Logan.

The Logan Dancing school, which was erganized about two weeks ago, had its Arst lesson last Friday evening About twenty-five young men had assambled for instruction but had been so absorbed in thought that they neglected to bring ladies, and consequently the boys out-numbered them four to one. William Brown, the great violinist, furnished the music and Prof. J. E. Arthur instructed the class, which, it seems, is further ad **manced in experience than years, and will, undoubtedly, roon graduate with high honors.
