Mrs. Peter Geyhenix of 925 Fillmore street. San Francisco became alarming of dropalcal. Her phresician had finally to tap her every few days. She was tapped mearly first times and finally told her hushand that she had Hright's Disease of the Kidneys, that it was in an advanced chronic a rate and beyond medical aid. Her heart also gave her the usual fruible and she was in such a serious condition the reliatives were sent for. They put her on Fulton's Compound. It stayed on the stomach, the first thing that had done so for a week. The second week the dropsy declined a fluid and the improvement was then gradual till her recovery was complete. The case was examined into the month of the round table room, where other clerks were distributing an average of 150,000 money orders issued annually, as vouchers.

Mrs. Thomas Christol of 426 Twenty-seventh street. San Francisco, was also swollen with dropay, as the result of chronic kidney disease to more than seventy-five pounds beyond her formal weight, and had to be moved in sheets and was close to death's door nithough she had four physicians. She was put on the Fullor Compounds. Three weeks showed improvement and in six mouths she was well, and permits this selection.

The 7000 volumes of the counts are kept. preserved also for a term of seven years.

The effect on the visiting congressmen was startling. They learned also that the majority of orders are for less than $2.50 each. For their issue third and fourth-class postmasters get the entire lee of three cents. First and secondclass postmasters employ high salaried clerks for this work, and the cost to the service is still greater. The paying of the orders, the bookkeeping, and the transmitting of them to Washington, entail a heavy outlay for salaries, withs 500 out a penny of compensating revenue; so that, in addition to the loss of time in going to the postoffice, applying for ney orders, and awaiting their issue, is this additional pecumiary loss to the 500 government.

When the tour of the office had been ended the visitors asserted that congress should, without delay, adopt some plan 3100 whereby this expensive and burdensome work could be reduced, or at least its enormous growth discouraged.

The remedy for much of this evil lies 750 in the adoption of the post check plan, as post check currency would require no 300 auditing. The bill emboying this plan is now before the house committee on postoffices. A favorable report on it is expected at an early day, and it is hoped 2000 that favorable action by the house will not long be delayed.

Humble Ple.

We often hear of eating "humble ple." In the old hunting days of "Merrie England," when a stag was brought down, the "quarry was broken" on the spot, the choice parts of the venison being reserved for the huntsmen, while the entralls, heart, liver, etc., called in the hunting language of the day the "numbles," were given to the common

Of these they made a pie called "numble ple." Hence to eat "numble ple" became to abase oneself-apologize abjectly. The transition from "numble pie" to "humble pie" was easy, especially in view of the significance of the word.

A Death Februing Plant.

That certain insects, birds, mammala and reptiles habitually pretend to be dead when danger threatens them is a well known fact, but it is generally believed that this stretagem is resorted to only by arimals. In South America. however, there is a plant-a species of mimosa-which resorts to death feignventing the grass esting animals from eating it. In its astural state this plant has a vivid green hue, but directly it is touched by a human finger or by any living animal it collapses into a tangle of apparently dead and withered stems.-Loadon Globe,

Holding Up a Bank.

Perhaps the first Confederate bank raided by Union soldiers was one at Charleston, Va., as Milroy was making his way up the Shenandoah valley.

"Rumming" was in its infancy then. but a dozen of the fellows found them selves ahead of the army and resolved to strike for a big stake. They made a sudden attack on the town at day light and then dashed in and made fo the bank. They broke in the door with an ax, obliged the banker to unlock hi safe and something like $600,000 wa carried away as they retreated.

A day later they bundled up $100,000 strapped it on the back of an old lammule and hired a farmer to deliver the 'wealth" to General Milroy in person Accompanying the money was a note which advised the general to bribe the Confederates to keep ahead of him and do no fighting. As his military maneu vers had been checkmated right alon; and his reputation was under a cloud it was a hard shot at him. The story got to Washington and was commented on by President Lincoln, and it has been asserted that the president's levity caused the general to tender his resignation.

Electrical Fishes. The electrical fishes do not belong to any one class or group-some are found in fresh water, while others inhabit the sen. They possess two distinct types of electrical organs. One closely relates in structure to muscle, as found in the torpedo, gymnotus and skate, while the other presents more of the characterof the structure of a secreting gland as illustrated by the electrical organ of the thunderfish. Both types are built upon a rast number of micre scopical elements, each of which ! supplied with a nerve fiber. These nerve fibers come from large nerves that originate in the nerve centers brain or spinal cord, and in these cen ters are found special large nerve cells with which the nerve fibers of the electric organs are connected and from which they spring. Yet the electricity is generated in the electric organ itself In these animals there are specialized organs for the production of electricity on an economical basis far surpassing anything yet contrived by man.-Amer. ican Inventor.

Locking His Boor.

A Philadelphia traveling man was on a business trip through Alabama and one night found himself stranded in wretched little town with only on slipshod, miserable hotel. His "room for the night was the end of a hall with a sheet hung up to screen him from view. In the middle of the night he woke up with his head banging out over one end of his cot and his fee over the other, while a violent draft was blowing the hanging sheet in all directions. He called for the house keeper. "What do you want with the housekeeper?" came a voice from some where in the darkness. "I want a pe per of pins to lock my door with."

Uneless Purchases.

Two eminent French gentlemen, who were great friends, used to relate an amusing story of their impecunious days. Neither fame nor fortune had come to them, but they were always hopeful. The years had weighed heavi ly enough upon Jules, however, for him to have become entirely bald. One day Alphonse met him with a beam ing countenance and cried gayly "What do you think, Jules? I have been buying a strong box!" "Then, A phonse," replied Jules firmly, "I shall buy a hairbrush!"

The land musician, who lives at $335 Grand Enterprise has the exclusive right of in- Avenue, says: "My first attack of kidtroducing these maps into this county on ney complaint consisted principally of a clubbing offer, Samples of the map may be seen at the Enterprise office and

The map is one of the best and most serviceable we have ever seen. It is a wall map and consists of four pages. Its dimensions are 25 vad inches. The first page contains a map of the world in connection with which is shown the comparative times and distances. All of the United States possessions are indicated by flags. This page also shows the arms and flags of the various nations of the world. Page two is devoted to large sized maps of the states of Oregon and Washington, each state being shown by itself. On the reverse side of this page is given considerable scatistical matter concerning the two states. In one col umn is arranged in alphabetical order all of the counties in each state together with the location in the state of the par ticular county together with the total population of that county. Following the list of the counties is given the name in alphabetical order also, of every city, town and postoffice in each state, the name of the county is which it is located and also the section of the state and the population of each. There is also shown on this page the new seal of the State of Oregon as adopted by the legislature last winter, together with some descriptive matter showing the respects in which the new differs from the old. Five separate maps are shown on the third page They are Alaska, British Columbia Hawsiian Islands, Philippine Islands and the minor United States possessions in the Pacific Ocean. The fourth page shows a map of the United States, Idaho and the minor possessions of the United States in the Pacific Ocean, the map showing the last named land being larger and more useful than that on the pre ceding page. Arranged in alphabeticla order on this page are also the counties and towns of the state of Idaho, together with their location and population. The combination of these maps is worth the $2.50 for which it retails. They are printed on good map paper and will last a life time.
