JACQUES GETS PETITION.

Oswego Saloon Man Defeats Strong Opposition.
Strong opposition was offered by the temperance people of Oswego precinct to the application of Henry Jacques for the granting by the County Court of a license to sell liquor at Oswego.
Mr. Jacques' petition was signed by 111 legal voters and when it was considered at the session of the court last week, a large delegation of the citizens of Oswego were in attendance to remonstrate. A remonstrance, bearing 87 signatures, and another paper having the names of 55 residents of the precinct who had signed neither the petition nor the remonstrance was presented by the remonstrators to show that the petition for the license was not signed by a majority of the legal voters of the precinct.
The remonstrance was dismissed by the court for the reason that it had been circulated before the petition for the saloon license was completed. In the same connection the court ruled that 24 of the non-signers were not legal voters of Oswego precinct. This left a bona fide population of legal voters numbering 213.
The court investigated the voting qualifications of the signers to the petition and determined that the petition had the names of three more than a majority of the legal voters having a residence in the precinct. On this showing, the license was granted.
The petitioner, Jacques, until two months ago, conducted a saloon at Oswego. At that time he filed a petition for a renewal of his license which was denied because a remonstrance having a greater number of signatures was presented. The application was vigorously fought by Mr. Jacques on one side and the temperance people on the other, each side having employed attorneys.

WILL CAMPAIGN FOR ROOSEVELT.

Clackamas County Orators Will Participate in Canvass of State.
The Presidential campaign in Oregon by the Republicans will occupy only about two weeks. It will begin about October 20th and will be very generally carried on throughout the state until the day of election. The result of the efforts of the large number of public speakers who have tendered their services to the State Committee will be found in a majority approximating 30,00 in Oregon for Roosevelt and Fairbanks at the November election.
Clackamas county is again this year contributing its share of campaign orators. Among those who have notified Chairman Baker of a willingness to participate in the campaign are: Senator Brownell, Mayor Grant B. Dimick, who is one of the Presidential Electors; C. H. Dye, J. U. Campbell and Gordon E. Hayes.
It is not definitely known what speaking will be arranged for Clackamas county, but the county will be thoroughly covered by competent and entertaining speakers in exposition of Republican principles and policies.

THE MANEUVERS AT AMERICAN LAKE.

The recent "war games," in which the troops of Oregon, Washington and Idaho participated, is the subject of an instructive and entertaining article by General Thomas H. Anderson, U. S. A., (retired), in the October Pacific Monthly. In discussing the value of these maneuvers, he says:
"In civil life no one believes that business methods or mechanical excellence can be learned or acquired from books. Practice must supplement theory. This is just as true of the art military. Manuals of tactics state the space a brigade of a given strength should occupy in close or open ground, and the time required for a deployment of change of front. A man of average intelligence can commit these statements to memory in a very short time, yet no one without practice can estimate the distances involved in the simplest field maneuver. Distances look so surprisingly different under differing conditions; whether, for instance, we estimate over land or water, over hills or plains, or by night or day, or in sunshine or fog. In estimating distances, the fire of an enemy is, of course, a very confusing factor. In calculating the time it may take to reach a given position, the condition of the roads or character of the intervening country will have to be considered, and an absolute assurance can only be obtained by reconnoitering. What the enemy may do in the way of obstruction or opposition further complicates the problem. The object of field maneuvers is to make the problems given as nearly like those of actual warfare as possible."

A petition has been circulated among the patrons of the R. F. D. routes No. 1 and 2 asking for a change in the course. The routes are both too long, and it is to remedy this and to establish R. F. D. No. 4 that this action is taken. Route No. 1 will then be extended to Liberal and No. 2 will cover the territory between No. 1 and 2, extending into the Molalla country—Aurora Borealis.

The Head of a Department of the U. S. GOVERNMENT SAYS ORRINE CURES WHISKEY HABIT

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
Office of the Public Printer,
Washington, D. C., April 15, 1904.
The Orrine Company, Incorporated,
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen: My attention was recently called to one of the employees of this office who had through habits of intoxicating drink, become so inefficient as to be on the verge of dismissal. You will be interested to know that in six weeks not only the appetite, but practically all of the ordinary signs of dissipation, disappeared, and I am assured by those interested that "Orrine" belongs the credit for this excellent result. It is a pleasure to me to acknowledge the value of a remedy which brings results so beneficial. Yours very truly,
F. W. WALKER,
Public Printer.

Our Clothes Satisfy
both in style and price

The man who buys one of our suits has the satisfaction of knowing that he has paid the least possible price for a good all wool suit. He also knows that the suit embodies style and fashion, that the pattern is neat and seasonable, that the making is good from the first snip of the shears to the last touch of the pressing iron. In short, he is thoroughly satisfied.

We can satisfy you. There is almost as much comfort from satisfaction as from the clothes themselves.
