THE STATE TICKET.

In most respects the nomination of the state ticket is a strong one. Dunbar, Moore, Ackerman and Bean are well and favorably known to the state. Their records got them their nominations and their elections will follow as certainly.

Whitney, the nominee for state printer, is one of the leading newspaper men of the state and is well and favorably known. His friends say that his nomination will have much to do in redeeming Linn county from the democracy, where it has been for years.

Crawford, for attorney-general, is well known here as he campaigned in this county a few years ago. His nomination is regarded as a good one and his running abilities as first class.

The nomination of Furnish is unique. He was a democrat until recently and as the democratic sheriff of Umatilla County first came on the political horizon with any prominence. He was re-elected and this was when the office was on the fee system. It resulted in giving Mr. Furnish considerable help in his remarkable business career. Living in a small interior city, Pendleton, he has before he has reached the age of 40 become one of the wealthiest citizens of the state outside of Portland, being reputed to be worth two or three hundred thousand dollars. This has been accomplished by the push and business ability of the man. His friends say that it is these qualities that the state needs to help make a successful governor and push the state to the front. It remains to be seen whether these qualities can beat a man like Chamberlain, who will probably be the democratic nominee and has had some success himself in politics.

The fight is on. The Citizens have nominated a full ticket, under the garb of reform, with George W. Grace at its head. Thus, in our opinion, leaves no question of the re-election of Senator Brownell. Mr. Grace is a good man and that is the best that can be said of him. There are lots of good men, but few of them have the legislative ability and the prestige and influence that experience commands to represent their county in the upper house of the legislature to the satisfaction of the people. Mr. Brown-ell's majority ought to be a large one. He is in touch with the people and knows their wants. If any man can get beneficial legislation through the senate, he is that man. Experience has proved it and the people know it. Mr. Grace is handicapped by having a place on a ticket that is crying for reform, while the leaders of the alleged reformers are men that are not reformers. They are nothing but seekers for their own good at the expense of anybody who stands in their way. They will, of course, deny this, but the day of election will prove it to them.

This proposed clutch on the city printing of A. W. Cheney received a prompt set-back at the council meeting Tuesday night. Mayor Dimick's knowledge of law stood the city in good service here and he was not to be fooled with any unlimited contract. The up-turning of any proposition of Cheney's is sure to disclose a hidden graft. The Enterprise does the printing of the city at a reasonable figure and does it to the satisfaction of the council. It is the only paper in Clackamas County that has the prestige to receive consideration on a matter like this. No politician can come out in the open and make a statement that he can buy the silence of the Enterprise. The opinions of the Enterprise are not for sale. It is a matter of great regret to the county Democracy that they have no journal that will support them to the last ditch, regardless of financial considerations.

The proprietor of this paper is now out of politics and any man should not mix in politics if he is going to run a newspaper. As long as a newspaper man holds an office he is constrained to frequently take a stand against his judgment. So long as he is a member of the official family he is in honor bound to any political obligations he is also free to say and do those things that his political judgment dictates should be done. In other words, when he is out of politics there are no strings on him and he can advocate those men and measures that will tend to the best advancement of the county and state without any political obligations to hamper him.

The City Council should be wary against granting special privileges to the Portland City and Oregon Railway Company or any other railway. A black example in the shape of giving away the highway leading to Canemah is before them. At the special council meeting last Tuesday evening the final consideration of the proposed franchise was postponed until the next regular meeting which will be held May 7. The franchise may be all right and again it may not be. We have not examined it. But these matters are important ones and should undergo close scrutiny. The P. C. & O. Railway gives Oregon City good service to Portland, but they are well paid for it.

HAS MADE NO PROMISES

Mr. Nelson Says He Has Not Agreed to Appoint Certain Men Deputies.

MULLINO, Or., April 9, 1902.—(To The Editor)—I have been informed that it is being reported in Oregon City that I have promised certain persons the appointment of deputy if I am elected assessor. Now I wish to say that I have not promised anyone that I would give them the position. No one has asked me for the position. If I am elected I shall go into the office free to appoint the very best help, and I shall not appoint anyone only when it is absolutely necessary, and then it will be someone who will work for the best interests of the taxpayers of the county. I intend if elected to run the office as it should be run, to do good work, show no favors to anyone in making assessments and keep the expense of running the office down just as low as I possibly can. I have no pets to give positions to.

Hoping this statement is plain enough to satisfy the taxpayers of the county, I remain,

JAMES F. NELSON.

AGRICULTURE AT SPRINGWATER

Farmers' Institute March 27-28 Was Very Successful.

UNDER AUSPICES OF THE GRANGE

Professors Withycombe and Kent, of the Oregon Agricultural College, Were the Leading Speakers.

The farmers' institute at Springwater on Thursday and Friday, March 27 and 28 was very successful. It was held under the auspices of the Oregon Agricultural College and Springwater Grange, Patrons of Husbandry. The program opened with an address of welcome by A. Lacey, who referred to the importance of the meeting and contrasted 50 years ago with the present and the changes that were necessary for the agriculturist to make, as we can not have as much land to work. He favored a farmers' trust.

Dr. James Withycombe responded and said: "This institute is yours." He praised the soil of this vicinity and said the farmers should keep pace with the times and be educated up to date. The soil is the farmers' capital. He recommended diversified farming. This vicinity is well adapted for dairy and stock. When he was in the East he had seen it demonstrated that dairying made the thrifty farmer. He spoke well of the grange as an organization and said the intelligent farmer has the best occupation if he farms scientifically and intelligently and should inform himself by reading the best agricultural papers.

"The Hand Separator," was the subject of a talk by Prof. F. L. Kent. It had been in use five or six years. You keep the skim milk and can feed it to calves while warm from the cow. Let the calf have its mother's milk until it is eight days old, then mix meal with milk two weeks, then give it ground oats and wheat. It is best to let it eat it dry. A recitation was given by Roy Lacey and the institute adjourned until Thursday evening. The evening session opened with a song Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

"Who Should Vote, and For Whom, When and Where?" was the subject of an address by Rev. Julian Hatch, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Springwater. He advocated woman's suffrage and the disfranchisement of the ignorant and vicious.

Dr. James Withycombe, of the State Agricultural College, talked on "Intensive Agriculture." He believed in rotation of crops. Summer fallow is exhausting to the soil. Save the barnyard manure. Clover is good fertilizer, as the roots go down into the sub-soil. Do not haul off your clover hay, but feed it on the farm. You can keep three times the amount of stock by rolling rather than by pasturing.

Following Dr. Withycombe's talk there was a song by the Shibley family and a recitation by Miss Della Gutridge. Prof. F. L. Kent made an address on "The Modern Dairyman." He said that the dairyman must take an interest in the cows, be kind to them, understand the makeup of the animal and weed out the poor cows. The successful dairyman keep his cows going in winter as well as in summer. Be very careful to not disturb the cows just before milking. The cows should be milked regularly.

Miss Mattie Tucker gave a recitation and Mr. and Mrs. Miller rendered a vocal duet.

The institute met at 10 o'clock Friday morning, and was opened with instrumental music. The first topic was "Sheep Raising," by John Stormer. Every farmer should keep a small band of sheep in addition to the profit to keep the weeds and briars down and make good fertilizer. A discussion followed his talk, and Dr. Withycombe, speaking on the question as to whether or not sheep needed shelter, was of the opinion that long wool sheep do not and it is profitable to keep them roving.

Walter Pruden gave a recitation and Edwin Bates talked on "Growing and Drying of Prunes." He said they should be grown on rolling ground facing the northwest. He discussed the different methods of drying, and his talk was followed by a recitation by Mr. Miller and a song by the Shibley family.

Dr. Withycombe talked on "Forage Crops." The low and hilly land will only pay for pasture. Better cultivate and sow with oats, two pounds per acre. After the oats are taken off the ground will make good pasture land. He discussed the different grasses.

An adjournment was taken for dinner and Mr. Scott Bozarth, of the Pacific Homestead, took pictures of the grange hall and of the people.

At 1:30 P. M. the institute reconvened and Mr. and Mrs. Miller delighted the audience with another song after which Mrs. S. E. Bates read a paper on "Poultry on the Farm." There should be a law passed to have a bounty on hawk eagles. The best all around chickens are Plymouth Rocks or a cross with Leghorns. She had found the best way to set a hen was to take a box, fill it half full of dirt dampen it and put straw on top.

Instrumental music was rendered and Miss Sallie Lewellen gave a recitation. Dr. Withycombe talked on "Silos and Silage." They should have a circular tongue and be grooved with wire hoops, the higher the better. Not more than 20 per cent dry matter should be placed in them. Corn makes the best of all silage and clover and peas are good. Clover for silage should be cut in full bloom and should be tramped down in compact form. Put grass or any green substance on top and tramp down foundation. Cut hoops No. 9 wire, three inches apart at the bottom but further apart at the top and tighten the ratchet with a monkey wrench.

Miss Ethel Lewellen gave a pleasing recitation. Prof. Kent explained the Babcock Test Proof by testing milk to show how much butter fat it contained. The Shibley family sang and the institute adjourned until 7:30 P. M.

The evening session opened with instrumental music and A. M. Shibley made an interesting address, taking for his subject "Discontent, Doubt and Energy to Overcome." He went back to the beginning to Adam and Eve as the first agriculturalists. (Gen. 11, 15.) "And the Lord took the man and put him into the Garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it." Through the subtlety of the devil Adam and Eve became discontent and full of doubt and did not have the moral courage to withstand the temptation of the devil. The curse was pronounced on the ground so we have to make our living by the sweat of our brow. We are here to discuss the best means to that end. Our Pilgrim Fathers through their discontent, abandoned their homes and came to America, where they landed on Plymouth Rock. This was one of the grand causes of this mighty empire being founded. And through the discontent of our Revolutionary Fathers with Washington at their head there was one of the greatest enlightened, free, Nation born that ever destined to enlighten the world. The following program was then rendered: Song.....Mr. and Mrs. Miller
Recitation.....Miss Leona Stormer
Recitation.....Miss Gertie Pruden
Recitation.....Mrs. Miller
Instrumental Music.....
Recitation.....Irene Lacey
Prof. F. L. Kent closed the institute by discussing "The Agricultural College and Its Relation to the Farmer."

DURIE'S WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

You may talk about Marconi and his wireless telegraph. But at such mighty genius We have ceased to scoff and laugh. These scientific marvels Increasing at such rate Turns doubt to admiration As each reach perfection's state. But Marconi has a rival Who is living here in town, By the name of Professor Durie, Who is winning great renown. He is carrying on his experiments And working here at home He's trying to perfect a system Of wireless telephones. The night the wind in raging blasts Blew all the wires down, The Professor tried his experiment In 'phoning over town. He ripped and tore and cursed and swore, And rang the bell till he sweat, But it seems that some of the machinery Is not quite perfect yet. But great things are never accomplished Without meeting contention's zone, And we feel that he will yet perfect The wireless telephone.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CUNNEY & Co., Toledo O. A VALUABLE REMEDY,

For Coughs and Colds in Children. "I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine, and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.
