MOLALLA.

Say, Mr. Voter, have you in mind that "figures won't lie," and that man can "make figures lie?"

When a man quits the Democratic ranks (and many did so in the olden times of Cleveland) he is denominated, often through jealousy, as a "warmed over Republican." Therefore, when you hear of a huke-warm Republican dodging around and working for the election of strident Democrats, you can set him down for a "boiled over Republican." The former, food in the skillet; the latter, over in the fire. Those "axes to grind" are kept well out of sight.

Died, May 27th, of heart failure, Clarence Engle, at his home, at the age of 48 years, 8 months and 16 days. He leaves a wife and three sons to mourn his departure. The remains were laid to rest in the C. C. cemetery. Elder L. B. Trullinger conducted the funeral services.

The Harlex Bros. have sold out the Sanders farm to a Linn county gentleman. The junior brother is thinking of returning to Indian.

Well, Mr. Editor, next week there will be a Republican election, a forerunner for November next.

As we have a little more space here we'll tell you that we are really human beings, although we don't live in mansions. We treat visitors the best we know how. Come and see us, dear friends, you are welcome.

Johnny Mulvaney had misfortune to upset his rig a short distance from here last Sunday as he was returning home from the ball game, but nobody was hurt.

SPRINGWATER.

Mercury 30 and having fine showers. The Sunday school picnic was an enjoyable success.

The Republican candidates have been here convincing the doubtful ones the way to vote and I think they succeeded very well.

Rev. Bray, of Portland, told us why it was best to vote for local option, and if I had the time I could tell why we should not vote for the so-called stock law.

On the 21th there was a party of about a dozen, including Rev. Allen, went to Oregon City, stopping at the Electric hotel. At that place Rev. Allen pronounced the ceremony that made the following persons man and wife: Mr. Ralph Tracy, a well-known and prominent young man of Logan, and Miss Allie Smith, of Springwater, an accomplished, lovely young woman, whom Springwater regrets to lose. Mr. Walter Dean, of Sandy, and Miss Lena Haney, of this place, both of whom are favorably known, have also wedded. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy journey through a prosperous life.

Chas. Burrows, who recently injured his foot with an ax, is rapidly recovering. Strawberries are rapidly ripening about Canby and there seems to be a bountiful crop of the delicious berries.

A very exciting runaway occurred in Canby Monday, when Chris Lawrence's team, of Mackburg, ran away. It seems that they were tied in one of the sheds and his dog, thinking it high time to leave for home, began barking at their heads, causing them to break loose and also the harness and several other articles. Mr. Lawrence declared that the dog would be a subject for Memorial day exercises next year.

Mr. John Stalnaker, our rustling livery man, lost a very fine horse on Sunday evening. Mr. Stalnaker was at a loss to know what was the matter, as the horse died very suddenly. He had been offered $150 for it but a few days before.

G. B. Hampton wrestled with the goat in the third degree of the I. O. O. F. lodge last Friday evening. Canby lodge is growing right along. The new officers elected are as follows: H. A. Dedman, noble grand; C. T. Bates, vice grand; E. T. Sias, secretary; and Andrew Koehler, treasurer.

Every one said that it was a beautiful rain we had on Tuesday. I guess it must be so, for we needed it very much.

Andrew Koehler has recently sold a new $350 hay baler to Brush Bros., of Mackburg. He has also sold a full new threshing outfit and also a new separator, not of cream, but of wheat.

VIOLA.

James Walker had the misfortune to cut the end of one of his fingers nearly off. Our merchant, W. D. Brown, dressed the wound, and it did well.

Rev. J. F. Black and wife and daughter, of Maquoketa, Iowa, spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of A. S. Black in Viola. They greatly preferred Oregon to California. In fact they were so well pleased that Mr. Black instructed his brother to look up a tract on some street car line for him to buy for a future home. The severity of Iowa winters drives them thence.

Mr. Brock and family, of Redland, visited at the Tenny home on Sunday.

We have in Viola a girl of twelve who often wears avails, though she sometimes wears dresses. Can anybody give a good reason why that would not be all right if we were used to it? Woman's dress is an outrage on civilization. It is inconvenient. She must hold her skirts when she walks. She may not ride astride, nor climb a tree. She cannot even scratch a match conveniently!

Our farmers are now watching, with the twinkle of amusement in their eyes, the antics of the politicians who are seeking the votes of "the honest farmer," that they may make some more laws to protect the general public against his dishonesty! Such laws, e. g., as the butter color law, the butter roll law, the wood measurement law, etc., not technically so-called. By the time this is in print the twinkle will have passed from the eyes of the farmers to other eyes.

SHUBEL.

The confirmation exercises at the Lutheran church last Sunday, conducted by Rev. Deascher, were very impressive. A large crowd was in attendance. Eight children were confirmed. The girls were beautifully attired in white and the boys wore black. Misses Tena, Lena, Rosa, Nora and Irene Mochne, Elsie Bluhm and Bennie and Otto Fisher constituted the class.

noble grand; E. T. Davis vice grand; F. M. Gill secretary; J. J. Davis treasurer.

The Rev. Aaron M. Bray, of Portland, preached at the Garfield school house Sunday, May 29th. At 3:30 p. m. he addressed the people at the Garfield hall in behalf of the local option bill. His speech was well received.

F. M. GILL.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Hicinbethem, of Viola.

Thou art gone to the grave, but we will not deplore thee,
Thy darkness and sorrow encompass the tomb;
Thy Saviour has passed through its portals before thee,
And the lamp of his love was thy guide through the gloom.

Thou art gone to the grave, and we no longer deplore thee,
Nor tread the rough path of the world by thy side;
But the wide arms of mercy are spread to enfold thee,
And this is our hope, since the Saviour has died.

Thou art gone to the grave, but 'twere wrong to deplore thee,
When Christ was the ransom, thy guardian and guide;
He bought thee, he took thee, and soon will restore thee,
Where death has no power, since thy Saviour has died.

Dearest mother, thou hast left us, here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us, He alone our sorrows can heal,
Dear as thou wert, and justly dear, we will not weep for thee,
One thought shall check the starting tear—it is that thou art free.
Written by her friend.

A Plea in Behalf of All Sabbath Respecting Citizens.

Now boys I want you all receive my remarks in the manner they are intended to be made. (That is in all kindness, and for your good, as well as others). Won't you please change your time for playing ball to Saturdays. I think you would enjoy your game better, and have a clearer conscience, than you would have by playing Sundays. For there would be no doubt but you had a perfect right to Saturday, I spoke to some of the boys about it, and they said our fathers will not let us have that day. But I believe they were mistaken. For I do not think any father would want the responsibility of being the cause of his boy's losing his soul. And as for the mothers, I for one would agree. If the boys wanted refreshments for Saturdays would be willing to do my share. There is an old saying, but it is a true one, all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. Our boys have their rights.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Kodol Digests What You Eat Make the Stomach Sweet. Bottles only. Regular size, $1.00, holding 7 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50 cents. Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold by G. A. HARDING, Druggist
