THE CONVENTION

Clark's Opposition to Brownell
Proves Futile.

TURNED DOWN AT CONVENTION

All Delegates Agree to Support Brownell and to Stay With Him to the End.

Saturday afternoon the Republican county convention was held in Williamette hall with one hundred and forty-three delegates present from the various precincts throughout Clackamas County. James U. Campbell called the meeting together as temporary chairman but was superseded by C. A. Miller from the West Side, who was elected chairman of the meeting. Tom F. Randall was secretary.

At the outset of the meeting James U. Campbell offered a ticket to the convention containing thirty-three names, with room to insert new names or make desired changes. This ticket, on motion, was declared the official list.

At this juncture C. F. Clark arose and was about to have the convention accept a plan like this, giving each delegation the right to determine who from its ranks should represent the county at Eugene. This suggestion which the fervent Clackamas orator made did not, however, meet with the approval of James U. Campbell, who moved that the resolution be given a place of repose on the table. Mr. Clark couldn't see it that way and at that critical moment, when he saw his pet idea about to fall through, he rose and taking off his over coat, took up his doctored cause and with a mighty show of oratory told the people how he was opposed to the "trust" and "monopoly." He wanted the delegates to understand that he was in favor of everything that built up Oregon and kept the power in the hands of the common people. This kind of oratory was very fine but many of the gentlemen present, somehow failed to be moved by the young man's fine work and when a vote was cast the Campbell faction had the votes decidedly in their favor.

The following are the delegates elected with their respective votes:
James Dickey, 84; William Sheahan, 75; J. L. Kruse, 94; G. B. Dimick, 100; C. U. Barlow, 68; W. W. Smith, 76; Ed. Johnson, 77; C. G. Huntley, 107; Adam Knight, 95; Frank Jagger, 101; Dr. C. B. Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures. Geo. A. Harding.

Death of Mrs. Ann E. Gurley.

In Arlington, Oregon, on April 3, 1903, at the residence of her son, S. A. D. Gurley, occurred the death of Mrs. Ann E. Gurley, an old and respected pioneer of Oregon.

Mrs. Gurley's maiden name was Ann Eliza Baldwin. She was born in Cleveland, Ohio, December 12, 1828, and in 1850, at Cleveland, she married Dr. O. V. Gurley. Some years afterward they moved to Jasper County, Iowa, where the family resided for eleven years, when they crossed the plains and came to Oregon, arriving here in 1865 and settling in the vicinity of Canby, this county. Dr. Gurley died at Canby on July 8, 1872. Mrs. Gurley was the mother of four children, two girls and two boys. One of the girls died in Ohio when a baby; the other daughter married and died in Clackamas County some few years ago. The boys, George A. Gurley and S. A. D. Gurley, survive their mother. Mrs. Gurley and the two sons resided at Canby for many years, until about eleven years since the younger son moved to Arlington, and a few years since the other son removed to Wasco County. Mrs. Gurley has for some years made her home with her youngest son, S. A. D. Gurley, where she died.

Mrs. Gurley was known to all of the old citizens of Canby and vicinity, and was universally respected and loved by all who knew her. Her many ministrations and visits to the sick in her neighborhood will long be remembered with gratitude by those who knew her. Her remains were brought to the old home place Canby, for burial, and the great throng of old-time friends who were there to mingle their sorrow and respect testified to the high esteem in which she was held. The grave was banked with beautiful flowers, silent, sweet emblems of love. Rev. Carstens, a former pastor at Arlington, who had known Mrs. Gurley well, delivered a most beautiful and touching funeral address at the grave.

In the death of Mrs. Gurley Oregon has lost a true, affectionate and kind mother and wife, a noble, upright, estimable lady, whose memory will be fondly cherished by all who knew her.

A noble, spotless, white-robed soul has taken its flight to the beautiful land beyond, but the world has been made better by her kindness.

The John Burroughs Society.

To the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, County Superintendents, and Principals of the Elementary Schools of the State of Oregon:

Gentlemen and Ladies: The John Burroughs Society of Portland has, through the generosity of Mrs. Rosa E. Burrell of this city, two cash prizes to award for knowledge of the native birds of Oregon. These prizes are given yearly to the classes of the highest grade in the elementary schools of the state.

The first prize is $12, the second $8 to be awarded to those who can name the most birds by sight and song, and who write a sufficiently excellent composition on the subject. The relative markings for the two examinations will be, upon a scale of 100, 60 per cent for the field test and 40 per cent for the composition test. That is, actual knowledge of the birds will count for more than excellence in composition.

The competition is open to the class graduating in June. The compositions must be in the hands of the corresponding secretary of the John Burroughs Society, 634 Williams Avenue, Portland, Oregon, not later than June 1.

Any subject based upon personal observation of our native birds will be acceptable. One particular bird may be selected for study; or some such subject as the following may be chosen: "Nests of Oregon Birds," "Feeding Habits of Our Native Birds," "Bird Friends of the Farmer," etc. In all observations time and place should be carefully recorded.

The field examinations will be given the last week in May and the first week in June. All who send compositions will be considered as applicants for a field examination, and the address of each writer should be enclosed with the composition.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE H. GILBERT, President.

Faster Day at Congregational Church.

The auditorium of the Congregational church has been beautifully decorated, a new carpet has been laid and the wood work repainted during the last month. So on next Sunday morning the congregation will meet in its usual place instead of the lecture room where the services were held for a number of Sundays. All the friends of the church are cordially invited to the services of the day. There will be no special solicitation for funds as all the expenditures for the improvements are being provided for privately. The following will be the services: The pastor will preach the sermon at seven o'clock in the morning, taking the theme, "Victory Over Death and the Grave." At 10:30 new members will be received and the Lord's Death commemorated. The special musical numbers will be an anthem, "Now is Christ Risen," by Gabriel; a vocal solo, Mrs. Kate Ward Pope, "The Risen King," Lord; violin solo, Miss Anna English, "The Holy City." At 12 the Sunday school will render appropriate Easter exercises. At 7:30 the choir will give an Easter praise service, the numbers of which will be announced later. Among the items of this program will be vocal solos by Miss Maysie Foster and Mrs. W. B. Wiggins.

A Jest of Fortune.

Here is one of the merry jests Fortune likes to play upon mankind: A dry-man got seven hundred shares of Calumet stock and kept it until it was worth over half a million dollars, meanwhile continuing calmly to drive his dray. The man whose genius and industry discovered the mine, created its organization and launched it upon its wonderful career had 27,082 shares and could not keep any of them. He found himself reduced to poverty, when a single month's dividends on his former holdings would have made him rich—From "Romances of the World's Great Mines," in the April Cosmopolitan.

Our correspondents will please send in articles before Wednesdays of each week, otherwise it reaches us too late for publication.

THE LUMPY JAW

Exists at Baker City Caused
From Diseased Cattle.

PATIENTS NOW UNDER TREATMENT

Authorities are Looking Into the Matter to Place the Responsibility of the Disease.

BAKER CITY, Or., April 8.—The city council, at the request of Dr. Parker, city health officer, has decided to have an investigation made for the purpose of determining if actinomycosis, or lumpy jaw, prevails among cattle ranges in this county tributary to this market. There is no longer any doubt about the dread disease having claimed several human victims.

Two prominent citizens, Mr. Stone and Mr. Bowman, died several months ago from the effects of lumpy jaw. Neither of these gentlemen contracted the disease in this city, although they were both residents of this county. Both patients visited Portland and were examined by physicians there, and were told that the disease had progressed so far that there was no hope of their recovery. They returned home and soon after died. Since that time there have been a number of other cases developed, some of which have been fatal.

Three patients are at present under the care of Dr. J. P. Atwood, who has treated six or seven cases during the past year. One of his patients, a lady from North Powder, was recently operated on at the hospital. The disease made its appearance on the breast, and it was necessary to remove three of the ribs. Dr. Atwood says that it attacks the bones as well as the flesh. In every case the human bones are honeycombed just the same as the jawbone of cattle.

Dr. Atwood said today that in acute cases it usually proved fatal in about one year. If it appears externally at first, to effect a cure by operating, if it is possible it is necessary to remove all of the diseased flesh and bone. If it develops internally, say in the lungs or intestines, it is always fatal. One peculiarity about the disease is that it always moves in a straight line from the point of development, like a ballet, passing through bones and flesh in its line of progress. Dr. Atwood has one case now, that of a little girl, where the disease appeared externally on the face. He has operated on it, removing all of the diseased flesh, and hopes that he has affected a permanent cure.

Dr. S. F. Herdine, of this city, has made a careful microscopic examination of the bacillus taken from a human patient and compared with the bacillus from an animal afflicted with lumpy jaw, or lumpy jaw, as it is commonly known, and he said this afternoon that there could be no mistake about the disease in the human patient, being the same in character as lumpy jaw in cattle. Dr. McDaniel also confirmed the statement that the disease has developed in patients that have come under his observation.

A prominent stockman said today that he did not think there was anything in the stories about lumpy jaw in human patients. He said he had often given lumpy jawed steers to Indians and they had eaten the meat, lumpy jaw and all, and it never harmed them. He knew the disease existed, and while he would not himself eat the meat of an afflicted steer nor sell it for meat, he did not think it a menace to people.

When told that the State Veterinarian was coming over, he said he would have a hard time to find any lumpy-jawed cattle, because the cattle-owners would be very apt to find them first.
