Attorney Chris. Schuebel and family returned Saturday from a four weeks' outing at Ocean Park.

Charles P. Howard, proprietor of the Mulino grist mill, was transacting business in Oregon City Thursday.

Judge Ryan left yesterday for an extended trip through Eastern states. He will be absent about one month.

Miss Millie Kruse and Miss Grace Miller will leave Monday for Montmouth, to enter the Normal school there.

Chief Burford, of the city fire department, is taking a vacation in Salem, where he will remain a few days.

William Mackrell, a prominent farmer of Molalla, was transacting business in and around the court house Wednesday.

Miss Nettie Brown, of Salem, who had been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Hoey for some time, returned to her home Wednesday.

Hon. J. N. Tracy, of Logan, ex-member of the legislature from this county, was in town last Saturday attending to business.

Sheriff Shaver visited his place at Molalla Sunday, continuing on to Marquam Monday. He returned to this place Monday night.

John Shannon was in from Beaver Creek Wednesday. Mr. Shannon is supervisor of that road district, and reports the loss of one or more bridges by reason of the recent fire in that vicinity.

Superintendent Zinsner returned last Saturday from Ocean Park, bringing back his family, who have been there for about five weeks.

Miss Anelita Gleason, of this city, has been elected to teach the Jones school, on Abernethy. She expects to begin her work about the 1st of October.

Miss Camille Hutton, of Wardner, Idaho, who has been visiting Miss Nettie Cruse and Miss Hazel Davidson for some time, returned to her home Monday.

Miss Lulu Spangler, of Corvallis, and Miss Rosalie Greffox, of Portland, were visiting friends and relatives here last Sunday. Miss Spangler departed for Weston that evening to enter upon her duties as musical instructor in the Normal school at that place.

George Gregory, of Molalla, was in Oregon City Thursday. Mr. Gregory is extensively engaged in the culture of teasles, however, he states that his crop will be somewhat short this year of what it was last season. He is preparing, however, to increase the acreage for another year, and expects hereafter to be able to supply a greater amount of the product to the woolen mills.

Mrs. Eli Williams left Oregon City Monday for Seaside to visit her daughter, who has been at that place since early in June. The young lady's health has not been very good, and she has been staying at the coast with the hope of benefitting her health. Mrs. Williams will probably remain at Seaside until about the middle of October, when she hopes to be able to bring her daughter home with her.

R. H. Taber, of this city, returned last week from an extended visit to his home, on Elk creek, just south of Seaside. Mr. Taber is very enthusiastic regarding the future of that part of Oregon. The timber resources there are unsurpassed and the agricultural possibilities are equal to those of any other section of the state. That particular part of Oregon is now developing very rapidly, and may be depended upon to be all that is claimed for it.

Local Events.

School Superintendent Zinsner issued a temporary permit Monday to Ada B. Bedwell to teach the Wilhoit school.

The case of the state against W. Burk, charged with stealing a watch, will be heard in Justice Stipp's court Saturday.

In the justice court last Monday judgment was rendered in favor of F. C. Looney and against J. F. Hawks for $150.

A still alarm of fire was sent in Tuesday afternoon and one of the hose companies responded, the fire being in the grass and some logs on the river bank, to the rear of Albright's butcher shop. Some wood was also on fire, but no material damage was done.

O. F. Olsen will receive bids until 8 o'clock Saturday evening for excavating beneath the Methodist church and raising the building.

The body of the late Mrs. Anna Ross, who died at Phoenix, Arizona, last week, arrived here last Saturday morning, the funeral taking place Sunday afternoon.

The county clerk issued two marriage licenses Wednesday, namely: L. B. Andrews and Alice Roberts; Charles Kirk and Eva Gard, all of Clackamas county.

Some small boys are responsible for a fire that raged for some time Thursday on the hill, near Thirteenth and Taylor streets. Only by the most heroic efforts of members of the fire companies were one or more buildings saved from destruction.

Residents of Gladstone had an experience Monday night fighting fire. Somebody set fire to a slashing on the road right of way, which spread rapidly. After several hours hard fighting the fire was gotten under control without any very serious results.

A complaint was filed in Justice Stipp's court Wednesday evening, charging A. C. Garrison, a conductor on the Oregon City car line, with assault upon the person of W. A. Robinson, at Milwaukie. The case is set for hearing Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock.

G. B. January came in from Abernethy Thursday afternoon in great haste after Sheriff Shaver, stating that a man giving every evidence of being crazy, was terrorizing the women and children of that locality. The sheriff and Chief Burns went after the man.

The estate of Ira N. Baker, deceased, is valued at $4000 in personal property, and is left to the wife, son and two daughters, and to the children of his deceased brother. The will was admitted to probate last Friday, H. H. Blankenship and D. M. Baker being named as executors.

The assessor has a notice in this issue calling the attention of the taxpayers to the fact that the board of equalization will meet on Monday, October 13th. All grievances should be made known to the board at that time, as no corrections can be made in the assessment roll afterwards.

Miss Claudia Hart, of this city, was operated on Wednesday morning at St. Vincent's hospital, in Portland, for appendicitis. The young lady has a host of friends here whose sympathies are with her and who hope for her speedy recovery. Dr. Sommer performed the operation.

The fish racks in the Clackamas came near being carried away Tuesday night by a large run of cordwood from the upper Clackamas. There was a jam formed, and only for the extreme hard work of a large force of men for several hours the entire apparatus of the fish racks would have been carried out.

The fire which had been giving the people of Gladstone considerable trouble for several days, broke out anew Wednesday and threatened the destruction of all the property of that favorite suburb. Harvey Cross lost nearly 150 cords of wood destroyed that night, and other damage was threatened.

Mailcarrier Pat Duffy, when in town yesterday, reported that apparently the entire country in the vicinity of Molalla and far to the east of that place is on fire. Smoke is so thick out Molalla way that people almost suffocate. Ashes are flying through the atmosphere, and the condition is becoming alarming.

W. Burk was arrested in Portland Wednesday by Constable Moody and brought back to this city, where he was wanted to answer to a charge of stealing a watch from W. Martell. Martell, Burk and others were rooming at the New England Home, the former's watch disappearing, as did also Burk. Suspicion pointed to Burk's guilt, and he was accordingly apprehended. He strenuously protests his innocence, however, he will remain here in jail until he has an opportunity to answer to the authorities.
