The Indian Creation Legend.

The earliest source for the religion of India is the hymns of the Rig Veda, the date of which is now fixed at about 1000 B. C. In one of these hymns we encounter as the creator Purusha, who is simply a "magnified man." A pantheistic turn, however, is given to this conception under the influence of which Purusha becomes the "all in all" and is identified with the universe, with what has been and what shall be. All gods, animals and castes are parts of him. The moon is his mind, the sun his eye, from his mouth sprang Indra and Agni and from his breath Vayu, space from his navel, heaven from his head and the earth from his feet. This emanation theory when freed from its primitive elements becomes pantheism pure and simple. In accord with this view the source of creative activity is carried back in other hymns to "Vesire." We read in Vedic literature that "desire is the seed of the mind."—Morriss Jastrow, Jr., in Harper's Magazine.

A Fair Exchange.

Clerical Customer (grousing himself from nap in barber's chair)—Finished, eh? Barber—Yes, sir; quite some time ago.

Clerical Customer—Indeed! Then I must have been indulging in a quiet nap.

Barber—You surely have, sir.

Clerical Customer—It was certainly very kind of you not to awaken me. The rest has done me good, and I am very thankful to you for what was really a very refreshing sleep.

Barber—Don't mention it, sir. It's only a fair return. I attended your church last Sunday.

What They Were Hawking.

At an exhibition of paintings in London in one of the galleries hung the notable picture "Hawking in the Olden Times." An elderly farmer and his wife passed before this picture, viewing it with evident satisfaction.

"John," said the old lady, "what's that?"

John then turned over the leaves of the catalogue he carried.

"They ca' it 'Hawking I' th' Olden Time,'" said he.

"Hawking! Why, what are they hawking?" she inquired.

"I dunno," he replied. "but I spect they're trying to sell them birds."

The Bridal Wreath.

The bridal wreath is usually formed of myrtle branches in Germany. It is made of orange blossoms in France as well as in the United States. In Italy and the French cantons of Switzerland it is of white roses. In Spain the flowers of which it is composed are red roses and pinks. In the islands of Greece vine leaves serve the purpose, and in Bohemia rosemary is employed. In German Switzerland a crown of artificial flowers takes the place of the wreath.

HOW "THE KID" FOUND A HOME

By Callie Bonney Marble

(Copyright, 1902, by Callie Bonney Marble.)

SHORTY, the newsboy, had disposed of his papers and with the air of a successful business man was going home.

"Shorty! Oh, Shorty!" called a shrill voice as the newsboy passed the asylum gate, where he caught sight of the flutter of a blue gingham apron and some stubby shoes showing between the rounds, both belonging to a diminutive boy of four, with big, wide-awake gray eyes and a shock of yellow hair.

"What you want, Kid?" asked the newsboy, with a patronizing air.

"Oh, Shorty," cried the wee orphan gleefully, "tomorrow's Decoration day, and see what I've got!" And he drew out from a hole under the gate a wonderful combination bouquet of his own fashioning, which consisted of two faded pinks, an artificial rosebud dropped from somebody's bonnet, some celery leaves, a pine twig and a full assortment of the weeds which grew about the asylum yard. "Isn't it beautiful? And tomorrow when the soldiers march by I'm goin' wif 'em where the dead people are and put it on some graves, if I can run'd away. If I can't, I'll take it to the soldiers, and they can give it to the dead man for me." And the baby, who knew nothing of war and death, smiled gleefully.

"You're goin' to be in it, ain't you, Kid?" Shorty said, answering the baby's smile in almost a fatherly way.

"You're a good boy to think of the dead folks, and here's a penny to buy you a popcorn ball."
