Superintendent J. C. Zinser Should Be Re-elected Next June.

> The administration of his office during the present term has been eminently efficient. * By personal visits to the school * room, often accompanied by school officers, he has sought to raise the standard of the * work by illustrative teaching. by addressing the children, and by contact with patrons and school officers.

Great improvement has been * made during his term of office * in clearing and fencing schoolgounds, painting and improving * school buildings, and making * them more home-like and attractive. He has never asked * the County Cours to levy the " library tax, authorized by law, but has encouraged additions to * school libraries by entertain- * ments, from which source 1819 * volumes were purchased, with several hundred others not yet * reported for the present year.

In Teachers' Institutes, frequent local meetings and it. " conventions for school officers * questions of vital interest to our schools have been discuss. * ed which has helped to devel. * op an intelligent appreciation of the needs of our work. His * influence in Salem has also secured frequent visits and occasional lectures by our State Su- * perintendent, as well as needed school legislation.

A teacher's professional II-. brary of about 100 volumes, established during the present . term of office, is another val- * unble aid to the ambitious * teacher. Though his constant * aim has been to secure better * qualifications in our teachers' * examinations, yet such has * been the confidence of teachers in him and his board of .* examiners, that not a single * complaint has been sent up on appeal. In deciding the many * perplexing questions that come . to the office, his tact and judg- * ment have enabled him, almost without exception, to restore * harmony and good feeling. Recent requirements in our school law have greatly multi- * plled his work. The Eighth ٠ Grade examinations alone demand more time than all the . teachers' examinations. Yet he is allowed no deputy. He must therefore practice strict econ- * omy of time and rigid system in his office work, to keep a * clear acount with State and * County Institute Funds, ac. * counts with the various dis- * tricts, the records of the Dis- * . trict Boundary Board, the con- * | * heat of a county campaign, may * tracts with teachers, the rec- * . ords of examinations and cer- * .

Miss Harding's original program was more than doubled by reason of the encores, but it included the following numbers: "Greeting." "Sapphic Ode, "The Vain Suit." "When Love is Gone." "Non Posso Disperar." "Prayer." "Mos Wondrous It Must Be," "Mammy's LII Baby," "Lascia Chio Pianza," "If Thou Thy Heart Would'st Give Me," "At My Grave," and "Love, the Fedlar." As accompanist, Miss Harding was assisted by Miss Martha Francis Draper. whose faithful interpretation of the difficult numbers she performed merited the appreciative applause that was accorded Miss Draper is a talented instrumentaltst and her work of Wednesday evening was up to the high art standard of her playing.

Several competent musical critics of Portland attended the recital and the opinions they passed on Miss Harding's singing were decidedly flattering to that young lady. The young ladies of the King's Daughters acted as patronesses for the event.
