TERSELY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Election is Ordered.—The County Court examined the Local Option petitions that have been filed in this county and finding them to contain the requisite number of names of legal voters, will order an election to be held in conjunction with the Presidential election next month.

Married a Portland.—George C. Chambers, who has charge of the Cheney ranch near this city, was married Wednesday at Portland to Miss Maud Bell. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, corner of Third and Grant streets.

Office is Discontinued.—The management of the Postal Telegraph Co. this week ordered the discontinuance of the local office which for some time has not been a paying institution. The suspension of this office leaves central W. R. Logan, the monarch of all that is to be seen and done locally in the way of telegraph business.

Estate is Probated.—The will of John O. Wilson, who died at the Good Samaritan hospital at Portland, September 17, leaving property of the estimated value of $1000, was admitted to probate Saturday and the widow, Emma Wilson, was named as executrix of the estate. By the terms of the will all of the property is left to the widow.

but that these improved conditions were about due and now that they have been made, the general appearance of things is so altered that the Judge will almost require an introduction to adjust himself to his former quarters. This work was done under the direction of Pete Nehren, who was assisted by a county prisoner whose ability to distribute varnish over receptive furniture was tested with good results.

Looks at Hospital Furniture.—Dr. L. J. Wolf is in receipt of a letter from an Eastern Hospital outfitting house informing him of a recent visit to that institution of Dr. C. M. Strickland, of Oregon City, who is negotiating for the purchase of furniture and a complete equipment for a first-class hospital. The same letter, which was dated September 27, stated that Dr. Strickland would leave in a few days for Europe and that he would return to America about March 1, next.

Has Returned to New York City.—Miss Mary Case, who has been spending a number of days in this city because of the serious illness of her mother, left Wednesday for New York City where she will continue her musical studies. Miss Case is an Oregon City girl and her many friends will be glad to hear that she is meeting with great success in her studies. Miss Case is possessed of a rich contralto and shows wonderful improvement in the short time that she has been in the East.

Now Has Comfortable Office.—When Circuit Judge McBride comes to Oregon City next month to convene the Circuit Court, he will hardly recognize his surroundings. His private office at the Court House has been thoroughly renovated, kalsomined, varnished and otherwise brightened up, besides being equipped with new furniture. The bench has also been varnished and the other court room furniture has undergone a treatment of the painter's brush with surprising results. There has not existed any serious doubt for some time

Dallas, Carl Wollin, Jacob Mundshenk, Albert C. Glesner, Samuel H. Osmon, Newton H. Culver, Emma E. Fishburn, Leon D. Hedgus, Edward Roos, Peter N. Bensen, Alfred Schneider, John H. Wright, Claude H. Daly, Lieu Selection Patents—Edw. B. Perrin by H. E. Noble, Saginaw & Manistee Lumber Co., Edw. B. Perrin by Lewis Bradford, S. Benson, Fred A. Young, A. B. Hammond.

Grange Fair a Success.—Last Saturday the members of Oswego Grange held their annual fair. There was a creditable exhibit of farm products and the attendance and interest was good. An excellent program was rendered in the afternoon, the singing in costume by Miss Dickinson and Master Dickinson, aged about 11 and 9 years respectively, was especially deserving of mention. These little entertainers sang the Milkmaid's song and in response to the encore gave "Reuben and Sally". Judge Ryan was called on for an address and talked along the line of gathering a good exhibit of the county's resources for the 1905 Fair. The Judge is an enthusiast on this subject and he must have made a convincing talk for when he had finished an elderly woman who has resided in the vicinity of Oswego for many years, came up to him and said: "Judge, I have been discouraged for some time and had just about made up my mind to sell my farm, but since I heard your talk today on the Lewis and Clark Fair, and the probable advantages that will result to this section of the state, I really believe that I will hold the land a little longer for I am sure by that time I will be able to get a better price for it." Another interesting talk was made by A. F. Miller of Portland. Prizes for the exhibits were awarded by a committee consisting of J. D. Lee and A. F. Miller, of Portland, and George Lazelle, of Oregon City.

Would Poison and Kill.—In a divorce complaint filed here this week by Alfred Press against Julia Press, the plaintiff charges the defendant with having threatened to poison and kill him while they were residing at Portland last May. The parties were married at LaGrande in May, 1899, and the plaintiff asks for the custody of a minor child who is now with its mother at LaGrande.

Suit Over Jewelry.—Suit to recover $55 and exemplary damages appraised at $20, was begun in Justice Stipp's court Saturday by A. M. Wolters, against I. Tolpolar, a local second-hand dealer. The plaintiff alleges that he pledged a woman's watch and a diamond ring together of the value of $55 to secure a loan of $6 which was to be repaid within thirty days from September 15. It is alleged that the defendant after the tender of the amount of the loan and one dollar charged by the bailor, refuses to deliver the pledged jewelry which he has converted to his own use.

Two Estates Probated.—Monday the probate court for Clackamas county admitted two estates to probate. In the matter of the estate of Geo. L. Hostetler, deceased, who was accidentally killed at Noody last week, the widow, Nora Hostetler was named as administratrix, the estate being valued at about $2,500. Hostetler was survived by a wife and a seven months' old child. * * * Herman Linn, who died near George about two weeks ago, left an estate of the probable value of $5000. It has been admitted to probate and the widow has been named as administratrix.

Were Married Sunday.—Sunday morning two good looking young people, called at the residence of County Judge Ryan and requested that a marriage ceremony be performed. A license, that had been procured in Portland disclosed the identity of the young people who were, W. M. Fischer, of Rauler, Columbia county, and Minnie Adams, of Portland. The requisite ceremony was performed and the happy couple departed apparently satisfied with the terms and conditions of the agreement that had been entered into.

Says Wife Liked Others Better.—F. E. Linn, a Clackamas county sawmill man, objects to his wife keeping company with other men with whom he charges her with attending dances and not returning home until a belated hour in the morning. Because of an alleged fondness for the companionship of men other than himself, Linn has commenced divorce proceedings against Kate B. Linn, to whom he was married in December, 1895. Linn names George Springs and W. E. Howell as correspondents and charges that Mrs. Linn attended a dance at Beaver Creek last Friday night in company with Howell, failing to return home until 3:50 the next morning. Linn asks for a divorce and the custody of one minor child. * * * Hollis Partlow, Jr., also filed a suit for divorce from Frances Partlow, alleging desertion. The parties were intermarried in May, 1886 in Wisconsin. Plaintiff also desires custody of one child.

STATE NEWS.

The sale of the State Fair grounds at foreclosure sale has been decreed by Circuit Judge William Galloway. It is a noteworthy coincidence that Judge Galloway was the man who signed the mortgage nearly ten years ago, when he was president of the old Oregon Agricultural society. The amount of the decree is about $19,000 including interest. The original debt was $11,000.

Here is a little problem that farmers may figure out for themselves. It is a practical demonstration that swine may be raised with profit and buy feed. Smith & Boulden four weeks ago bought eight stock hogs, weighing 1005 pounds, paying 54 cents live weight or $542.75, which was 1 1/2 above the Portland market, so they decided to feed them for a raise in the price. They fed 13 sacks of shorts at a cost of $12.15. The hogs when slaughtered weighed 1310 pounds, a gain of 105 pounds and were sold at 6 cents, amounting to $78.60, a profit of $12.70. If the hogs had been weighed before being killed the weight would have been nearly 500 pounds, that is two pounds of shorts costing 14 cents will make 1 pound of pork at 6 cents.—Corvallis Gazette.

The jury in the case against Arthur Conklin for criminal libel returned a verdict of guilty. Counsel for Conklin at once moved for an appeal, and it is quite likely the case will be heard in the higher courts. The penalty prescribed in a case of this kind is from three to four years' imprisonment or from $100 to $500 fine. Arthur Conklin is editor of the Grants Pass Journal, and came into his present trouble through attacks made on Robert G. Smith when the latter was candidate for representative from Josephine County at the election of last June. It was stated in the alleged libelous article that Smith had collected money for Mrs. Sarah Lewis and appropriated it to his own use. According to the testimony of Mrs. Lewis, Smith did not take her money, except what was secured under a note, and in a regular business way.

T. H. Welsher has a patch of strawberries that is bearing a second crop. The plants are of an everbearing variety and the berries are just ripening for use. The second crop will not be as large as the first nor the berries quite as big, but being of a variety famous for its size, the berries are as large as common varieties. The vines have received a large amount of water during the summer. Mr. Welsher has raised two crops of onions, beets, and beans and other vegetables. Those who doubt that gardening pays would do well to take a look at this garden as a sample.—Corvallis Gazette.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Miss Virginia H. Barker, who married Benjamin Germain, May 13, was granted an annulment of the marriage at San Francisco last Friday by Superior Judge Sloss on showing that Germain had another wife living at the time that he induced Miss Barker to join him in wedlock. Miss Barker did not learn of his former marriage, however, until after he had deserted her, June 13. She traced him to this city, where she found him comfortably installed as the head of another household. On Miss Barker's complaint, Germain was arrested on a charge of bigamy and is now awaiting trial in the Superior Court. After his arrest so many women seemed to be interested in his welfare that it was surmised that he has other victims. The detective who made the arrest says upon his departure for this city the prisoner was deluged with flowers.
