

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

DO YOU WANT A GOOD MAP?

Subscribe For Enterprise and Oregonian and Get One Free.

Do you want a map of the Pacific Northwest? The Enterprise has made an arrangement with the Oregonian by which we can furnish a valuable map together with the Enterprise and the Weekly Oregonian for one year each, all for the remarkably low price of $2.25. The cost of the map alone is $2.50. The Enterprise has the exclusive right of introducing these maps into this county on a clubbing offer. Samples of the map may be seen at the Enterprise office and all orders sent in by mail will receive prompt attention.

The map is one of the best and most serviceable we have ever seen. It is a wall map and consists of four pages. Its dimensions are 28x36 inches. The first page contains a map of the world in connection with which is shown the comparative times and distances. All of the United States possessions are indicated by flags. This page also shows the arms and flags of the various nations of the world. Page two is devoted to large-sized maps of the states of Oregon and Washington, each state being shown by itself. On the reverse side of this page is given considerable statistical matter concerning the two states. In one column is arranged in alphabetical order all of the counties in each state together with the location in the state of the particular county together with the total population of that county. Following the list of the counties is given the names in alphabetical order also, of every city, town and postoffice in each state, the name of the county in which it is located and also the section of the state and the population of each. There is also shown on this page the new seal of the State of Oregon as adopted by the legislature last winter, together with some descriptive matter showing the respects in which the new differs from the old. Five separate maps are shown on the third page. They are Alaska, British Columbia, the Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands and the minor United States possessions in the Pacific Ocean. The fourth page shows a map of the United States, Idaho and the minor possessions of the United States in the Pacific Ocean, the map showing the best named land being larger and more useful than that on the preceding page. Arranged in alphabetical order on this page are also the counties and towns of the state of Idaho, together with their location and population.

The combination of these maps is worth the $2.50 for which it retails. They are printed on good map paper and will last a life time. The various drawings are richly colored and the map is a very creditable production. We will furnish these maps to Clackamas county people at $2.25 and include with them a subscription to the Enterprise and the Weekly Oregonian for one year in advance. This is a rare offer and one that will probably not be duplicated again. Call at the Enterprise office and see the map or mail us your subscription anyway. You will be sure to be pleased with the premium you will receive. Start the New Year off right by signing for the Enterprise, the best county paper, and the Oregonian, which for general news is not equalled in this section. Send in your subscriptions at once.

We cannot guarantee to prospective subscribers that this offer for the Oregonian and the Enterprise with the map as a premium, will hold good after January 1, next. So send in your subscription at once and take advantage of this unusually liberal offer that will probably not be duplicated again.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membrane lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Bell, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in my baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Retail only. $1.00 Size holding 2 1/2 times the liquid size, which sells for 50 cents. Prepared by E. O. DEWITT & CO., CHICAGO. Sold by G. A. HARDING, Druggist

THE SOUL CATCHERS.

A SINGULAR CUSTOM OF THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDERS.

The Way the Natives in the Days Before Civilization Had Fully Marked Them For Its Own Used to Get Even With Their Enemies.

A little while ago while turning over some mementos of many years spent in the Pacific islands I came across a small circle of fine cane about two inches in diameter. From the side toward the center a delicate network of the fibers of some plant was constructed, leaving a small hole in the center large enough for, say, a bee to crawl through. The article weighed less than a quarter of an ounce; yet, small and harmless as it appeared, it is not so very many years ago that it and others like it were objects of deadly terror to the natives of many of the Pacific islands, particularly those of Manahiki (Humphrey Island), for the simple looking thing was a "soul catcher"—that is, a destroyer of human life.

Manahiki is one of a group of low lying atoll islands to the north-west of Samoa, and its people today are about the best educated of all the Malayo-Polynesian people. They elect a king and parliament, have one of the most beautifully adorned churches in the Pacific islands, and nearly all the younger members of the community can now not only speak but read and write English. The island is for an atoll—unusually fertile and the people a fine, stalwart, handsome copper colored race. The main industries are the making of "copra" (dried coconut) and diving for pearl shell.

"Soul catching" in the heathen days, prior to 1833, could be and was practiced by any one who desired revenge or the life of an enemy. Indeed, although the people were nominally Christians in 1873, it was still in vogue. The modus operandi is very simple. Say that two men, Rika and Tetoro, quarrel. Rika accuses Tetoro of going out into the lagoon at night-time, lifting his (Rika's) fish traps and abstracting the contents. He therefore demands compensation. Tetoro denies the theft. The relatives of both men take sides, and the quarrel assumes all the elements of a feud with bloodshed. It may be that Tetoro is a man of means or chiefly rank and influence and treats his accuser with scorn.

"Very well," the injured Rika cries. "If I cannot get justice from you I shall snare your soul, and you will die of a wasting sickness."

Tetoro, even if he is innocent, begins to feel uneasy at this threat and, while vigorously denying the theft, offers Rika a present of a pig to end the matter. Rika's relatives at once clamor not only for their original demands, but for the pig as well. Possibly a free fight ensues, and Rika's people get badly used, and threats of "soul snaring" are heard on all sides.

Then Rika's wife makes the snare for Tetoro's soul. Taking her mat out into the village square or upon a well frequented road or path, she suspends the snare from the branches of trees or sticks placed in the ground in such a position that she can closely watch the orifice in the center of the square. Rika's friends, male and female, come with her. They bring food and eat it and throw fragments under the snare to attract the flies, with which the island is infested. If but one fly crawls through the hole Tetoro is a dead man, unless he suddenly gives in and allows himself to be bled, for not only do Rika's people watch the snare, but his own as well. No one of them would dare to attempt to destroy the snare. The death of the interloper by occult power would certainly follow.

And so for hours and hours—sometimes for days—many pairs of eyes watch the little circle of cane, and Tetoro and his friends are now ready to yield, but feel that still more extortionate demands may be made. Then at last a fly is seen to crawl through, and a shout goes through the village.

"Ua hope to lago! Ua hope to lago!" ("A fly has passed through.") Tetoro hears the cries and immediately imagines he feels ill. His wife and relatives crowd about him and try to cheer him up, but his face assumes a melancholy look, and as the time passes on he refuses his food. Perhaps he may confess that he did steal Rika's fish and tremblingly offer to make full restitution if Rika will catch a fly and make it go through the circle from the reverse side through which the first one entered voluntarily. Usually this is done, and what might have become a lasting family feud had Tetoro died of "funk" through being bewitched, ends up by the payment of so much property to Rika, and a feast for which both parties provide the viands.—Pall Mall Gazette.

No Good to the Landlord. The minister and the landlord were talking matters over about a person who wished to become one of the latter's tenants.

"Morally he is sound, but financially he is weak," said the minister.

"Ah, well," replied the factor, "in that case he's a good enough sitter for you, but no for me." And the negotiations were declared "off."—London Telegraph.

BIRTHDAY PRESENTS FOR Readers of the Enterprise

ON Monday afternoon, Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1904, The Enterprise will distribute a snug sum of money among its subscribers. We have placed on exhibition in the show window of Howell & Jones, the druggists, a glass jar filled with coin of all denominations and this money will be given away to the readers of The Enterprise on the afternoon of February 22, next. If you do not receive a cash gift on your birthday, manage to share the distribution of this money on Washington's anniversary.

Guess and Get the Money

The best guesser will get the bulk of the money but in this contest all will have an equal chance. Payment of subscription money on The Enterprise is the only requisite condition for those desiring to participate in the contest. In order that the old readers of The Enterprise may have an equal chance to share the division of the money with new subscribers, it has been decided to allow One Guess for each $1.50 in subscription that is paid for The Enterprise, whether the payment covers a delinquent subscription or is paid for the paper in advance.

Get Your Thinking Cap On

Somebody will get this money. Why should not you? No one knows the actual amount of money on deposit in the Jar. The Enterprise placed the bulk of the money in the Jar and the balance, in various denominations, was deposited therein by a person not connected with the paper, the amount so deposited by each being unknown to the other. The seal of the Jar will be broken on the afternoon of Monday, February 22, 1904, and distributed among the successful guessers.

50 Per Cent

OF MONEY TO PERSON making closest guess as to contents of the Jar. 25 per cent to the person making the second closest guess and 5 per cent each to the next five persons guessing in closest to the amount. In case of a tie, the amount involved will be divided. The contest will positively close at noon on Monday, February 22, 1904.
