B. F. Linn has leased a part of the Barclay property, adjoining Johnson's barber shop, and has begun the erection of a frame store building that will be jointly occupied by a cigar store on the ground floor and a photograph gallery up stairs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cooke were very pleasantly surprised last Monday evening by a company of about fifty of their neighbors. The surprise was in honor of the 45th anniversary of Mr. Cooke's birth. Card playing and dancing caused the evening to pass very pleasantly and the guests departed with expressions of best wishes for the return of many more such anniversaries.

Father A. Hildebrand received a cable Wednesday announcing the death at Brilon, Westphalia, Germany, of his aged father, Anthony Hildebrand. Mr. Hildebrand, Sr., was in his 88th year. It was the pleasure of Father Hildebrand last summer to spend several weeks visiting his father at his home town. At that time, Mr. Hildebrand, Sr., was enjoying the best of health.

Miss Winner wishes to inform the public that by April 1st she expects to occupy the new studio which will be erected on Main street, opposite Brunswick House. She will have a new camera and accessories, such as backgrounds, chairs, etc.; also the latest in mounts and styles. She will, therefore, be prepared to give greater satisfaction in every respect. —mch 11.

Complaints have been filed with Postmaster Randall that the rural mail boxes on R. F. D. No. 1, out of Oregon City, are being tampered with. Some of the devilry is being performed by young women, who place mud in the boxes and mischievously cause to be displayed the signal flag, indicating that there is mail to be taken by the carrier from the respective boxes. This causes all kinds of trouble and delay for the carrier. Postmaster Randall has learned the names of the miscreants, and has notified their parents that the practice must be discontinued. There is a severe penalty for interfering in any way with mail boxes of this character.

R. W. Priest, representing the Olympic Opera Company, was in the city Tuesday. Beginning last night at Corday's theatre in Portland the Olympic opened a ten nights' engagement at this popular Portland playhouse. This company presented the comic opera "Said Pasha" to a small but delighted audience at Shively's last Thursday night. Without any flattery, the performance was perhaps the best of its kind ever witnessed at Oregon City, and was certainly entitled to a larger audience. It is to be regretted that when a meritorious attraction, such as was the Olympic, comes to Oregon City it is given the go-by, when undeserving bills are largely patronized. The best way to improve the standard of the attractions that are brought to this city is to patronize the deserving ones.

A score of the friends of Howard Latourette gave him a surprise party Wednesday evening at his home on the hill. Progressive what was played, Miss Clara Canfield and Jack Canfield receiving the first prizes, while Miss Hilda McGetchie and Roy Kelly were rewarded with the consolation gifts. Music and dancing were followed by the serving of refreshments. There was no ice-cream, some unscrupulous sneak thief or thieves having entered the kitchen during the evening and carried away the freezer of cream. The pillerers were considerate enough to leave the cake and fruit, so that Howard was not entirely without refreshments to serve his unexpected callers. Of course Howard did not know that a surprise was being planned for him, but then a good time was had, as in always the case at the Latourette home. Those forming the party were: Misses Clara Canfield, Ethel Graves, Edna Canfield, Edith Wynne Albright, Hilda McGetchie, Myrtle Buchanan, Edna Daulton and Edith Cheney; Messrs. Roy Kelly, Earl McAdam, Wm. Howell, Will Koeniger, Mort Cockrell, Mort Latourette, Earl Latourette, J. W. Cochran, Wm. Marshall, Howard Latourette and Jack Canfield.

CITY FATHERS IN SESSION.

Center Street To Be Improved—Work Resumed on South End Road.

At its regular meeting Wednesday night, the council ordered the improvement of Center street. This action was taken on petition of interested property owners.

It was decided to enforce the city ordinance providing for the working of fall occupants on the city's streets, under the supervision of the street commissioner.

Mayor Dimick was instructed to appoint a committee of three members of the council to have charge of the work on the South End Road which will be resumed, residents of the section contiguous to that proposed highway having subscribed about 75 days' work on the project.

Recorder Curry was instructed to notify the Southern Pacific Company to clear the alley in block 25.

A petition was received from residents of the suburban districts of the city asking that cows be allowed to run at large in specified sections of the city. The petition was referred to the committee on health and police.

It was determined by the council to enforce the ordinance providing for the collection of licenses against billiard and pool tables.

Recorder Curry presented statistics showing that under the 1903 assessment, the assessable values of the property in the corporate limits of the city was $1,254,380 as against only $653,863 for the preceding year.

W. Bateman, who recently established a saloon at the new town of Estacada, was a business visitor in Oregon City Wednesday.

J. M. Lyons, of Estacada, was in Oregon City this week on business. Mr. Lyons has recently put in a liquor store at Estacada.

Ex-county Commissioner J. R. Morton, of Damascus, was in the city Thursday on business before the county court.

The county court has adopted plans for the construction of a road between Springwater and Estacada at a cost of about $4200.

THE SHIP'S PURSER.

Some of the Things That Make His Life at Times a Burden.

The lot of the purser is anything but a happy one. From his title one would think that he had only to look after the finance of the vessel, but in reality his office, so conveniently and picturesquely situated at the top of the grand staircase, is really as busy a bureau as any in Capel court or Wall street. It is no doubt legitimate enough to expect the purser to be quite au fait with the monetary matters, to explain to the Britisher the difference between a dollar and a crown or to the American that the greenback is treated with scorn and contempt in Europe, but our American friends are par excellence the interrogators of the world, and to them the purser is simply a walking encyclopedia.

He is expected to tell them all about the ship—that's right enough—but they want to know all about the passengers as well, who they are, where they have come from and where they are going, how much they are worth and any little titbit of news about their social life. He is also asked about every hotel, beginning at Liverpool and ending at Rome, the best shops where to purchase different articles, who will give the best discount for cash, where the questioner's wife can best be rigged up in European fashion and the most likely resort at which his daughter might run across some inpecunious scion of British nobility.—Harry Furness in Strand.

Press On.

"Press on" solves the problem of all heroes. It is the rule by which to judge of all wonderful success and all triumphal marches to fortune and honor. It should be the motto of all—"Press on." Never despair. Never allow yourself to be discouraged, however stormy the heavens or dark the way or heavy the difficulties or repeated the failures.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. For sale by G. A. Harding.

The Funny Side.

An English lawyer, who had been cross-examining a witness for some time, and who had sorely taxed the patience of the judge, jury, and every one in the court, was finally asked by the court to conclude his cross-examination. Before telling the witness to stand down, he accented him with this parting sarcasm: "Ah, you are a clever fellow—a very clever fellow—we can all see that." The witness leaned over the box, and quietly retorted: "I would return the compliment if I were not on oath."

A BUSINESS LUXURY

A CHECKING-ACCOUNT is indeed a business necessity; and he who tries to get along without one is at great disadvantage. It is not required that a person should have a large bulk of business in order to open an account. Professional men, farmers, and even many women, are running checking-accounts. If you have never done business in this way, and are not familiar with the plan, come to us and we will get you started.
