GUILTY OF MURDER

VERDICT AGAINST GEORGE W. LAUTH RETURNED

Prisoner Receives Verdict Without Comment.—New Trial Asked for

Shortly after 7 o'clock Wednesday evening the jury in the case of State vs. George W. Lauth returned a verdict finding him guilty of murder in the first degree. The prisoner received the verdict without comment although he appeared extremely nervous. Counsel for defendant were given until Saturday, December 3, in which to perfect an application for a new trial.

Temporary insanity was the grounds of the defense offered by George W. Lauth, charged with first degree murder for fatally shooting Mrs. Leonora E. Jones in this city, September 6, 1904. His trial was begun in the circuit court Tuesday morning, the greater part of the first day being occupied in securing a jury. Lauth was represented by Senator Brownell and G. B. Dimick while District Attorney Allen and Deputy Prosecuting C. Schuebel conducted the prosecution. The state offered testimony that showed quite clearly a deliberate and premeditated murder while the defense admitted that Lauth shot the woman and caused her death, introduced evidence that was calculated to prove that the accused man at the time of the shooting was in a mental condition that absolved him of responsibility for the crime.

Of the regular jury panel only nine jurors were secured, as follows: Wm. F. Harris, James Smith, W. H. Bottentiller, John Page, John L. Evans, Chas. Epler, Frank H. Hilt, Nicholas Rath and Mat Kandel. From a special venire of 24 men, M. Hurlas and A. C. Hollingsworth were accepted by both sides, the remaining juror, Thomas Johnson, of Willamette, being secured from a second lot of three men that were summoned by Sheriff Shaver from the body of the county.

By the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Woods, the parents of the murdered woman, Dagma Jones, the murdered woman's daughter, Chas. Wright, W. E. Wilson, Constable Trembath and George Smalley, the state showed that the shooting was done by Lauth in cold blood and premeditation. Dr. W. E. Carl, who conducted the autopsy over the remains of the murdered woman, testified as to the four gunshot wounds received by the woman and stated that either one of two of the wounds would have been sufficient in itself to have caused death without the interference of an operation.

In his defense, the defendant testified that he did not remember any of the incidents connected with the shooting on the morning of the murder, claimed that he did not remember visiting Wright's barber shop just before going to the Wood's home where the murder was committed, although he admitted having a very faint recollection of having been at his room at the Wood's residence during the morning. The next thing the defendant admitted having remembered was his arrival at the county jail in charge of an officer after the shooting had taken place. Lauth had a very defective memory that caused him to get badly mixed up when District Attorney Allen got after him on cross examination. Wednesday morning Dr. W. E. Carl, W. E. Wilson, Luther Moore, Police Officers Shaw and Noblett were called by the defense and gave testimony that Lauth appeared mentally unbalanced on the night preceding the shooting and also on the morning of the deed. The closing arguments were begun just before noon and the case went to the jury early in the afternoon.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

The concert to be given in Woodmen Hall, Saturday, evening, December 10, promises to be one of the best ever given in the city. The program will embrace three of Oregon City's soloists who are well and favorably known to us, Mrs. Kathryn Ward Pope, Miss Conyers, Miss Williams, besides Mrs. Lulu Miller, contralto, Mr. Dan J. Zan, baritone and Miss Warrens, pianist of Portland. Mrs. Miller sang in concert several years ago at the Congregational church here and has many admirers, but she comes to us now much improved in her work. Mr. Dan Zan needs no introduction to Oregon City people, and we can only voice the opinion of the musical public of Portland and other places where he has sung, that he is the prince of song. Miss
