TOLD IN SIDEHEADS.

SMOKER POSTPONED—Company A, O. N. G., was to have given a smoker Monday evening, but owing to the illness of Peter Younger, a prominent member, the date was postponed until next Monday evening. The smoker is to be given in honor of the new captain, Campbell.

PLEASANT SOCIAL—Wednesday evening the young people of the Baptist church gave an enjoyable social at the residence of Mrs. Tom Grant. The benefits were devoted to the society fund, and a goodly number present. Games, refreshments and a social time were enjoyed and everybody expressed a desire to return in the near future and repeat the scene of the evening.

INURED BY ACID—Ernest Davis, an employe of the Crown paper mills, narrowly escaped the loss of his eyesight recently. He was at work in the acid room when a plug flew out of a jar of acid and the fluid scattered over his face burning the nuclei considerably, and injuring his eyesight somewhat. He was taken to Dr. Carl, the mill physician, and made as comfortable as possible. He will not lose his sight.

WILL SET OUT HOP VINES—Representative Paulsen, who lives at George, in this county, is setting out seven acres in hop vines. From his observation of the past 30 years Mr. Paulsen thinks the hop business pays, on the whole, although the product is likely to fluctuate in price very much. He says the price this year would make amends for six years of dullness in the hop market. He does not believe in going into the business very extensively, but thinks a few acres would be a good thing to have on hand every year. His grown sons have had considerable experience in the culture and drying of hops, and they will have charge of the field. The soil in the vicinity of George is said to be peculiarly adapted to raising hops.

PLAYED BASKET BALL—The home team of basket ball players went to Salem Saturday night and played the Salem team a game of basket ball, resulting in a victory for Salem in a score of 6 to 18. The boys report a good game, with the kindest of treatment on the part of the Salem men. They say the Salem boys supply out played them, and that is all there is to it. This will, probably, be the last game of basket ball this season. The home team has played several splendid games this season, and while they have lost one or two, they have all ways played with the best teams in the state.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT—"Tomkins Hired Man," which was played at the Willamette school Saturday night was highly pleasing and well played. The house was crowded with people from Oregon City and vicinity, and the proceeds came to a good round sum. Besides the little play, music, singing and speaking entertained the audience, and all present tendered every event hearty applause. Prof. Blatt, who has taught the school for some time has one of the very best schools in the county and his pupils all show great advancement. Perhaps in a few weeks another similar entertainment will be given.

CHAUNTAQUA PEAKS.—The managers of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association are awake and busy at work making plans to entertain their guests this season as never before. Much of the program has not as yet been made up, but the talent procured is very fine and will surpass anything of former years. United States Senator J. P. Doliver, of Iowa, is to return on "Public Virtue as a Question of Policy." Karl Gerhardt, the magician of rare talent, will appear, and Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, of Beecher's Plymouth church, Brooklyn, has been procured. The whole session will be highly entertaining, and all who attended in the past will be justified and doubly paid in returning this season.

DEATH OF MRS. FREY.—Friday night Mrs. G. Frey passed away at her home in this city. Death was caused by a severe attack of pneumonia, which lasted but two or three days. Mrs. Frey was a native of Germany, being born in the year 1848. In 1872 she married Mr. George Frey, and has lived the greater part of her married life at Brownsville. She leaves five children, a husband and sister to mourn her death, besides many ardent friends, who hold her memory dear. The funeral services occurred at the family residence Sunday afternoon, and the interment was held in the Mountain View cemetery. The deceased lived a Christian life, and was an earnest worker and potent factor for good wherever her presence was felt.

AARON JONES SPOKE.—Willamette hall was crowded last Thursday afternoon. Grangers from all over Clackamas county were here to listen to Aaron Jones, national master of the Grange. Mr. Jones is an eloquent and convincing speaker and delighted his audience. He said that the Grange was making rapid strides in membership, and that this year the grand total would reach 600,000. There are 5,000,000 farmers in the country," he said, "and there are 30,000,000 persons depending on the farming industry. Our order has been in existence 30 years, and is stronger now than ever. It has become a power in legislation, and is in a good position to demand the enactment of laws for the betterment of the farmer. "In former years men tried to get into the order for the purpose of advancing themselves in political preferment, but we have eliminated these now, and expect to keep them out. We are careful as to whom we admit into the order, and the fact of a man being engaged in farming alone does not alone make him eligible. We work for the betterment of conditions, for more intelligence in farming; and guard against all elements that tend to disrupt." Mr. J. has a 600-acre stock ranch near South Bend, Ind. His grown children run the ranch, which he says pays well nowadays. His own time is taken up with the interest of the order. He has been national master for five years. Mr. Jones is accompanied by E. G. Leedy, master of the state grange, and they left Friday morning for Mr. Leedy's home in Tigerville. From there they go to Macleay and Salem. Mr. Jones leaves Thursday for Rainier, and then begins a tour of the state of Washington.

SAFER AND BETTER

Never send money by mail. A bank draft is always safer; it is also better in other ways. We sell the drafts; they are good throughout the United States and Canada. Our charges are low.

THE BANK OF OREGON CITY

OREGON CITY, OREGON.

TO ALTER CHURCH—Work will soon be commenced to alter the inside of the Congregational church. The work will consist chiefly of calcimining the walls and revarnishing the woodwork. This church is one of the most artistic in the city, and it is the intention of the lay workers to keep its reputation up. The ladies of the church who have done and are doing so much towards the upbuilding of the church, will go to Portland and purchase carpet for the main auditorium, as the old is quite worn.

WILL DISPENSE WITH WOOD.—In the near future the Crown Mill, which has been for so long burning wood in its furnaces, will substitute an immense oil tank to take the place of the burning of wood. Wood has always been a source of great expense and has required many men to handle it. When this new tank is erected the expenses will probably be reduced quite a third. The tank will probably hold 300,000 gallons, and is to be made of granite. The Willamette will probably follow suit soon and put in a couple of big tanks to do the work of wood.

DON'T FORGET IT.—It may be well to remind our friends of the entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. this Friday evening under the auspices of the Oregon City Normal college. The program will be interesting consisting of songs, recitations, instrumental selections and debates. The Y. M. C. A. has been prepared to hold this entertainment in as the college will hardly seat the audience. The object of this affair is to get funds for an organ and every body is invited. Admission 15 cents. The debate is on the question of whether women ought to have suffrage and the speakers are all wide awake and interesting.

IMPROVEMENTS EVERYWHERE.—Very noticeable is the improvement constantly going on in this city. Every block almost is having some kind of a new building erected on it, and new store buildings, warehouses and sidewalks are everywhere appearing as unmistakable signs of the city's prosperity. The Eastham school will soon build an addition to the building proper; the electric line is soon to commence the erection of an immense depot. Sidewalks are being built and renewed all over the city, and new residences every day appear to view. Along several streets new water pipes will soon be laid, where there have never been water mains before, and several old pipes, which have outlived their usefulness, are being replaced with new ones.

VIOLA ROAD.—A report made at the board of trade meeting, Monday night shows that the Viola road fund is growing and will soon reach the required amount. The farmers living along the road, who have offered to raise $1500, have already $1000, and will easily raise the $500 remaining. To show the prosperity of the times, and to show, too, how earnest these good people are in this matter, it might be stated that some of these men are making contributions amounting to as much as $50. The business men in this city will be asked to contribute some towards this road, and this, together with what the county is to contribute, will almost be enough to pay for the building of the roadway. The road is to be made of plank and gravel, and will be one of the very best in the county.

FIREMEN'S BANQUET.—All the fire companies of the city have agreed to hold a banquet in a few days and have a good time like the times had here a few years ago, when the men were all active in their interest for these things. Monday night the Catawacs held a meeting to see what they were going to do about uniting with the Hook and Fountains, and it was unanimously agreed to join in the move and have a grand supper. All three companies down town are united in the movement, and it remains now for the three hill companies to express themselves in favor of the undertaking, which they will do without a doubt. All the companies will contribute a small sum towards the feast, and in this way the burden of the expense cannot fall heavily on any one. It is to be exclusively a firemen's banquet, with special invitations to exempt firemen and old and new members. The evening will be pleasantly spent, and it will certainly be an affair of the season.

BOARD OF TRADE.—Monday night twenty business men met at the county court room for the purpose of organizing a board of trade and discussing plans for the same. A committee, consisting of about eight business men, made a report on the character of the board, its plans and object, which was unanimously adopted, and in the report was set forth the plan to form a corporation of two hundred shares, to consist of individual shares valued at $25 per share; subscribers to two shares to pay $5 cash on subscription and 50 cents per month, payable quarterly thereafter. The board is to be incorporated for four years, and will have among its members the most substantial business men in the city. Col. Drake and W. H. Killingsworth, of Portland, were present and delivered stirring addresses on the work of the board and its advantages to the city. The report also speaks of the value to the county of sending an exhibit to the Central Depot, Portland, where visitors can see the resources and products of the county, and thereby gain some idea of the wealth of Clackamas county. This, President Cross declares, will be done in the near future, and the very best products obtainable will be there on exhibit. At the next meeting a permanent organization will probably be effected, when a president, vice-president, secretary and treasury and nine trustees are to be elected.

GRAND BALL.—All lovers of the dance and good music may enjoy a grand dance to be given at the Armory on the evening of March 23rd. This ball is given by the Textile Union and is sure to afford a pleasurable evening to all who attend. Turney will furnish music and the affair is open to the public. Admission 50 cents for gentlemen, ladies free. This will probably be the last grand ball of its kind in the city this season, so none who enjoy such pleasure can afford to miss it.

EXONERATED HIM.—Federal Labor Union, No. 3768, held a special meeting last Tuesday night and exonerated its secretary, J. H. Howard, of the charges made against him by the local union of carpenters. About 125 members attended the meeting. No proof was produced as a foundation of the charges that Mr. Howard was unfair, dishonest and an enemy to organized labor. Howard was also accused of being a tool of Senator Brownell. The Carpenters' Union took action immediately upon the published statement by Mr. Howard that the resolutions condemning Brownell for his failure to secure the passage of an eight-hour law were not passed by the Federal Labor Union, but by a mass meeting of union men, attended by only 400 men, out of a total strength of nearly 1000 in the city.

SPECIAL MEETING.—A special meeting of the city council was held Tuesday night to act on the matter of putting another sewer. The first thing that came up for discussion was the ordinance for establishing sewer district No. 3. This district includes most of the city north of 7th St. The ordinance was unanimously passed. Then followed another ordinance for the appointment of three appraisers. This ordinance passed and Messrs. Bittner, F. T. Griffith and E. G. Casfield were appointed. The duty of these three men is to make an assessment of the cost of the sewer to the individual property owners along the proposed sewer district. Another matter of interest to the people of this city was the report of Engineer Kauls on the building of the road over the bluff on the south end of the city. It was announced in this report that to work a tunnel under the S. P. track would cost about $9500 and to build an elevated roadway over the track would cost $5000 or thereabouts. This was the gist of the principal business done by the council at this time. The next regular meeting will be the first Wednesday in April.

A MEETING OF SOLDIERS.—Last Saturday evening there occurred at the residence of Josiah Howell, at Canemah, a meeting of four old Indian war veterans who hadn't for many a moon seen each other. The four distinguished and battle scarred veterans were George W. Miller, of Dayton, Washington; Robert Miller, and J. Cole, of Lion county and Josiah Howell. These four veterans had served in the Indian wars of '55 and '56 during the time when the Indians gave the people of this coast so much difficulty, and this meeting, at this advanced day, was the first experienced since they were discharged and returned to peaceful pursuits of life. All four of the men are over seventy-two years of age and each has seen more than his share of experience with his musket. The meeting, at this time, was reminiscent and highly enjoyable. Old times when the Indian wars were at their height, were the subjects of supreme interest and the way these four old comrades unearthed things long forgotten wasn't slow in the least. They ate and drank and made merry all day Saturday and part of Sunday and departed Sunday evening feeling that it had truly been good to be there. We make mention of this event with pleasure as it is seldom that we can record a meeting together of such venerable and honored men as these who took an active part in our Indian wars so long ago when the country was in its earliest stage of growth.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose. Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TO ADVERTISE THE COUNTY.—The new board of trade recently organized is to have an exhibit of Clackamas County products at the Central depot Portland, where new comers from the East and South can see what we raise in this county and so be induced to come here. This is a needed move and it has not been done before. Every other county in the state, almost, is zealously vigilant along these lines and its certainly time Clackamas got in line and began to let visitors see what we have here of value to home seekers.

DEATH OF GOOD MAN.—In the death of G. W. Jones, this county loses one of the most highly respected citizens ever known in these parts. Mr. Jones lived in this city for a long time and has been more or less active in steam boating for over 20 years. The deceased was 62 years old and leaves one of the most highly respected families in Oregon City. The funeral services occurred at the home of the deceased's son, Linn E. Jones, and Rev. A. J. Montgomery, an old friend of the late Mr. Jones officiated. Mr. Jones has always had many friends in Oregon City among both old and young and his death brings a tinge of the deepest sadness to a great many who knew him well.

I got one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and in three days the discharge stopped. It is the best medicine I have used for catarrh. Proberta, Cal. FRANK E. KINDLESTEIN.

A LIVELY TIME.—Judge Fouts had quite a time the other day in getting one Mrs. Seol to leave a house which he had rented to her. The Judge decided that he didn't care to have the woman remain longer in his house and as there was no contract or understanding as to how long she was to have possession, he went to her house and requested her to leave as he had other tenants for the house who would pay better rent and therefore be more desirable occupants. But Mrs. Seol was not disposed to go and she told the judge just what she thought of him in language not the most elegant and not to be misunderstood. All one day the owner of the place staid around the premises and at every opportunity would confront the tenant with the question of when she was going to give up possession to him? At last after a day of altercation, mingled with hot words on the part of the bold tenant, the judge got her consent to leave and she wasn't long getting out when once she started. The judge showed her he meant business and when once this had been impressed on her she decided that the best thing for her to do was to get out and seek another abode.
