

KIDNEY CURE.

There is no disease so insinuating, so slow but sure, as kidney disease, or so wide-spread. The symptoms are no slight as to generally escape notice.

The first indications appear in the urine, with varied effects. The quantity may be increased or decreased; it is likely to be highly colored and soiling; it may be pale or thin, or thick and milky with a sediment. Later on more pronounced symptoms will be present, such as dizziness, bloating, etc., with marked bladder and urinary disorders.

Poisonous waste matter is collected by the blood from all parts of the system and carried to the kidneys, where it is separated and cast out through the urine. The kidneys deal with the blood only, deriving nourishment therefrom. Hence, if the blood is bad the kidneys are not only overworked, but underfed. How necessary is it, therefore, that the purity and vitality of the blood should be maintained. It is plain why the great blood purifier and strengthener—Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic—has been successfully used in treating kidney diseases and in preventing same. In purifying the blood the kidneys are greatly relieved, while, at the same time, new strength and vitality are given these organs. The following letter tells a very old story:

PINE KNOT, Ky., June 25, 1902.
The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., Dayton, O.
GENTLEMEN: I had a severe case of typhoid fever six years ago, which left my kidneys in bad order. I have tried a number of remedies and taken treatment from doctors, but Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic has done me more good than anything else.

There are thousands of just such cases as the above that are treated without results because they are wrongly treated. Mr. Cordell's condition resulted from an exhausting fever; the kidneys, as well as the rest of the system, had been wasted by disease. No wonder Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic promptly cured, because it purified and enriched the blood, and such blood carried new strength and vitality directly to the kidneys and to all the organs.

Company Will Protest.

The Portland city council and the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company are having much controversy in regard to a franchise permitting the company to enter the city with its system of roads. The council wants to force what is termed the blanket franchise on the company, in which event the railway company will fight vigorously.

The officers of the company do not classify themselves under the head of street railways, but more under that of steam roads, as their principal business is that of carrying freights.

Mr. Chase, of that company, when asked what his position in the matter would be, in case the city undertook to force a blanket franchise on them, said: "I do not think the city will ask us to come under a blanket franchise, and if it does it will then be time to consider the matter. We do not consider ourselves as strictly a street car company. While it is true we run street cars, we do not invade the city streets only so far as permits us to bring our passengers into the city. Our principal business is that of carrying freights. We are rapidly extending our lines into Clackamas county, thereby opening up a hitherto undeveloped country.

"We are not asking for franchises for a street car business, but for terminal facilities along the river front to enable us to reach the big manufacturing companies, which I think the council will grant us."

One of the forthcoming amusement features for Oregon City is the ball announced for the evening before Thanksgiving, to be given under the auspices of the Foresters of this city. Their membership is large and their friends are legion. Good music has been engaged, which in connection with the fact that the young men who are managing the affair have a reputation for doing things as they should be done, means a large attendance and a pleasant time.

The filter plant of the water commission is kept busy on account of the very muddy condition of the water in the Willamette river, from which the city gets its supply. The filters have to be cleaned twice a day, and during that time the mains are supplied from the reservoir at Elyville, which contains 1,500,000 gallons. The new centrifugal pump will arrive here in a short time, and with this addition to the machinery of the station it will not be necessary to shut off the water from the upper stories of buildings while the filters are being cleaned.

Among the many large and well appointed business establishments in this city is the combination book and drug store of Huntley Bros., which in point of exquisite neatness of arrangement is not excelled in any town on the coast. This pleasing condition of affairs at that place of business has been brought about by the expenditure of a great amount of money and the exercise of more than ordinary ingenious ability. For more than two months the establishment had been in a distressing state of turmoil, but the happy termination has proven the wisdom of the act. Last Saturday evening the formal opening of the large combination store took place, upon which occasion there were present many people to enjoy the music and examine the extremely large store and stock. Enterprise of the character displayed by this firm is commendable in the extreme, and Oregon City people should feel proud that within their city is such a worthy combination of business interests.

At the Congregational manse, in this city, Mr. Wm. O. Capps and Miss Frances Helmeyer were united in the bonds of matrimony, November 14th, Rev. E. S. Bollinger officiating. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known in the Clackamas community. They will reside at Clackamas station.

There was a sudden transformation last Friday night at the building formerly occupied by Howell & Jones. Business seemed to proceed uninterruptedly during Friday, but by Saturday morning the place was empty, the large stock of drugs having been removed to the Garde building, where business was continued without any apparent inconvenience to either the patrons or the proprietors. The establishment is one of the neat places of this city. Always with an idea of not only keeping in stock the very freshest and purest drugs and chemicals, but always with a desire to supply the public with the very latest articles in every respect usually found in a well appointed apothecary shop is the record of Messrs. Howell & Jones, who are enjoying a good patronage and are deserving of all the favors the public may bestow upon them.

The Oregon City Debating Society, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, debated the question, "Resolved that Education is the most important question of the day." The affirmative was taken by C. B. Puge, Miss Gertrude Griffith and Miss Davis; negative, Marcus Sugarman, George Calif and V. Clark, the latter side being successful in the contest. There was an address by A. A. Price and an instrumental solo by Miss Hornsbuh. The society is becoming very popular and is proving of great benefit to the young element of our city whose inclinations are for entertainment of this very creditable character. Plans are now being perfected for giving a musical and literary entertainment, the proceeds to be used to make a payment upon a splendid new organ just installed in the academy.

The Artisans of Molalla had an extraordinary pleasant time at their meeting last Saturday evening. There were nearly fifty people present, who assisted in some manner in either the initiatory work which was on or contributed their talents to the entertainment of those present. A very pleasing literary and musical program was rendered, after which a sumptuous luncheon was partaken of. Sheriff Shaver and wife and Oscar Eby and wife, of this city, besides Frank Case, a former resident of Molalla, now in the railway mail service, were present. Artisans have the faculty of doing things in the way of entertaining in about as neat a manner as is to be found with fraternal societies, and the reputation Molalla Artisans have always borne for doing things well warrants the remark that last Saturday evening's meeting was all that was claimed for it in a social way.

LOCAL INSTITUTES.

Good Attendance and Much Interest Being Manifested.

The joint local teachers' institute held at Orient last Saturday was largely attended and was very much of a success in every way. The meeting was presided over by Superintendent Zinser, who is a tireless worker for the success of any and all matters looking to the furtherance of school interests. The teachers present were given an opportunity to contribute to the library fund of the Orient school by paying 25 cents for their lunch.

The programme opened at 10:30 o'clock with an address, "Ends in Teaching," by Principal N. W. Bowland, of the Montaville school. He was followed by A. F. Hirschner, principal of the Grosham school, H. L. McCann, principal of the Parkside school, spoke on "A Trinity of Processes." At noon a lunch was served to the visitors by the district, and the institute opened in the afternoon with a talk on "The Teachers' Part" by Miss Rebecca T. Smith, principal of the Eastham school, this city. V. A. Davis, principal of the Harmony school, spoke on "The Directors' Part," and C. M. Lake, clerk, joint district No. 6, closed the programme with a talk on "The Parents' Part."

Another of these local institutes will be held in this city tomorrow, at the Barelly school, when the following very interesting program will be rendered:

Report of the National Teachers' Association, by Prof. R. C. French, of the Monmouth Normal school. "A Practical Education," Hon. A. S. Dresser, Oregon City; "Weaving and Paper Folding," Miss Clara J. Boring, of Damascus, Geography.—"Home Geography," Miss Mattha Sturcheer, Bolton school; "Intermediate Division," Howard Eccles, Mundorf school; "Advanced Division," correlation with other branches, Mrs. Viola Godfrey, Barclay school.

On the 6th of December a local institute will be held at Marquam, beginning at 10:30 in the forenoon. Following is the program for that meeting:

"The School and the Community," Superintendent Zinser; "Elements of Successful School—the Teachers' Part," Joel Wilson, Glad Tidings; "The Directors' Part," Brenton Vedder, Scotts Mills; "The Parents' Part," Miss Tessa Larkins, Grosham school; "The Superintendent's Part," J. A. Ridings, clerk of district 5; question box, Superintendent Zinser.

The meeting here tomorrow promises to be largely attended and a most interesting affair. Parents and all patrons of schools and those interested in school work should attend.

New and complete stock of guns and ammunition at Johnson and Lamb's. Shells loaded to order.

Candidates for City Offices.

Anent the forthcoming city election, matters pertaining to it are somewhat up in the air. The present mayor, Mr. Dimick, has been asked by a great many people to become a candidate for re-election, in fact, a petition was in circulation for signatures requesting him to enter the race, which received considerable over 400 signatures. Ex-Sheriff John Cooke is also a candidate for the mayoralty, and a caucus is to be held in a day or two, at which it is conceded that Mr. Cooke will be placed in nomination. There was considerable talk a week ago to the effect that the labor unions would place a ticket in the field, but at a meeting held early this week a proposal for such action was voted down, the unions deciding not to enter the political arena until next year. Councilman Koerner, from the first ward, is a candidate for re-election. Walter Little is also an aspirant for like honors from the same ward. So far as it is possible to learn, there is no candidate against Charles Albright, who desires to succeed himself as a councilman from the second ward. Just what is being done about the matter of a councilman from the third ward is not known, however, it is presumed that Mr. Francis will be a candidate for re-election. Fred Meyer, the present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election as city treasurer. The other offices being filled by appointment, candidates for appointment are doing nothing at all or are working in the interest of those who will favor them with places.

Grimm, of the Methodist church, will preach the sermon, and Miss Conyers will render a solo. Service at 11 A. M. All are cordially invited.
