and the same team hardly played together twice. Those who have watched the games most closely and are in a survey of Boone's Ferry and in road. Read and laid over until to gon City put up the strongest team in the state and is entitled to the championship for indoor baseball and junior basketball. But one game was lost to each team and that under protest.

While nearly all the players did good and effective work, there are some who deserve special mention for their strong and aggressive playing. First of these, beyond question, is Dave Williams, who pitched the entire season without miss ing a game, and judges concur in the opinion that he is the best pitcher in the state. He fanned more men than any district 14. opponent he played against. He is sure and throws a swift ball, as well as bats and fields well. Califf, behind the bat, made an extraordinarily good showing for his first season at the game, and has the making of a strong man for the posistrong batter Rapp, at right shortstop, and Latourette at left are a pair of good in fielders and seldom does a low the bat and scored many runs during from March 1st, 1902. the season. Wilson was an able substitote and made himself known whenever he played.
