The 60th anniversary of the Congregational church will be celebrated next week. There will be special services beginning with Tuesday evening. A number of the Congregational clergymen of the state have promised to be present and take part in these services. The Rev. P. S. Knight, one of the first pastors of the church, will preach the anniversary sermon on Sunday November 20th.

W. H. Raymond is serving a sentence of ten days in the city jail, having pleaded guilty to the larceny of two pool balls from Phillip Root's saloon. Shortly after Raymond, who is a transient, left the saloon a few evenings ago, Henry Root, who was in charge, discovered the theft, and immediately suspected Raymond whom he overtook about two blocks distant and with the aid of a gun had little difficulty in persuading the stranger to produce the ivory balls. Raymond was then placed in the hands of the police. It is a practice common among hoboes to appropriate pool balls on every opportunity as the balls can readily be "bocked" for about fifty cents each.

The Saturday Club of the Congregational church will hold its annual Thanksgiving meal, November 22, in the lecture room of the church. The usual home made delicacies will be on sale. Sales will begin at 1 o'clock. Late comers have often been disappointed heretofore. In connection with the Market the Ladies' Aid Society will hold a Fair at which a great variety of articles, useful and ornamental, will be shown. This Fair will be continued in the evening during which refreshments at a nominal price will be served. Musical selections will assist to make the evening delightful to all visitors and patrons.

THE ROOT ADMINISTRATION.

Some people seem to have an idea that in order to be properly prepared for war, and that under an administration in which the possibility of war is recognized, the national expenditure will swell abnormally. Even if this were so, it is less expensive to be ready for war than to get ready for it in a hurry, for in the latter circumstances human life is likely to be wasted, and that is worse than heavy taxes. But the administration of the war department by Elihu Root is a lesson which all economists should read.

Mr. Root reorganized that department on a business basis; he weeded out all the ineffective and superfluous stuff just, whether it was red tape, extra departments or poor clerks, and there is more work done for the money in the War Department today than ever before. To say this of Mr. Root is not exactly discrediting his predecessors in office, for some of them were very able men. But the fact remains that under those who were not able, or not unselfishly devoted to their business, the department had gotten into a condition in which it needed a house cleaning, and it takes a very able man to do that sort of work.

It was just because Mr. Root recognized the fact that if the War Department was to be of any use to the country, the need might come suddenly, that he was so determined to have no waste space in it anywhere. If it were merely ornamental, unbusiness-like management would be less a calamity. The country can now have the satisfaction of knowing that whatever money it spends on the machinery of war is not wasted in Washington or anywhere else.

As usual, the Democrats grabbed the hot end of the pension order poker.

Grandpa Davis should not be confused for making such a small campaign contribution. He has a record for dodging worthless investments.

Judge Parker has twice informed us that he believes in the gold standard. That even matters up, as he voted twice against it.

New Lease of Life for an Iowa Postmaster.

Postmaster R. H. Randall, Dunlap, Ia., says: I suffered from indigestion and resulting evils for years. Finally I tried Kodol. I soon knew I had found what I had long looked for. I am better today than in years. Kodol gave me a new lease of life. Anyone can have my affidavit to the truth of this statement. Kodol digests your food. This enables the system to assimilate supplies, strengthening every organ and restoring health.
