KIDNEY CURE.

There is no disease so insinuating, so slow but sure, as kidney disease, or so wide-spread. The symptoms are so slight as to generally escape notice.

The first indications appear in the urine, with varied effects. The quantity may be increased or decreased; it is likely to be highly colored and scalding; it may be pale or thin, or thick and milky with a sediment.

Poisonous waste matter is collected by the blood from all parts of the system and carried to the kidneys, where it is separated and cast out through the urine.

Five Knot, Ky., June 25, 1902. The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., Dayton, O. Gentlemen: I had a severe case of typhoid fever six years ago, which left my kidneys in bad order.

There are thousands of just such cases as the above that are treated without results because they are wrongly treated.

An awful crime was committed here Tuesday morning right in broad daylight. Between nine and ten o'clock, an unknown man, armed with a revolver entered the home of Colonel Bair, seized and overpowered his daughter, and after ravishing her, left for parts unknown.

STATE WILL BUILD FISH LADDER.

Salmon Will Be Enabled to Reach Upper Willamette.

State Fish Warden Van Dusen was in Oregon City Thursday looking up the preliminaries in connection with a fishway over the falls. This fishway will consist of a trench dug across the island at the falls, which is the property of the General Electric Company of Portland.

The fishway will be about 200 feet long and is to be wide enough for the salmon to ascend with ease, the incline being as slight as is practicable in order to enable the salmon to reach the upper river, where they have been comparative strangers heretofore.

The fish warden hopes to have the inclined canal in operation this fall, but does not know yet how much blasting will be necessary in its construction or exactly how many cubic yards of rock will have to be removed.

The state legislature of 1903 made an appropriation of $5000 with which to build the ladder that Fish Warden Van Dusen now proposes to construct.

FAILED TO CONVICT

Two Verdicts of Acquittal in Criminal Cases.

Paul Schroder Acquitted of Serious Charge.—Young Phogley Also Released.—Many Divorces.

The jury in the case of State of Oregon vs. Paul Schroder, charged with rape, returned a verdict of not guilty Tuesday evening, after deliberating for thirty minutes over the testimony introduced at the trial.

The trial of the case was attended by the usual throng of curious male spectators, whose interest in the disgusting details of the trial admitted of not the slightest measure of sympathy for the ignorant, innocent child who was in the court-room during the hearing and held the illegitimate child in her arms.

MR DRESSER TAKES CHARGE.

Succeeds C. G. Moores in the Oregon City Land Office.

The formal transfer of the Oregon City land office from C. G. Moores to his successor, Hon. A. S. Dresser, of this city, takes place this morning. When seen Thursday, Mr. Dresser stated that he did not expect at this time to make any great changes in the force of clerks and assistants employed in the office.

Mr. Dresser, who today assumes charge of the local land office as register, needs no introduction to the people of this section, where he has resided for fifteen years and formed a wide acquaintance with the people of the entire county in both a professional and a political capacity.

Mr. Dresser has not only been active in professional circles, but he has always been a live and aggressive worker and has taken an interest in the political affairs of the state and county. He has always been an enthusiastic Republican and a hard worker in that party's interests.

Mr. Dresser's family consists of a wife, who lives in this city and two daughters, whose homes are in Maine. Mr. Dresser is known to be possessed of all the necessary qualifications for conducting the business of the land office department, and his friends congratulate him on his accession to that office.
