The Butte Montana Daily Miner says of Elmore Rice, the violinist, "his playing is exquisite. The thrilling, vibrating notes from his violin held the audience spell bound and his perfection of technique made them forget that they were not listening to one of the old masters. A touch as delicate as a breath and notes complete in their perfection gives the harmony an inarticulate, unfathomable speech that leads to the edge of the infinite." Mr. Rice will give a recital at the First Congregational church Monday evening April 18.

Among the notable features of the Argonaut for April 11th is "When the Singer Cut Across," an amusing, typical story of cowboy life by Bert M. Bower; "Gotham's Poor Ladies," a letter in which Geraldine Bohner tells, in her breezy, clever style, of the efforts women with small incomes have to put forth to keep up appearances; extracts from a strong novel, "He that Eateth Bread With Me," which has as its basis the evils of divorce; Andrew Lang's criticism of George Ade's "Fables in Slang," late war verse by various poets; and a criticism of Anna Held in "Mam'zelle Napoleon," at the Columbia, by Josephine Hart Phelps.

SOME TAX FIGURES.—During the last six months Sheriff Shaver has handled on an average $1000 a day, having in that length of time collected and turned into the Clackamas county treasury $190,865.27 in taxes. These figures are contained in the semi-annual report that was this week made public by Sheriff Shaver for the six months ending March 31. Between February 8, the day the 1903 tax roll was turned over to the sheriff for collection, and April 1, that officer received $172,402.60 on that roll. From February 8 until March 20, the busiest time of the tax collecting season, Sheriff Shaver averaged writing 122 receipts a day. The amount of rebate allowed on the tax collections was $4936.98. This is the first time in many years that the report of the Clackamas county sheriff has been made within the time required by law.

Embarrassing.

The Squire's Pretty Daughter (examining the village school)—Now, children, can you tell me what a miracle is?

The children looked at one another, but remained silent.

"Can no one answer this question?" the new curate asked, who was standing behind the squire's daughter.

A little girl was suddenly struck with a brilliant idea. She held up her hand excitedly.

"Well, Nellie?" the squire's daughter asked, smiling approvingly.

"Please, miss," the small child replied breathlessly, "mother says 'twill be a miracle if you don't marry the new curate.'"—London Globe.

Recognized It.

"This," smiled the fond young wife as she passed a plate of dessert to her husband, "is cottage pudding. I made it myself."

The man tasted of it.

"I'd have known it was cottage pudding," he asserted.

"You would?" she asked, delighted.

"Yes. I can taste the plaster and the wall paper. What did you do with the shingles and the bricks of the chimney?"—Judge.

School Law Should Be Changed.

Editor Enterprise—As I do not trouble you very often, I hope you will kindly publish the following article relating to the effects of the new school law on the various school districts of Clackamas county.

The law as it now stands compels the county courts of the various counties of the state to levy a sum sufficient to make 46.00 per capita of the children of school age. Clackamas county court was compelled to levy a 5 mill tax for school purposes to raise that sum. We frequently meet persons who find fault with the $6.00 per capita provision of the new school law as being entirely too high. Some say their district will have more money than needed, yet with a great many others the opposite will be the complaint.

Since listening to State Superintendent Ackerman on the proposition of consolidation of the county districts as a means of furnishing better facilities for the county children to secure an education. I have been thinking along various lines and investigating the effect of the law as it now stands respecting the different school districts of Clackamas county.

I find by comparing the valuation of the property of the various districts with the number of children in the districts that the law as it now stands in many instances is a discrimination against the small districts such a condition is generally admitted to be wrong and we believe if any special protection should be given it should be given to the weak rather than the strong.

Now, if anyone will interest himself enough to figure on the proposition, he will find with a 5 mill tax that District No. 3, with a valuation of $90,240, will pay into the county school fund $451 and with 166 children to draw on will get about $680, and if the law was interpreted as some lawyers interpret it District No. 3 would get $996, or more than double what it pays in. District No. 41, with a valuation of $77,905, will pay $389, with 113 children will get about $615. District No. 48, with a valuation of $250,722, will pay $1253, with 357 children will get about $1835. On the other hand, District No. 10 with a valuation of $134,185, will pay $670 with 19 children, will get $141; District No. 28 with a valuation of $124,476 will pay $722 with 40 children, will get about $250; District No. 22, with a valuation of $38,805, will pay $194 with 15 children, will get about $125; District No. 13, with a valuation of $52,460, will pay $262 with 18 children, will get about $140. Now anyone can see the injustice, and I hope the various candidates for the Legislature who will ask the vote of the people will post themselves on this matter and find the proper remedy.

At this time, not having a better remedy, I suggest that instead of $50, $200 should be the amount fixed by law as a first apportionment to each district, and then apportionment what is left according to the number of children. At first glance, some will say $200 is too much as a first apportionment per district, but by figuring you can prove for yourself that the small districts mentioned will still fall short of what they pay in and the large districts mentioned will still get more than they pay in.

I hope this item will call attention to the matter and start a sentiment that will remedy the evil as soon as possible. When $200 per district is taken from the total fund there will remain about $3 per capita. R. SCHUBERT.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

"I have been subject to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by G. A. Harding.

CITY COUNCIL AT WORK.

Numbering of Streets and Residences Authorized—Other Business.

Considerable business of a routine nature was considered at the council meeting Wednesday evening. The most important, perhaps, was the adoption of a resolution authorizing the numbering of the streets and residences of the city.

Petitions were received asking for the construction of a sidewalk to the Mountview cemetery, and also requesting the council to ask the O. W. P. & K. Co. to sprinkle Main street during the summer months. These requests were duly referred.

An ordinance re-establishing the grade of Center street was read first time and ordered published.

Recorder Curry's report showed receipts for the month of March to the amount of $723.34.

On motion of Koerner, the employment of a special night police officer was reduced to a half night shift.

The street commissioner was instructed to notify property owners to construct a sidewalk along the west side of Jefferson street, between Third and Seventh streets. He was also instructed to order the rebuilding and repairing of numerous other walks in the city.

City Attorney Story was ordered to prepare an ordinance permitting cows to run at large in certain districts of the city.

"Certainly not. You don't need it."

"But you get your money just the same."

"Yes. Just so."
