The Hermit Crab. Gently crack the shell of the whelk, or you will find it almost impossible to extract the occupant alive otherwise, and you will see what you may be pardoned for supposing a miniature lobster, but which in reality belongs to another distinct species—namely, the hermit crab, Pagurus bernhardus. Whether he has obtained occupancy by force of arms or merely through decease of the original tenant is a moot point, but the first supposition is highly probable, as he is a most belligerent little customer.

An amusing scene may be witnessed by placing several hermit crabs deprived of their shells in an ordinary soup plate, with a little sea water and some empty shells—fewer shells than crabs. The fighting and struggling to secure houses is ludicrous in the extreme. One may be seen almost successful in mooring himself within a shell, which, by the way, is effected by means of the shelly plates at the extremity of his soft and twisted tail, when another seizes him by the nape of the neck, as it were, and he is dragged reluctantly forth. The evictor still holds him struggling at claws' length, and not until he himself is safely ensconced does he relinquish his grasp.—Chambers' Journal.

The Belief in a Devil. A maid-servant belonging to one of the women's colleges had been out with her lover without leave from her mistress and was returning late along my road, at the top of which lived the lamented Professor Nettleship. Now, the latter had a large yellow dog that took the usual canine delight in seeing cats scatter and flee, and the better to bounce on them when they were stealthily crossing the street, he would perch himself on the top of the professor's garden wall, surrounded and half hidden in the foliage. As the truant maid-servant passed beneath him he caught sight of a cat in the middle of the road and, making a spring at it, collided with her and knocked her down. She picked herself up and ran screaming home, almost mad with terror, because, as she said, the devil had jumped on her back and thrown her down.—International Monthly.

Have Courage. You must have courage, my boy. No matter what band of circumstances array themselves against you, if your purpose is right you will succeed. Life is a beautiful thing. The chance to fight is a great blessing. No matter how hard the situation may seem, keep on doing right, bravely face the future, set your standard high, work and wait, be patient and thankful, and you will win. You may never be rich as the world goes—not rich in money or rich in power—but you may be rich in the knowledge of the truth that you have made the best of your chance to be a man. Don't set your standard by the men who have achieved great wealth. That is nothing compared to the riches that belong to him who has struggled to enlarge and ennoble the circle of life in which he is cast.—Schoolmaster.

Fire Superstitions. "If a fire does not burn well," says the old household superstition, "and you want it to draw, you should set the poker across the top bar of the grate." This is supposed to placate the gnomes, whom it was formerly believed were very jealous of the robbery of their underground country of its coal treasures and were very apt to take their vengeance out in preventing the fire from burning. It was the mystic form of the cross thus made which was supposed to drive them away. Nevertheless it would not do to use the shovel in this charm or the fire would be sure to go out.

An Adroit Answer. The celebrated physician Zimmerman attended Frederick the Great in his last illness. One day, as the story is recorded in "Salad For the Social," the king said to him: "You have I presume, helped many a man into another world."

This was rather an unexpected thrust for the doctor, but the dose he gave the king in return was a judicious mixture of truth and flattery: "Not so many as your majesty nor with so much honor to myself."

A Man and His Heart. Once upon a time there was a rich old man who had a heart so weak that its faint beatings could hardly be heard; yet, in the metaphor of our time, that same heart was filled with love for a fair lady.

The lady heard of her wooer's physical and financial condition and looked upon his suit with extreme favor. The result was that they were married.

Moral.—Faint heart sometimes wins fair lady.—New York Herald.

Advice. "What would you say," began the voluble prophet of woe, "if I were to tell you that in a very short space of time all the rivers of this country would dry up?"

"I would say," replied the patient man, "Go thou and do likewise."—Boston Christian Register.

Fatal to Dolls. Auntie—Where is that pretty doll you had when I was here last? Little Girl—It's gone—died of the grip.

"The grip, eh?" "Yes'm; baby's grip."

Perhaps It Was. Mrs. Richmond—What lovely antique furniture! Mrs. Bronxborough—Yes, and do you know, we got it almost as cheap as if it had been new!—Judge.

The Shoeman's Clerk. "I never," said the illiterate shoe clerk, "forget a man's face that I have fitted shoes on."—Los Angeles Herald.

ANDREW GORDON, Guardian of Irwin Leslie Gordon, a minor. H. E. CROSS, Attorney for guardian. Dated June 12th, 1902.

Read It In His Newspaper. George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkzeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

"FACTORY GIRLS." The Graceful and Handsome Women who Work at the Loom.

Any one who has lived in a factory town and has seen the tide of human life which floods the streets when the mills stop for the day, will have been struck by the number of graceful and handsome young girls among the throng. Light hearted, smiling, cheerful, it is hard to realize that they have just left a day's fatiguing work. But another sight attracts the onlooker. He sees groups of other women, thin of form, dull of eye, languid of movement, and he realizes that these were but a few years ago as bright and happy as their younger fellow-workers. It is natural to ask the cause of such a physical change, which is not to be explained by the stress and strain of daily labor, because there are not a few who, in spite of years of steady work, retain the girlish attractiveness of face and figure. Perhaps the most important cause of this change is to be found in the prevalence of ailments peculiarly feminine, which drain the vitality and sap the strength. If the truth were known it would be found that these worn-out women had been working under physical conditions, which, if a man suffered them would be enough to send him to bed. With throbbing head and aching back the wage earner plods on, feeling that she cannot afford either to rest or pay a physician's fees, and every day sees her grow more weary and more weak.

THERE'S NO NEED TO STOP WORK or pay expensive fees in order to be cured of womanly diseases. Hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women have been made well and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"A few years ago I suffered severely with female weakness and had at times dreadful pains," writes Mrs. V. Brown, of Creswell, Harford Co., Maryland. "I went to my doctor, and he gave me medicine which did me good for a while, but I would get worse again. I had a sick headache nearly all the time; was so weak around my waist could hardly bear anything to touch me. My feet would keep cold and I could hardly do my work. I would work a while and then lie down a while; was completely run down. Suffered from disagreeable drain and also severe pains at times. After using five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of his Medical Discovery' and one vial of Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and following the advice you gave regarding the 'Lotion Tablets,' I can truly say I am cured. The doctor said it was a disease I had."

The sick woman who begins the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription begins the cure with the first dose she takes. Women who have suffered long years and found no help from doctors or other medicines have found perfect and lasting cure in the use of "Favorite Prescription."

IT ALWAYS HELPS and almost always cures. This statement is based upon the fact that the hundreds of thousands of women who have used "Favorite Prescription" ninety-eight per cent, have been perfectly and permanently cured.

Two women in every hundred have failed to obtain a complete cure, even in these cases there has been some relief and improvement; the remaining less frequent, the aches less severe, the household duties laid aside are taken up again with comfort and satisfaction.

"I can truly say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicinal preparation," writes Mrs. E. Spooner, of Lakewood, Montclair Co., N. J. Box 358. "I was four months and a half in bed, the medicine prescribed by the doctors did me no good. Finally I went to Dr. R. V. Pierce for his advice. He answered in a very kind letter, instructing me what to do. I followed his advice, and today am a well woman. Thanks to Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" if she is suffering from womanly disease. The womanly disease is neglected the progress its effect on the general health, and slows the cure. There is no other in experimenting with other medicines when the experience of thousands of women proves that "Favorite Prescription" is the surest and safest of all medicines for the cure of disease peculiarly womanly.

THE PRIVILEGE OF SICK WOMEN. Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, for his correspondence is sacredly secret. The written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in personal consultations of women at the Invalids' Hotel and Medical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It is hardly possible to overstate the value of this free consultation letter with Dr. Pierce. In numerous cases such as Mrs. Spooner's, when medical advice and treatment had failed to give relief, a letter to Dr. Pierce has been the means of restoring perfect health.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." The substitute medicines only the shadow instead of the substance and is pressed on the quack because it pays the dealer a little more profit than is paid by a high standard preparation like "Favorite Prescription."

FREE TO WOMEN. Dr. Pierce's great medical work, Common Sense Medical Advice, is free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. This work contains more than a thousand large pages of valuable medical information. Send one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
