Elmer Thompson had a lively runaway Saturday.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat. BOTTLES ONLY. $1.00 Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50 cents. Prepared by E. Q. DeWITT & CO., CHICAGO

Molalla.

More rain. More good weather is wanted as there is much grain out in the shock yet.

G. V. Adams' wheat yielded 42 bushels per acre.

They finished picking at the Moore hop yard yesterday.

The Mosberger and Lowery hop yards have also been completed, with a half yield for all of them.

Wm. J. E. Vich has been on the sick list but is now on the road to recovery.

Dr. Leavitt is now located in his new office, where he has more room.

Miss Nettie Wilets, of Portland, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. T. M. Cross, returned to her home last Sunday.

There is a family from Portland just moved into the Wm. Dart house, South Molalla, where they expect to spend the winter and stay until they build on their own land recently purchased in the southwest part of this precinct.

Miss Mattie R. Leavitt has just returned home from the teachers institute in Washington, where she has been re-elected to teach for the next school year.

Another railroad survey was run last week through this country about two miles west of this town. A splendid grade was secured, 1 per cent or less, over the basin and Everhart tully, through the Ogle pass; the route is from a big belt of timber beyond Crooked Finger Prairie through this country to Portland.

The surveying party will be near Oregon City by the time this appears in print.

A Communication

Mr. Enron—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. BROCKMAN, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by G. A. Harding, druggist.

Eldorado.

C. C. Maricle passed through here Sunday.

Wm. Austen and father, of Liberal, passed through here Sunday looking for cattle.

A Purgative Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell, of Houston, Tex., says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc." Sold by G. A. Harding.

Union Hall.

Mrs. Friar and daughter Anna, old time residents of this place but now from Dicky Prairie, are picking hops at Gahlers.

Mrs. Ora Jackson and daughters passed through here Sunday enroute for Woodcock's hop yard at Handy.

For Young Men and Young Women.

There is nothing that will arouse the ire of a young man or woman so quick as to have inferior laundry work put off on them. They may dress ever so well, but if their shirt front or shirt waist is mussy, their neat appearance is spoiled. The Troy Laundry makes a specialty of ladies' and gentlemen's fine work. There can be no better work than is done at the Troy. Leave your orders at Johnson's barber shop.

Loans.

Real property and chattel mortgage loans. Abstracts furnished. G. B. DUMICK, Atty. at Law, Oregon City, Or.

Miss Dollie Kendall returned home Friday, after a several months' visit with friends in Eastern Oregon.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by Charman & Co., druggists.

Dover.

Saturday was a very stormy day and it still continues. There is a great deal of grain out and it will soon all spoil if this weather still continues.

Quarterly meeting next Saturday and Sunday, September 12 and 13. Everybody is invited.

We need a good teacher at the school.

Mrs. A. J. Kitzmiller and Mrs. Wilcox and son went to Portland last Wednesday.

Roy Sherman went home after spending a few weeks' vacation with George Kitzmiller.

The Finishing Touch.

The small boy with his eyes open often knows more of things as they are than the artist who draws things as they are not. An illustrator who is winning laurels by his fine work maintains that his most valuable critic is his son, a boy of twelve.

He knows little about drawing, says the artist, but he has a quick sense for beauty and a keen imagination as well. Not long ago I had to make a drawing of a street full of people running to a fire. I flattered myself I had made a lifelike and moving scene and submitted it to my boy with a feeling of satisfaction.

He surveyed it for a moment, hands in his pockets, head on one side. Then he said:

"The people are all right, but where's the dog?"

"The dog?" I inquired. "What dog?" "Any dog," he said in a tone of pity for my dullness. "Why, father, don't you know there's always at least one dog running alongside and getting under everybody's feet when you're going to a fire? Haven't you ever been to a fire, father, or seen a crowd going to one?"

When I thought it over I knew he was right, and the dog went in—Youth's Companion.

A Business Epitaph.

Amusing epitaphs are not difficult to find if one is seeking them. The Chesire Republican cites a most singular one which may be found on a monument in eastern Tennessee:

Sacred to the memory of John Smith, for twenty years senior partner of the firm of Smith & Jones, now J. J. Jones & Co.

The names are not really Smith and Jones, but they will answer for the purposes of the story. "I met Jones later," says the narrator, "and he gave me a frank explanation of the inscription.

"Smith was a bachelor without relatives," he said, "but he knew a tremendous lot of country people, and if any of them happened to see his grave they might think that the old house had closed up and gone out of business. So I thought it no more than right to let them know that the firm was still alive."

No Doubt About It.

A kind hearted lady saw a small boy seated on one of the benches in Fairmount park the other day smoking a cigar which she afterward told a friend seemed almost as big as himself. The lady is an enthusiastic anti-tobacco worker and never loses an opportunity to impress, especially upon youthful minds, the evils of using tobacco in any form.

Sending herself by the side of the lad, she said kindly, "Oh, my boy, wouldn't your father be dreadfully pained if he saw you smoking that cigar?"

"Rather think he would," responded the twentieth century young man without removing the weed from his mouth. "This is one of his best cigars."

SELF INDUCED AILMENTS. The Folly of Nursing the Habit of Not Feeling Well. Few people realize that their ailments are largely self induced, says O. S. Marden in Success. They get into a habit of not feeling well. If they get up in the morning with a slight headache or some other trifling indisposition, instead of trying to rise above this condition they take a positive pleasure in expatiating upon their feelings to any one who will listen. Instead of combating the tendency to illness by filling the lungs with pure, fresh air they dose themselves with "headache tablets" or some other patent specific warranted to cure whatever ill they think they are suffering from. They begin to pity themselves and try to attract pity and sympathy from others. Unconsciously by detailing and dwelling upon their symptoms they re-enforce the first simple suggestions of illness by a whole army of thoughts and fears and images of disease until they are unfitted to do a day's work in their homes or offices. There is greater danger that young girls who are delicate while growing up and lounge around the house and lie down whenever they feel the least bit out of sorts will form a habit of invalidism when they reach maturity. How often do we see such girls "brace up" at once when anything happens which interests or excites them! An invitation to a reception or a ball or any other pleasant social function acts like a tonic. For the time being an instantaneous cure is effected. They are as well as anybody until after the entertainment. Indulgent mothers are frequently to blame for this physical and mental laziness, for it is nothing more, on the part of their daughters. A lounge or sofa is a positive curse in many a home, because it is such a temptation to lie down and succumb to trifling suggestions of illness or the least indisposition. A habit of giving in whenever you "don't feel like it" is fatal to all achievement and ruinous to self discipline, self poise and nobility and dignity of bearing. THE AURORA BOREALIS. A Spectacle That is Magnificent in Its Impressiveness. It was a trifle past the afterglow of sunset, and the sea was a deep rich purple, with long flowing swells. The sky, a fine light turquoise blue at horizon, gradually deepened into a rich cobalt, in which a few stars twinkled. A majority of the men were absorbed in various occupations below when a call of enthusiasm brought all up on deck. At a point low on the southwest horizon a faint film had arisen, which quickly, silently assumed the form of a curtain, waving and mounting upward in two stately columns past a group of finely shaped cirrostratus. In a few seconds it was across the zenith, displaying beautiful pale yellows, greens and delicate pink and blue lights, with edgings at intervals of faint purple and red. The columns descended rapidly in ever varying spirals of perspective until the avant guard was lost behind the far northwest horizon. We were about off the Danish port of Godthaab, Greenland, a sufficiently southern latitude at this season for the alternation of day and night, and as the heavens darkened the stars shone with increasing brightness through this great shimmering veil of light. The heavens and the sea grew darker and darker, and the aurora brighter and brighter by lightning changes of form and color, with the green and yellow and blue rays predominating and the delicate stream from the aurora's light writhing in fiery serpent forms over the face of the moving waters. What impressiveness, what magnificence! It held the soul as in a spell. There was not much talking. Splendid as it was, I afterward witnessed auroras which produced a deeper impression, due doubtless to the presence of the long night of the far north—Century.
