In voting for a man to fill an office the voter should choose the man best fitted for the place. Both tickets are trying to convince the people that its nominees are better fitted for the several places than the nominees on the other ticket. We believe candid judgment will tell any man that the Republican nominees are better qualified in every way than their opponents. Then there is something farther, if there is any use for a party it must stand for something. The Republican ticket stands for its party platform, county and national. A majority of the voters of this county will vote for that platform when they vote for Congressman and they should do the same thing on every county officer. The Citizens' ticket has no party or platform except the local one and that is simply to get into office, and nothing more. It is a conglomeration to get to the pie counter. One is a Democrat, another is a Populist and a third a Republican. If these people are honest in their political affiliations they should be opposing each other on principle. But they are not troubled about principles, they want the offices. They are willing to join anything or everything for the offices. Is this a badge for honesty? Yet they want to make the people believe, and are asserting that it is the Republicans who are the dishonest ones.

As the campaign progresses it becomes more evident that J. R. Shaver will be elected sheriff by a good majority. He has shown that he is straightforward, capable and in every way well fitted for the place. He is one of the largest taxpayers of his section of the county and takes a leading interest in all public matters that tend to develop and help the county. He is better fitted for the place than his opponent and any one who knows the two men will readily concede this. The growing favor of Mr. Shaver is apparent and his election by a good majority is assured.

It is not often that a man is nominated for a place that is as well qualified for it as is William Brobst for Commissioner. He did not seek the office but the West side of the river pushed his candidacy and will give him an overwhelming vote. He is one of the heaviest tax-payers in the county. He is a conservative, long-headed farmer, one that his neighbors have confidence in, a man that any "citizen" can vote for and be satisfied that he has done well by Clackamas County.

THE Courier-Herald says that the county is in debt about $200,000 when in another column it runs the financial statement showing the net indebtedness to be $102,000. If you take the money reported on hand (cash), not something to come in, for the payment of warrants from the gross indebtedness, you will have but a little over $100,000 of indebtedness left. Study the financial statement. It is good reading.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

THOMAS F. RYAN.

Thomas F. Ryan, Republican nominee for re-election as County Judge, will undoubtedly be elected by a very large and handsome majority as an indorsement of an administration of which any man might be proud. Faithful to his trust, impartial in his dealings with all men, he has shown what an honest man can do in a political office. His knowledge of law and sense of justice has enabled him to make a record of never having one of his decisions on review set aside or criticised. In all of the appeals taken to the Circuit Court from his decisions, from the first, in which he cut down the fees demanded by the sheriff for board of prisoners in the County Jail from $5.00 to $3.50 a week, to the famous Fellows will case, he has been sustained. This is the second time he has appeared before the people of Clackamas County asking for their support, although he has served the people of Oregon City and School District No. 62 faithfully and well in many positions of trust. His record shows him to be a consistent supporter of the rights of all the people against the demands and encroachments of corporations and trusts, and the people of this county can rest satisfied that their rights will be well guarded and protected when brought before Judge Ryan. He is very interested in the welfare and progress of Clackamas County and is ever ready to assist in any movement that will tend to the development of the resources of either city, county or state.

It is a matter of almost universal regret that Prof. H. D. Wilcox will not be an applicant for the superintendency of the public schools of Oregon City next year. Under his direction during the past two years the schools have attained a high degree of efficiency which has been observed by more than one visiting educator. Prof. Wilcox has in view a desirable position which he will assume in September. His successor will be a man of high standing and who will maintain the creditable record that has been established in the schools of the city.

CONGRESSMAN TONGUE carried Clackamas county by over 500 majority last time and that vote will be increased at this election. Mr. Tongue is proving himself an effective worker and has done much for the state in many ways. His force is felt in congress and is recognized by good committee places. He has reached a position where he can do effective work for the state and is doing it so well that his vote will show the appreciation of the people.

ANOTHER gold medal for Clackamas County. This time it is for the product of a man who could not live to witness the award of his industry. A. J. Sawtell, pioneer in the raising of teasles, was one of the men whose work will live after him. A brief sketch of the industry in Oregon is given in another column.

If Frank Sleight is elected there will be no incompetency in the clerk's office that will cost Clackamas County $2000 as has been the case in the past year.

DEMONSTRATION OF UNION MEN

Nearly Two Thousand People Hold a Jollification Meeting.

EX-MAYOR LATOURETTE PRESIDED

Rousing Speeches Were Made by W. S. U'Ren, Judge Hayes, Senator Brownell, G. Morgan and Others.

The largest labor demonstration ever held in Oregon City and in fact the largest public gathering of any kind took place Monday night at Canemah Park where nearly two thousand people assembled to hold a jollification over the successful termination of the woolen strike and appeal to the sense of right and justice of the public. We are in this stage now but I hope within a few years we shall reach the third stage when unions will be corporations and either employers or employees can sue in the courts for justice, when they can not settle their differences, and have a full hearing of the case and a decision within ten days from the time of bringing suit and by a court with power to enforce its judgments are enforced. That stage has been reached in New Zealand where strikes are practically unknown. I congratulate you upon your success. You have gained much more than an advance in wages because you have learned discipline and the power of organization. You have acquired a strong union and affiliation with the most powerful central body of organized labor in the world. I urge you to maintain your union and to be first and foremost union men and women. Have faith in your officers, have faith in each other and always settle differences by reason and argument." Mr. U'Ren's address was loudly applauded.

Judge Gordon E. Hayes made an eloquent address to the audience on the present status of labor and his remarks were frequently interrupted by loud applause. He was followed by President Morgan of the Portland Millwrights Union, who made a half hour speech on union matters and went somewhat fully into the details of union work and of combinations and organization. He dwelt strongly on the fact that combination of labor and expansion was the order of the day. "Even the corset makers," said Mr. Morgan, "have formed a gigantic trust and it is strange to me, being an old bachelor and not understanding the situation fully, that the corset makers' trust also believes in expansion." The speaker dwelt on the power and influence of labor and said that everything that men have distinguished themselves in that adds comfort to life and to the intellectual and spiritual growth of man is directly the product of labor, and more particularly mental labor. He closed with an eloquent appeal to all workmen present to build up and strengthen organized labor because it was only through organization and combination that they could get justice for themselves. He cautioned them to remember that an injury to one is the concern of all.

State Senator Brownell was not on the program but was called for and the audience refused to be satisfied until he responded. Through agreement the committee having the meeting in charge had not intended that any candidate for office should speak but yielded to calls for Brownell, who paid an eloquent tribute to the cause of labor and urged the benefits and advantages of an eight hour labor day. He declared that the legislature should pass a law making eight hours a legal day's work. This sentiment was loudly cheered. Mr. Brownell assured the audience of his sympathy and friendship for labor at all times and in all places. He expatiated at some length on the dignity of labor.

A large delegation of laboring men from Portland was present at the meeting, which lasted until a late hour. Many more would have come from Portland but just as they were boarding the car they heard the strike was off and they returned home, thinking perhaps there would be no meeting. Mr. Mickle, of the Federated Trades, H. G. Kundret, editor of the Portland Labor Press, Mr. Booth, of the bookbinders union, Mr. Hewitt, of the carpenters union and a number of other prominent union men from Portland came up to attend the meeting. The Woodmen Band added much to the jollification by the rendition of several pleasing selections, which were much appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Ruth C. Leavitt.

Mrs. Ruth C. Leavitt died Saturday at Molalla. She was born at West Fairlee, Orange County, Vermont, December 8, 1843. She was married to Dr. J. J. Leavitt, October 5, 1866, at Sparta, Wisconsin after their marriage they came to Oregon and resided in Jefferson, Marion Co., for four years. In 1899 they moved to Molalla, Clackamas County, where Mrs. Leavitt resided until her death. She is survived by her husband and two children, Charles H. Leavitt, of Portland, and Mattie R. Leavitt, of Molalla. Mrs. Leavitt was a graduate of Gale College, at Galesville, Wis. She taught school until her marriage. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since childhood.

The funeral was held Monday noon and the interment took place in Molalla cemetery.

Alfred Eaton Smith.

Alfred Eaton Smith died at Meadowbrook last Sunday aged 36 years. He had been ill two weeks with pneumonia and complications of a gangrenous nature set in, resulting in his death. His home was in the foothills about seven miles east of Molalla corners. He is survived by a wife and child, four sisters and three brothers. The funeral was held Tuesday.

THERE IS A CLASS OF PEOPLE WHO are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over 1/4 as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

The Excitement Not Over.

The rush at the drug store still continues and daily scores of people call for a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs for the Throat and Lungs for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Kemp's Balsam, the standard family remedy, is sold on a guarantee and never fails to give entire satisfaction. Price 25c and 50c.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Baltimore, Md., March 1902. I have a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted by a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who had only one operation could help me, and even that, only temporarily, that the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your medicine. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noise ceased to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation. Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost. INTERNATIONAL AURAL CLINIC, 596 LA SALLE AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—Jessie Pinky Hall, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by G. A. Harding, Droggist.

Only One Way To Do It.

Get from Portland to Chicago in hours—just three days. The "Chicago Portland Special," leaving Portland daily at 9 a. m. via O. R. & N., arrives at Chicago at 9:30 the third day. New York and Boston are reached the day after. This train, acknowledged to be the fastest between the Northwest and the East, is solidly vestibuled and equipped in unsurpassed style. Tourist sleeping cars, library sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars, and excellent dining cars, the meals on these are equal to those served at the best hotels. Remember this train leaves Portland to Chicago; there is no change of cars, and the good of it costs no more to ride on it than on other routes.
