MRS. CASEDAY'S PARTIAL VICTORY.
Recovers $1559.60 in a Suit Against Her Divorced Husband.
The case of Minnie Caseday vs. P. A. Lindstrom, which has been in the courts since October, 1898, was decided Tuesday. The jury was out until 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and the verdict was a partial victory for the plaintiff. The history of the case is one of domestic trouble. Many years ago P. A. Lindstrom and Minnie Caseday were married. He was a bridge boss on the Southern Pacific and they lived in happiness near Comstock. Three children were born to them. When they were married Mrs. Lindstrom was the owner of 80 acres of land, 20 miles east of Portland on the Troutdale road. The property is valuable and at one time sold for $8000, but came back to her by foreclosure. Time passed and a cloud arose on their domestic trouble, both alleging infidelity. Before the heat of the trouble reaching a boiling point Mrs. Lindstrom deeded 40 acres of the eighty to her husband. The land was then worth $50 an acre. Lindstrom said that the land was given to him to enable him to support the children but his wife alleged that she was virtually compelled to make the deed and that her husband promised to pay for the property at its market value. Later on Lindstrom loaned $420 of his wife's money to Chief Engineer Grandhall, of the Southern Pacific. Lindstrom secured a divorce from his wife in Portland early in 1899. At that time she was ill and did not appear in court. Lindstrom was awarded the custody of the children and $240, which his wife paid. Besides 45 acres of the property Mrs. Lindstrom was compelled to deed one-third of the remainder of the tract to her husband. She resumed her maiden name of Minnie Caseday and brought suit against Lindstrom for the purchase price of the 45 acres and the money loaned to Grandhall, who admitted the loan but who did not know whose money it was he had borrowed and could not say how much money he had paid back. The verdict awarded her Tuesday $1001.50 for the 45 acre tract, and $498.10 on the Grandhall loan. She was represented in court by Attorneys H. E. Cross and Ed Mendenhall and the defendant's attorneys were Seabrook & Munly. Lindstrom was allowed until this morning to file a motion for a new trial.

OUTBREAK AT THE PENITENTIARY.
Two Convicts Kill Three Guards and Are Now Being Pursued By a Posse.
Last Monday morning Harry Tracey and David Merrill, who were under long sentences for burglary from Multnomah County, shot and killed Guards Frank B. Fetrell, S. R. T. Jones and B. F. Tiffany with weapons which had been concealed by the prisoners for several days, and had probably been smuggled inside the penitentiary by discharged convicts. With a gang of convicts they were on the way to the stove laundry to commence the day's work, and when they reached the door of the laundry building they shot down the guards and escaped. Frank Ingram, a convict, was shot in the leg by one of the convicts, while trying to prevent their escape. The two desperadoes fled and a posse is searching for them. Two bloodhounds were brought down from the Walla Walla penitentiary to track the escapes. Several times they have eluded their pursuers and yesterday were in the vicinity of Needy. Two companies of militia from Salem and Woodburn are on the scene and the posse is in charge of Sheriff Durbin, of Marion County. The convicts are daring and will probably not be taken alive.
Great interest was manifested in this city yesterday afternoon over the report that Tracey and Merrill, the convicts, had eaten dinner at Ed Graves' farm near Needy and the sheriff telephoned at 3 o'clock that the convicts were probably headed for the Molalla as Merrill has a sister living there. Shortly after three o'clock the militia left Monitor Mills to follow the fleeing men. With Sheriff Cook is a small party of men and many are anxious to go from this city to join the posse.
