The latter is now superintendent of a large paper mill near Watertown, N. Y.

REFUSES TO SET ASIDE RESERVE. South Fork of Clackamas Will Not Serve as Protection for Water Supply.

Commissioner Hermann, of the United States General Land Office, has turned down the request of the Oregon City Water Commissioners to set aside a tract of 38 sections, constituting the watershed of the South Fork of the Clackamas River, as a reserve for the protection of the water supply of Oregon City. The Water Commissioners have had the matter before the Land Office for the past two years, and finally placed it in the hands of Senator Mitchell, Commissioner Hermann, after making a thorough examination, advised Senator Mitchell that it is not practicable. Twenty-four of the sections in question are now included in the Cascade forest reserve, while the remaining lands belong largely to the Northern Pacific or the Oregon & California Railroad Companies, and the department contends that it has no authority, under existing laws, to create reserves of other than public lands. Furthermore, the policy in establishing forest reserves has been to create as little lien base as possible. To create a reserve such as requested would be to offer these two companies and several settlers an opportunity of relinquishing their present holdings, and perhaps securing much more valuable public lands elsewhere. For these reasons the request has been denied. The land was asked to be reserved the same as the Bull Run tract was reserved for the city of Portland.

Social Happenings.

Even since the passing of the Lenten season there has been very few social events. Three dances were given last week and while they were enjoyed, the attendance was not large. Friday evening the third monthly hop of the Sans Souci Club was given in the Armory. About fifty dancers were present. Sixteen numbers and several extras were enjoyed. The younger set gave an informal dance in Willamette Hall on Saturday evening, and the affair was a very enjoyable one. J. H. Turney gave one of his frequent dances in the Armory Saturday evening, and the hop was a pleasant one.
