Notice to Holiday Shoppers

We're After Your Money

We have several ways of inducing people to give up their dollars. For one, we conduct our business on the most progressive lines. Then we carry a stock so large that there is wide room for choice. We move our goods so rapidly that the stock is always new. No "has-beens" or "left-overs." It is our intention to make a Clean Sweep in our Toy Department—we will not handle any more toys in the future and will sell all TOYS AT COST or LESS THAN COST. We will also sell all our Fancy Crockery and Glassware at cost. Our Furniture, Carpets and Rugs are marked down. It is our intention to carry less stock for the future. We invite visitors, and are glad of a chance to show what a nice store and stock we have.

CAN YOU GUESS?

Then Take a Chance in the Prize Money Contest.

On Washington's Birthday the Enterprise Will Give Away Another Jar of Money.

Are you a good guesser? If so, and you can tell how much money a jar contains, you should not fail to participate in the prize money guessing contest that the Enterprise has provided for its present and prospective readers.

The Enterprise has decided to make some substantial presents to some of its subscribers. We have filled a glass jar with coins and currency of different denominations. The total amount contained therein will be given away on the afternoon of Monday, February 22, 1904, to the persons making the closest guesses as to the amount. The jar, filled with coin, is in the window of the Howell & Jones' drug store on Main street, where it may be viewed by persons desiring to make an estimate. There will be more than a "penny for your thoughts;" that is, of course, if you closely approximate the amount the jar contains.

Nobody is barred from taking part in the contest and the only requisite condition for participating therein is payment of subscription money on the Enterprise. In order that the contest may be equally fair to both old and new subscribers, one guess will be allowed for every $1.50 that is paid on subscription. If you are in arrears to the paper send us some money and accompany it with one guess for each year's subscription so sent. If you are not delinquent in your subscription, pay for a year in advance, and make a guess. If you are paid in advance, sign for the paper for a friend; at any rate manage to get a guess and win the money.

The amount of money that is contained in the jar is not known to any one. We placed the bulk of the money in the jar and the balance, in unknown denominations and also amount, was deposited in the jar by a person not connected with the office, the amount so placed by each being entirely unknown to the other.

The seal of the jar will be broken on the afternoon of February 22, next, and the award of the money will be made as follows:

- 50 per cent to the person guessing closest to the amount in the jar; 25 per cent to the person guessing second closest to the amount, and 5 per cent each to the next five persons guessing next closest to the total amount in the jar.

In arranging the details it has been the endeavor of the Enterprise to make the contest absolutely fair and with the aid of a disinterested party we think we have succeeded to the end that the best guesser is the man who will get the bulk of the amount contained in the jar.

All guesses must be delivered at the office of the Enterprise or mailed to the Enterprise, Oregon City, where they will be preserved until the contest closes.

The Enterprise had prepared one jar of money that was to be given away under these same conditions but some sneak-thief early last month appropriated the entire amount, jar and all, failing to make a guess, thereby violating every condition of the contest. But we have secured another jar that is the exact counterpart of the original dish and have filled it with approximately the same amount of money of practically the same denominations that Jar No. 1 contained. Those who deposited estimates on the original jar may allow the same to stand or they will have the privilege of examining the duplicate jar and make another estimate. The Enterprise is resolved to distribute a sum of money among its readers and will employ the usual precautions that the second contest may be conducted strictly according to the rules governing the scheme.

It is natural that in making purchases of every description, the investor desires only superior goods. If a suit of clothes or material for a dress is wanted, the intending purchaser goes to an established business house whose proprietor has made a reputation for handling only the best goods. If groceries are needed, the housekeeper considers quality rather than quantity. So it is with printing. Convinced that the best is none too good for the people of Oregon City and vicinity, the Enterprise recently ordered an extensive stock of the latest commercial and society stationery. The goods have arrived and with the new type that we have ordered, the Enterprise will be better prepared than ever before to supply the wants of this section in all kinds of job printing. We have a fine assortment of new and up-to-date stationery for dance invitations, programmes, parties, and all social functions. Our stock of wedding stationery was never more complete. We are particularly prepared to furnish window cards of attractive design for dances, public entertainments, etc. Our prices are consistent with good stock, faultless work and satisfactory service. Call at the office and let us show our samples. Orders by mail or telephone will receive prompt attention.
