The rally service at the Baptist church last Sunday evening was very much of a success in every way. Mrs. A. S. Dresser, the superintendent, had spared no pains to drill the children, and the manner in which the exercises were rendered and conducted was creditable to instructors and children alike.

Fish Warden Vandusen, of Astoria, has been looking after hatchery matters on the Upper Clackamas the past week. He visited the site of the new power house, near Springwater, to see that the proper methods and appliances are provided in the river, where the improvements were going on, for the ascent and descent of fish.

A. J. Douglass, of Eagle Creek, had somewhat of an exciting and sensational experience during the past week. Mr. Douglass had been in Eastern Oregon for some time in the threshing business. While there he had been in the custom of paying his help off by check on the Morrow county bank, his debtors being in the custom also of depositing the amount due Mr. Douglass in the same institution. He had drawn a check in favor of one of his workmen for $90, which was not honored by the bank, meantime Mr. Douglass had proceeded down home and immediately upon his arrival here he was arrested at the instance of the bank officials of Morrow on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense, and taken back to Eastern Oregon to answer to the charge. When he arrived in Morrow, however, there was no one to appear against him, and his account at the bank was found to be $400 to his credit. He is at home now, however, none the worse for his experience, especially as regards his reputation, which has always been good.

The county board of equalization has been in session at the court house all week, and its sitting will not end until Saturday. As an evidence of the confidence reposed in Assessor Williams by the people of the county only a very limited number of requests for reduction in assessed valuations have been made, and those came from the people of the fire districts. There is no apparent desire on the part of the people of this county to have lands rated at a low value, realizing the evil effect such a course would have. One or two complaints were entered because of certain ratings being too low, but otherwise the work of the assessor will be accepted as about correct. Just as soon as the meeting is concluded the assessor will begin the work of taking totals, and by another week it will be possible to get the result of the year's work in regard to an increase in values in the county.

Messrs. C. K. Ballard, Charles Lakin and William Stindler were up from Milwaukee last Friday, casting about in the city for general information etc., in regard to the forthcoming city election to be held in Milwaukee on the 25th of this month. A complete set of city officials will be voted on at the time the ballot is taken for or against incorporation. The gentlemen report that much interest is being taken in the matter by the people of the prospective city, and there is no doubt that the proposal to incorporate will receive almost unanimous support. Milwaukee is becoming a thriving place, and to further its interests nothing better could be done now to aid in the work than to incorporate the place.

Little Hazel Farr entertained a large number of her young friends at her parent's home in this city last Saturday. Games were indulged in, and refreshments partaken of and a general good time, such as children only can enjoy. The young hostess received many presents, the occasion being the anniversary of her 7th birthday. Those present were: Jessie Gimell, Alvina Bauman, Hazel Farr, Roy McFarland, Arthur Farr Freese, Arthur Gimell, Frankie Sowers, Frankie Krems, Eddie Bush, Eddie Farr, Ferrel Reid, Wallace Farr, Cecil Stewart, Charlie Leland, Freddie Powell, Nottle Leland, Hazel Turney Sadie Michael, Vera Farr, Maud Farr, Cora Daughit Bunny, Owenby, Dorothy Latourette, Ethel and Carry Armstrong, of Sellwood, Florence and Francis Krems, Gladys Gimell.

James Kocher, son of Andrew Kocher, machine dealer at Canby, is seriously ill with a complication of troubles, and doubts are entertained as to his recovery. Dr. B. F. Giesy, the attending physician, is making daily calls, and Tuesday he called Dr. Strickland, of Oregon City, for consultation. No efforts are spared to save the young man's life. —Anora Borealis.

The attendance at the public schools of the city has increased wonderfully this year, making it necessary to increase the accommodations. The additional room being fitted at the East-ham school is nearly ready for occupancy, but the seats will not be here for several days.

John Myers, of Springwater, was in town Wednesday looking after matters in connection with the rebuilding of his sawmill, destroyed by the recent fire in that vicinity. Mr. Myers says he will bring his mill engine to this city and have it repaired and will proceed at once to have his plant in operation just as soon as he can accomplish the work. Mr. Myers was also one of the parties from Springwater who appeared before the board of equalization with a request to have his assessment reduced. Conditions are shaping themselves around in quite a favorable way at Springwater, as everybody has gone to work with a determination to make the best of the situation.

Medford is to have another newspaper. Charles Meserve, of that city, was in Portland yesterday and secured the necessary material for the paper, of which he will be editor-in-chief, and P. M. Kirshaw business manager. There is said to be plenty of capital behind the enterprise. Medford is already supplied with three papers, but Mr. Meserve says that after looking over the whole state he has concluded Jackson county offers the best field for an investment in the newspaper business. Medford has a population of about 3000 people, and it is fast becoming one of the leading fruit centers of Oregon. —Sonda ys Oregonian.

Judge Ryan speaks encouragingly of the proposition to build and operate an immense hydraulic elevator for ascending to and descending from the bluff back of the business portion of Oregon City. This matter has had an ardent advocate and earnest champion in Judge Ryan, and since his return from the East he takes the matter up with new zeal and enthusiasm. He declares the project a feasible one both from a standpoint of public utility physical economy, and speaks in such a manner in regard to it that the impression is made at once that success will come from his efforts. No definite plans are yet outlined, but we may soon be able to announce that something tangible in this matter has been accomplished.

Constable Harry Moody met with both defeat and disappointment in his endeavors to become officially possessed of one George E. Geisy, for whom he last week went to Salem after requisition papers, thence to Olympia, where Washington's governor refused to honor the document issued by Oregon's executive, requesting the return of Geisy to this state. This action was taken by the Washington official on the ground that Geisy was an ex-inmate of the Washington penitentiary, and was merely out on parole, and as his bondsman had withdrawn the young man would have been remanded back to that institution had he not been committing depredations in Oregon. Geisy stole $450 from George Zigler, of near Barlow.

School Girls Young girls at this period of life, or their mothers, are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; all such letters are strictly confidential; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; and her advice is freely and cheerfully given.

School days are danger days for American girls. Often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality. Sometimes it is never recovered.

Perhaps they are not over-careful about keeping their feet dry; through carelessness in this respect the monthly sickness is usually rendered very severe.

Then begin ailments which should be removed at once, or they will produce constant suffering. Headache, faintness, slight vertigo, pains in the back and loins, irregularity, loss of sleep and appetite, a tendency to avoid the society of others, are symptoms all indicating that woman's arch-enemy is at hand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many a young girl over this critical period. With it they have gone through their trials with courage and safety. With its proper use the young girl is safe from the peculiar dangers of school years and prepared for hearty womanhood.

A Young Chicago Girl "Studied Too Hard."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought I did not and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more. —LILLIE E. SINCLAIR, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

"Miss Pratt Unable to Attend School."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness." —MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Received New Ideas.

Judge Ryan has been converted to the theory that inter-urban railways are a splendid thing for any country into which they may be built. This idea was gained by the Judge by his recent visit to Eastern states, where, he says the country is gridironed by trolley roads. The particular points in regard to this matter so favorably impressing themselves upon the Judge was the fact that in nearly every case the trolley lines were constructed along the county roads, and in every instance where such was the case the thoroughfares were in the very best condition, a state of affairs rendered possible from the fact that the trolley lines handle the heaviest part of the traffic, leaving only the very lightest for the roads, thus there is no cutting and otherwise demolishing. When Judge Ryan left here he felt inclined to oppose the granting of franchises to suburban or inter-urban roads, and in case of such action he favored being very exacting with the companies, but he returns with another idea of matters of that nature. He declares there is no element in advancing the interests of any country so potent as the construction of rural railways, and hereafter he will be found lending his energies and encouragement in such directions and to such causes. The Judge remarked to a reporter for this paper that if every resident of Oregon could be dropped down in New York, or other Eastern states for a few moments, what they would learn in the way of rural development and methods for improvement would be worth millions of dollars to Oregon immediately upon their return. The Judge is an enthusiast now in the matter of public and private improvements, and no doubt he will be able to accomplish much good in his advocacy of the introduction of new and better methods along those lines.

To Be Given Away

A $10 heating stove will be given to the farmer in Clackamas county who will place on exhibition six heaviest potatoes. The object of this is to show what Clackamas county can produce in the potato line. They are to be left with J. J. Cooke, the real estate dealer, and after being weighed, will be placed on exhibition, with the name of the producer, but the weights will not be made public until Saturday, November 1st, 1902. The stove and potatoes will be on exhibition in the show windows of Wilson & Cooke.
