A Bright Refreshing Play.

"The Pumpkin Husicay," which will appear at the Shively Opera House April 19th, is a bright, crisp, rural comedy, imbued with the ready wit and homely pathos of the country people of Southern Indiana, where the scene of the play is laid. Their lives holden more closely associated lives being more closely associated with nature, lack the vencer of their city brothren; they are more boisterous in their joy, and more calm in their sorrow, slow to anger, but know no bounds when once aroused. is easy to realize what splendid material for a play can be derived from such interesting people. And Lawrence Russell has lost no opportunity in utilizing every piece of ma-terial obtainable in building up his structure. It is a consistent, natural, and original piece of dramatic work as has been produced in recent years. The scenes are quaint, the characters odd, the comedy brilliant, and the pathos as refined and heart-touching as is possible to conceive. The harvest field with its harvesters; county fair with its cosmopolitan gathering and the old farm house with its typical surroundings are works of art that do not require an education to apreciate, yet will hold the eye and rivet the attention of the scholarly and unlettered alike until the failing curtain shuts them from view. The play has its sensational features, but they are entirely in keeping with the atmosphere of the

With his most pleasing smile, Mr. Sweeney responded. "Madam I haven't the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks to me as if he was sorry he had succeeded."

> Mgr. Farley, who has been visiting the Vatican, finds that Pope Pius has a keen sense of humor, and reports that he greatly enjoyed the following story; It was of Con Creegan's father, who, on his deathbed was making his will, and, in order that he might have strength to do so, was plentifully supplied with punch by Con and a group of neighbors. Toward the close the dying man cried to his son:
> "Ah, Con, Con! Just touch my lips once more with the jug. Wisht, my son, you watered 'he drink." "No, indeed, father dear," while a low murmur of pity chorused through the cabin; "but it's the taste that's lavin' ye,"

A stranger walked into a Georgia hotel and began to descant upon the wonders of psychology, declaring that he could tell a man's political preferences by looking at him, so strong is the mark left on one's face by his opinions. One man was skeptical and offered to bet the cigars that the stranger could do no such thing. "Done!" said the mind-reader; "You yourself are for Cleveland." He was right, but the scoffer muttered, "An accident." "You," he said to another, "prefer Parker." He was right sgain, and "Wonderful!" said the crowd. Turning to a third he said, "And you are for Hearst." "You are a liar!" was the unexpected response, delivered with heat and began to descant upon the wonders expected response, delivered with heat and indignation; "I have been sick; that is the reason I look this way."

Enterprise Has Installed Modern Mergenthaler Linotype Machine.

The Enterprise this week installed a modern up-to-date Mergenthaler Lino-type machine. This week's issue of the Enterprise is partly made up of type from the type-setting machine and by next week we hope to have the machine in regular operation.

With the installing f this machine, the equipment of the Enterprise office is second to none in the state outside of Portland, and we are in a position to do all kinds of composition work and job work at prices that cannot be touched by legitimate competition.

The office is now thoroughly equipped and will make a specialty of doing all kinds of job and book work. We are prepared to get out briefs, pamphlets, catalogs, etc., of all kinds on short no-tice and at reasonable prices. When needing any work of this character, we would be pleased to figure with you and submit an estimate on the job. Our job office equipment has been improved and we are turning out the latest and very best quality of work ever done in Oregon City. If you want job printing that is right you must have it done at the Enterprise office

The installing of this machine has entailed a great expense but we have confidence in the people of Oregon City and the future of the city that the outlay will be justified by the increased business that will result from the rapid growth and development of this section of the Willamette Valley.

Printing in these days to be done properly must have the best and most im-proved machinery and the latest and best quality of materials. These are had at the Enterprise office and the work we are turning out daily supports these claims. When you have some work, either bring it or send it to the Enter-

Viola.

Mr. Frank Smith and wife and young on, of California, are here visiting at the Ward home.

The Quarterly Conference of the Viols circuit of the M. E. church will be held reports at 2:30 p. m. Lecture on Baptism at 3 p. m. Everybody invited.

Work is progressing on Charley Milr's large house. It will be equal to any in Viola.

Our Viola merchant, Mr. Brown, has started a delivery wagon through Red-land and Logan. He is a rustler, and strictly honorable in his deal. Such enterprise will certainly be appreciated by the people served.

Walker Bros. are having their lumbe hauled from their mill to Estacada and Oregon City. Mr. Graham, with a force of men, is furnishing logs.

Most of the farmers are about through sowing oats and planting early potatoes. Mr. Jubb has gone elsewhere to paint and hang paper. He ought to get home

Our affable friend, Mr. Gaskell, fre quently visits Viola, on Sandays. Sheh-sh! "Tell it not in Gath."

The Paint Season is Now On, a few Suggestions to Prospective Painters.

We are selling the Regal Pure Prepared Paint, a full gallon of the best paint that can be made, each can containing 231 eubic inches (U. S. Standard) when sealed.

A Paint that will wear for five years or more and based upon years of service (which is the right way to figure) does not cost half as much as paint that wears from one to possibly two years.

The Regal Paint

will cover at least 25 per cent more surface than paint mixed by hand with the use of white lead. That means it requires only 4 gallons of Regal Paint to every 5 gallons that would be used of white lead paint mixed by hand. It will wear 50 per cent longer than "mixed by hand paint."

Don't try to save a few dollars in the price per gallon of paint at the expense of many dollars in covering quality.

The cost of applying paint is about twice as much as for the paint itself. It costs as much to apply paint that won't wear as for Regal that will last for years, and it costs as much every time it is applied.

Every can of Regal guaranteed. It saves you dollars in quality required and years of wear. Price per gallon, $1.50. In five gallon can lots $1.45.

If you want Lead and Oil, give us a chance to figure with We are selling at "bed rock" prices and carry every thing in the Paint, Oils and Glass line.
