The six-year old son of George Calliff lost a finger the first of the week. The little fellow was playing with a companion who, while handling an ax somewhat carelessly, caused it to accidentally fall on Calliff's finger with the result given.

Sheriff Shaver this week conducted the delinquent sale of property for unpaid taxes for the year 1903. Taxes were very largely paid up last year and the fact that the sale was rather slow is due to the fact that there were only a few desirable pieces of property to be sold.

$1.25 Jeans pants, small sizes, 75c; wool and part wool shirts cut off 1/4; warm wool sock cut to 22c; clothing and sweaters at 15 to 20 per cent out.

RED FRONT.

Martino Pezolo, a wealthy Italian, has brought suit for divorce from Palma Pezolo, whom he married in Italy in 1898. He complains that he came to America in 1890, unaccompanied by his wife, whom he repeatedly urged to join him in Oregon but in every instance his invitations were rejected. He now asks to be legally separated.

Skill and patience are essential to the successful photographer of children. We feel justified in saying that this line of work is handled no where with better results than at Miss Wisner's Studio, Main street near Seventh. During February she will give special prices on children's photographs. Feb. 10.

Miss Grace Esther Smith died Tuesday night at the home of John Carothers at Canemah, aged 18 years. The cause of death was tubercular peritonitis, and she had been ill since December 16 last. She was born in Middleton, Ore., and her mother is dead. Her father resides in California. The body was taken to Clipole, Ore., for interment.

Upon pleading guilty to the larceny of chickens belonging to Fred Metzner, Harry Clark, a well-known local Indian character who is a source of much trouble to local officers, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail Monday. At the expiration of this sentence, he will be tried on another charge of the same kind for it appears Clark has been engaged in the poultry business—that is other people's chickens anyway—on a wholesale basis of late.

County Clerk Sleight, after a two weeks' indisposition following a dental operation, was at the office one day this week. He expects to be able to resume work at his desk regularly next week.

While ascending the back stairs at his home last Sunday evening, M. C. Ramsby, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, slipped and fell with the result that one of his ribs was fractured.

There was entertainment without limit. D. M. Henderson, of Astoria, Great Sachem of the Red Men of the state, was in attendance and were also a number of other visitors from Astoria and Portland. The Red Men of this city now have a large membership and the order is numbered among the city's substantial lodge organizations.

Because his wife called him a liar and threw chunks of coal at him with accurate aim while they were residing at Boston, John M. Hendroth in a suit asks to be divorced from Alma P. Hendroth. They were married at Boston in July 1889 and plaintiff alleges that the unusual conduct of his wife towards himself continued without interruption until 1902, when he came to Oregon. He asks for the custody of two minor children.

G. H. Oldenburg, of Parkplace, was doing business in Oregon City Tuesday. Mr. Oldenburg is the man who was viciously assaulted and beaten into an unrecognizable condition by Louis and Henry Himler several days ago. The assault was cowardly and unprovoked and the assailants deserved all they received at the hands of Justice Stipp Tuesday. In the interest of the peace of the Parkplace community it is to be hoped that in event an appeal is taken, the judgment of the lower court may be sustained if not augmented.

Preliminary arrangements for the entertainment of the Department of Oregon, Grand Army of the Republic, and the Woman's Relief Corps during the annual encampment, which will be held in this city June 20, 21 and 22, were made Saturday night, when Meade Post, No. 2, G. A. R., appointed James F. Nelson, J. A. Tufts, C. A. Williams, J. P. Shaw, George A. Harding, David McArthur and L. W. Ingram a committee to recommend ways and means for the entertainment of the grand encampment and to make arrangements for the affair.

In a suit filed against the Oregon Fire Lumber Company in the circuit court, Mrs. Clara Cunningham, deceased, seeks to recover $5000 damages for the death of her husband resulting from the carelessness of the defendant company, which, she charges, kept a quantity of gun-powder and other explosives at its mill in a building adjoining that in which the workmen bunked. As the result of an explosion on November 7, 1903, in which the buildings were demolished, the plaintiff alleges that her husband sustained injuries from which he died.

John H. Taylor, an old soldier aged about 70 years, died at the home of H. E. Cross at Gladstone Monday night. The deceased was found seeking shelter in Mr. Cross' old mill during a severe storm about two weeks ago. He was dangerously ill and was cared for at Mr. Cross' residence until his death. There were papers on the man showing that he was an old soldier who served in the late war as corporal. A sister in Pennsylvania was notified but no word has been received. The body was given burial at Oregon City under the auspices of the local Grand Army Post.

If the plans of the members of the Cataract Hose Company No. 2, do not miscarry, that organization will be made one of the principal companies of the Oregon City Volunteer Fire Department. For a number of meetings several new members have been initiated, five taking the obligation last Tuesday night, when the company voted $25 towards the fund for the combined Firemen's Tournament and Fourth of July celebration that will be held here July 3-4-5 and for which the members of the city's volunteer fire department are working faithfully that the demonstration may be a great success.

Mrs. Douglas Telford, aged 83 years, died at her home at Canemah Sunday morning. The deceased was a native of Denholm, Scotland, where she was born in 1815 and had resided in Oregon City for about thirty years. Mrs. Telford was from early life a member of the Baptist church and was a tireless worker in religious work. In the absence from the city of the pastor of the First Baptist church, Rev. J. H. Beaven, the funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the home of the surviving son, Maxwell Telford at Canemah, under the direction of the members of the local Baptist church. Interment was had at Mountain View cemetery.

The friends of Roscoe Frost, the genial salesman at Busch's, relate a good story on him. A few days ago Frost went up the Willamette river to a point near Canby for a duck hunt. He wandered about for some time without even sighting a bird when finally through the brush that bordered the river bank he was certain he espied a duck. Taking steady aim, he fired but the bird did not appear to have been hit. The distance was so brief between the sportsman and the bird that Frost was positive he must have hit the target but he discharged the contents of the other barrel with equally accurate aim and when the supposed bird did not fall, he hastened to investigate and was astonished to discover that he had been shooting at a decoy-duck that had been left there by W. E. Bissell who had preceded him on a hunt a few days before.

Charman's Velvet Cream will cure chapped hands and is a soothing face cream. Gloves can be worn immediately after applying. Large bottle 25 cents.

Residents of Milwaukie Wednesday afternoon discovered floating in an eddy of the Willamette river at that place the body of the man who committed suicide by leaping into the river from the suspension bridge in this city about six weeks ago. Coroner Holman was notified and visited the scene when he directed that the body be forwarded to Oregon City. It was decided unnecessary to hold an inquest for the body is known to be the remains of the suicide of six weeks ago. From a shipping receipt that was found in his clothes, the dead man has been identified as W. A. Kaiser of near Champco, Marion county. The body was brought to this city and unless it is claimed by the relatives of the deceased who are believed to live in Marion county, the remains will be interred here at the expense of the county.

The suit for divorce of Chas. F. Horn against Mary Horn came to an abrupt ending in the circuit court Wednesday afternoon when Judge McBride sustained the motion of counsel for the defendant and dismissed the suit at the close of plaintiff's case. In thus disposing of the suit Judge McBride stated that from the testimony of the plaintiff's own witnesses, Horn was the guilty party and that if any one was granted a legal separation it should be the wife who certainly had ample cause, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment and the excessive beating of plaintiff's children. The parties were married in Pennsylvania in 1875. A few weeks ago Mrs. Horn caused the arrest of her husband on the charge of insanity but the examining board dismissed the complaint. In dismissing the suit Wednesday, however, Judge McBride stated that if Horn is not insane, his mind must be strangely affected. Hedgcock & Griffith were the attorneys for Mrs. Horn.

Superintendent of schools Zinser was in Portland last Saturday in attendance at a meeting of a great many of the prominent educators of the Northwest called to arrange for the holding of an Educational Congress at Portland during the Lewis & Clark Fair next Summer. The probable time for holding the Congress which has been decided upon, will be the last week in August or the first week in September. Superintendent Zinser was one of a committee of seventeen to which was delegated the preliminary work. This committee organized by electing an executive committee consisting of seven members, of which Mr. Zinser is the secretary. The committee, which includes four state superintendents of schools, is composed of Superintendents Ackerman, of Oregon; Bryan, of Washington; Scott of Idaho; and Welch of Montana; D. A. Grout, Portland; President Ferrin, of Pacific University; and Superintendent Zinser. A member of the committee will probably be sent East to interview and secure the services of a number of the prominent educators of the country for the Congress.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Mary Conyers of Portland, assisted by Dom J. Zan, and Mrs. Katharine Ward Pope, lately from New York City, will give a concert in the near future under the auspices of the base ball boys of Pacific University in this city.—Washington County News. (Forest Grove.)

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fields were very pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening in celebration of their wedding anniversary by a company of friends.

The occasion was the twelfth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fields and about forty participated in the surprise. In a brief presentation speech, Mr. C. B. Frissell presented Mr. and Mrs. Fields with an appropriate gift coming from those forming the party. In the game of progressive whist, Mrs. G. Fields, of Canemah, and W. H. Howell received the first and the booby prizes respectively. A delicious luncheon was served.

The Junior League of the Methodist Episcopal Church was entertained Friday evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. J. H. Wood. Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Arden Hickman, Arthur Edmunds, Ernest Edmunds, Harry Brown, Raymond Olson, Leonard Runyan, Willie Bibe, Harold Swafford, Max Rand, Roger Wood, Ernest Mass, Gilbert Thomas, Harry McClure, Arlene Olson, Mable Edmunds, Moreita Hickman, Mary Wood, Myrtle Cross, Maud Woodward, Ada Mass, May Rambo, Hazel Davidson, Myrtle Donovan, Elva Blanchard, adopted by Harding Grange.

Last Friday evening one-half of the membership of the ninth grade class of the Oregon City high school enjoyed an oyster supper at the expense of their classmates. In the solution of a difficult problem recently, the class was about equally divided as to the proper result.

When the members of the class, who had reported the incorrect result, were satisfied of their error, it was decided to settle the controversy by treating their more accurate class mates to an oyster supper. Last Friday night was the time decided upon. The feast was prepared and served by Mrs. C. H. Caulfield and Mrs. H. K. Luse, assisted by Misses Netta Harding and Clara Caulfield. The students partook of the feed in the lecture rooms of the First Congregational church.
