ari Davenport Receives Frightful

-Wil or.

Earl Davenport, of this city, met with horrible accident at noon Saturday, he cog wheel of a donkey engine and a ole torn in the back at the base of the pine large enough to admit a man's lead, while the spinal cord was broken nd in places ground to bits. It will be dered miraculous if the young man servives the injury.

Davenport is 23 years of age and has several weeks beed employed with a ridge building gang for the Southern wific Company in the construction of a ridge across the Clackamas river near his city. During the noon hour Davenni was esated on the engine eating his mch, when, in the absence of both the ogineer and the fireman, some meddleome boys without warning started the machinery with the result that the young nan was thrown backwards between the iler and the cog-wheel so that he was obably fatally injured before the ense could be stopped. Although so serrsly injured, Davenport remained consions and directed his fellow workmen abo brought the injured man to this city, so miles distant. The railroad com ny sent a special train to this city and he young man, accompanied by his parats, was taken to the company's hospi

The Young People's Society of Chris tian Endeavor is congratulating its self on the results of the Increase Movement, which on July, had resulted in a gain of 2,462 new societies in the United States 10 00 in eight months. Seventeen states have gained more than ten per cent and many nearly as much. Now the plan is to keep up the campaign for ten per cent for ten years. For the first ten per cent. the state receives a banner bearing a single star; an additional star for each ten per cent. added, and a crescent for two hundred new societies.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills. Read a case of it: Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, who resides a 780 Corbett St., Portland, says: "I have been afflicted with kidney trouble for thirty years, and for the past twenty years I have never been entirely from it in some form or other. I suffered terribly from backache and could hardly stoop over and get up again, Trouble from the kidney secretions existed. At times I was greatly bloated, my feet swelled to twice their natural size and l was seldom without a plaster on my back to ease the pain. . and used more medicines than any one person could carry. I had read so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I concluded to give them a trial and got a box. I was a good subject with a case of such long standing, and I thought if they helped me I could safely recommend them to others. I used them faithfully and the results were satisfactory in every way. Poan's Kidney Pills are a wonder.

They did me more good than any other remedy I ever used." Plenty more proof like this from Oregon City people. Call at C. G. Hunt-ley's drug store and ask what his customers report.

FINE INDUSTRIAL DISPLAY

At Portland's Fall Carnival by Merchants and Manufacturers.

Industrial Street at Portland's big Fall Carnival, September 14 to 26 inclusive, will be a revelation. It has been many years since the merchants and manufacturers of Portland have had an opportunity of making an exhibit of their products and wares. Considerable rivalry is being entered into and much money spent to make the exhibits as unique and attractive as possible. Many magnificent booths are being erected and this feature of the carnival alone will be worth double what it will cost to see everything.

Rateing a Paise Issue A story well known to lawyers of the last generation is about the "umbrella case." A man was charged with steal ing an umbrella, and a number of witnesses went into the box to testify to the offense. The counsel for the defendant noted that each witness carried an umbrella (the time of year was midsummer, which explains the necessity for these impedimenta). As a matter of fact the prisoner had no de fense to make. The barrister, thrown on his wits, exclaimed: "Gentlemen of the jury, did you not notice that each of the witnesses carried an umbrella into the box? Why is this, gentlemen? It is done in order to infect your minds with the idea of an umbrella, to prejudice the prisoner in your eyes, to raise 'a false issue,' and I appeal to you to signify your detestation of this concerted action by bringing in a verdict of not guilty." The judge, who imagined that little attention would be paid to such a plea, took little time and less pains to sum up the case. The jury nevertheless brought in a verdict in accordance with the resourceful barrister's wishes.-London News.

Ibsen's Gruffness,

In 1891 Georg Brandes happened to be with some friends at Sandviken, near Christiania, when they heard that Ibsen was staying at the local hotel. They decided to invite him to dinner, but he declined when he was told that there would be nine persons at the banquet. "I never dine with so large n party," he said. Finally he was persuaded to say "Yes," but in the meantime the number of persons whose request to be present Brandes could not possibly refuse had grown to twentytwo. Ibsen was furious when he discovered this, but Brandes managed to get him to the dining room, where, however, the poet looked so forbidding that champagne had to be served immediately after the soup to give courage to the guests. Ibsen acted like a bear all the evening. When one of the guests, an actress, remarked that she liked his roles better than any others he answered gruffly: "I do not write any roles. I represent characters, and I never work for any actor or actress."

The London Globe contains a number of amusing answers to a recent examination for office boys in a government office. Some of the descriptions of a volcano are graphic:

The most flattering answer runs as follows: "The boundaries of England are united states america and Europe." "Latitude and Longitude," said another student, "are terms used to describe certain spots on the sea."

Had to Keep on Building. The Canadian Magazine has a story os of a building reputed to be the highest west of Chicago. The projector found some need of outside help in financing his expenses and every Saturday used to exchange checks with a friend to pay his building expenses. At last his friend got tired of these transactions and said: "Major, I've had enough of your checks. You've got that building high enough already. Why don't you roof it in?" "I can't afford to put the roof on," said the major. "You see, I have contracted to pay for the material when I get it roofed in."

The Best Way to Preserve a Body. There is no other way in which a body can be preserved so long, leaving freezing and mummification out of the question, as by burial in a lead coffin. If the receptacle is nirtight, lack of oxygen brings putrefaction almost if not quite to a pause, and the face of a defunct person may be recognizable after a long period of time. The attempts frequently made to destroy bodies by covering them with lime usually have the opposite effect, preserving them by keeping out the air .-London Answers

Nothing Known

Will Cure Kidney Diseases After They Have Fastened and Become Chronic But the Fulton Compounds. We Have Secured the Sole Agency for This City.

Pulton's Renai Compound enjoys the unique distinction of being the only thing known that cures kidney trouble in all its stages from the primary inflammation up to and including the chronic stage called Bright's Disease, which has been, up to the advent of this Compound, positively incurable. Then why not start with the Benal Compound at first rather than ordinary kidney medicines, all of which fall short if the disease has reached the chronic state? Then you will know you are right. No statements are published by the Fulton people except cases that have reached the chronic stage, incurable by all other known medicines. Here is another recovery we are permitted to

Mrs. S. E. Cline of 1737 Broadway, San Francisco, was pronounced by her physician as incurably ill with kidney disease that had become chronic (Bright's Disease). She also had diabetes. Another physician was called in, Dropsy had set in, the nails came of and he too said nothing known would save her. She was so far beyond help they told her not to further forture herself by dieting. Bee went on the Fulton Compounds. The third week was slightly better. The third mosth the nails began to come back, and a few months later was well and began dropping the treatment. An attorney friend of Mrs. Cline, Judge E. H. Cuttor of 330 Pine street, San Francisco, had diabetes that is also incurable according to the books. Kno sing of her recovery he too took the Fulton Compounds and in eight meants regained his health and is now in active practice. Dropsy, rheumatism from uric acid, goat, pain in the back, diadder trouble, etc., are proofs that the kidneys are in trouble. The last stage is Bright's Disease and Diabetes. CHARMAN & CO., DRUGGISTS

He Had Followed Directions.

A little black boy sat on the soap box which served as a front step to the tumble down sharry. His skin was more than black. Here and there it looked as if it had been varnished. His fingers clung together when he attempted to open his hands, and films of silky sweetness were spun about him as he threw back his head and opened his mouth in epicurean ecstasy. Household Words explains this happy condition:

"Goodness, law!" exclaimed the old mammy, who came suddenly round the corner. "What yo' sittin' dat a-way for when I jes' been tryin' to clean yo' up? Ef yo' ain' went an' molassed yo'se'f f'm head to foot!"

"Yes'm. An' I look aroun', an' all de comb I could fin' was dis yere honeycomb. But I don use dat, mammy; I sho'ly did."

The Wonders of Color.

A small and simple experiment can be tried by any reader which will go far to convince him or her what a debt we owe to color and what a good thing it is we have sunlight, which enables our eyes to take advantage of th tiful hues of nature. Make a room quite dark and then burn some carbonate of soda in the flame of a bunsen gas burner. It will burn with an orange yellow light sufficiently strong to Illuminate everything in the room, but you will realize with a sudden shock that, bright though the light is, all distinctions of color have vanished. Only light and shade remain. A crimson carnation, a blue violet, a red tablecloth, a yellow blind-all look gray or black or white. The faces of those present look positively repulsive, for all natural color has disappeared. No other experiment will so well convince those who have witnessed it how great a loss would be that of our sense for color.

Oriental Weddings.

At wedding festivals in Arabia, Persin and Morocco the women guests hold carnival all day, sometimes several days, but the poor little bride is in a room by herself fasting. She is being "decorated." Depilatories and tweezersremove all superfluous hair. She is scrubbed with pumice stone; her toes, fingers and hair are stained with henns, and her face is daubed with red and bits of gold paper. An oriental maiden has no voice in the selection of her husband. She seldom sees him till she is his wife, and he is not supposed to see her face until she unveils after marriage. Sometimes Cupid gets ahead of parents and guardians, the "wind" blows the veil aside, and the young eyes meet. Then there is some anxious maneuvering that the elders may make the right selection.

Unique Way to Secure One's Pay. Tattooing is still a favorite personal decoration with some of the natives of Samos, though not so fashionable there as formerly. Those who practice the art have an effective way of securing their pay. The color extends from the waist to the knees, no other part of the body being marked. In the small of the back the design shades off to a point which is never finished by the tattooer till his bill has been paid. As the incomplete design is public evidence of the wearer's indebtedness the artist seldom has to wait long for his money.

Not the Genuine Kind. "I'm afraid she isn't cut out for a society woman."

"Why not?" "Well, she seems to have no idea of the pleasures of extravagance."-Detroit Free Press.
