TERSELY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Money Apportioned—County School Superintendent Zinsler made the semi-annual apportionment of the county school fund to the various districts of the county. The apportionment amounted to $2.39 per capita, a total sum of $96,391 being disbursed.

Give Concerts—The Mary Adell Case leaves this week for Eastern Oregon where she will give half dozen recitals in the principal cities in that part of the state. Miss Case has a great many friends in Eastern Oregon who will be glad of this opportunity to hear this pleasing vocalist.

Get Pastor—Rev. H. H. Robbins, of Rochester, New York, to whom the First Baptist church of this city recently extended a call, the pastor of the Oregon City church, has notified the church officers of his acceptance. Rev. Robbins will arrive in Oregon City about May 1.

Salmon Eggs Taken—The Brown superintendent of the state hatchery on the Upper Salmon river, reports that he has already taken this year 100,000 steelhead salmon eggs. There are yet a great many fish in the river just below the falls. Mr. Brown has the prospects for an unusually large crop this year are good.

Postmaster General—There was born Monday afternoon, April 3, 1905, an eight-pound daughter to Postmaster and Mrs. T. P. Randall. The father is disappointed that in addition is not eligible as a Postmaster General. With a bouncing baby on his hands and the securing for Oregon City of a free delivery of mails, he is not difficult to imagine who is one of the most busy men in Oregon City.

Seize Garde Block—The E. M. Burmeister and Wm. Anderson, of the firm of Burmeister & Anderson, and Captain J. M. Graham have become owners of the Garde Block, corner of Main and Seventh streets, at a cost of $120,000. This is the largest consideration of $120,000. This is the principal business block in the city, being located at the suspension bridge corner. It was built in 1902 and was the property of Sol Garde.

Time Allowed—An extension in time until the 20th inst. has been granted the schools of Clackamas county in which to collect and arrange the educational exhibit from this county. The time within which the work is to be in the hands of the committee is the first of April. The extension time that is granted will enable the committee to gather a more complete and creditable exhibit of the work of the schools of the county.

Conditions at Dawson—F. White this week left at the Enterprise office a number of copies of the Dawson Times in which are contained some interesting information concerning the famous gold district. Among the most important items was that announcing the remarkable find of rich quartz in the rapid settlement and growth of the town, a mining camp on the American side 500 miles west of Dawson. Quartz has been found there that goes from $50 to $100 per ton. There are a great many men in the Dawson district engaged either mining or some business venture.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

It Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and the hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to an operation without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, dragging down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am now more strong, vigorous and well.

Have You Any Vinegar?—Any one having a quantity of good vinegar, wine or cider will confer a favor on Henry Gans and W. W. Jesse, superintendents in charge of that feature of the exhibit to be made at the Lewis & Clark Fair from this county, if they will kindly deliver at the court house a quart of either one or all of these products. At the same time they will be performing a valuable service for the committee that is working so hard to collect a creditable exhibit from this county.

All Went Fishing—Oregon City sportsmen eagerly awaited the arrival of the first of April this year. Fishing parties could be seen leaving the city for every direction early Saturday morning and the exodus of citizens, armed with all kinds of fishing tackle was even greater on the following day. Among the successful anglers were H. E. Straight who caught a fine string in Clear Creek. Several of the trout were ten inches long, while he had four that exceeded fifteen inches in length.

Died at Portland—Andrew Hastings, who died at Portland Monday, was 75 years of age. He was a native of Scotland, emigrating to America when a young man. He located in Wisconsin and afterwards came to Oregon where for 25 years he has resided at West Oregon City. He is survived by the following children: John, David, Samuel and Charles, of Pendleton; Mrs. F. R. Baker and Mrs. Julia Barry, of Oregon City; Mrs. Mary Hagar, of Nebraska; and Mrs. Cornfield, of Pendleton.

Had Served Three Months—Harry Ridings, of Marquam, pleaded guilty in the justice court Monday to the larceny of a watch and a small sum of money, the complaining witness being Hon. Geo. L. Ogle, of Malalla. In view of the fact that Ridings has been incarcerated in the county jail for the last three months in default of the required bail, pending the recovery of the complaining witness from sickness, Justice Stipp concluded that the accused young man had been sufficiently punished and ordered Ridings' release.

Bad Case of Insanity—While returning to her home at Clackamas with her husband Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. A. Sieben became violently insane. Officers were summoned and the unfortunate woman, after being persuaded to give up a six-weeks' old child she was carrying in her arms, was brought to the county jail. Mrs. Sieben's demented condition is believed to be the result of child-birth. In addition to the young child that was born six weeks ago, Mrs. Sieben is the mother of two other young children. Mrs. Sieben was committed to the asylum Tuesday afternoon.

Clackamas Has Centenarian—In listing the property of the county, Deputy Assessor J. K. Morris this week enrolled the name of a centenarian, Edward Loney, Pleasant Hill precinct. Mr. Loney, who resides near Wilsonville, last October celebrated his one hundredth birthday anniversary. With the exception of being confined to his home by accident of a broken leg, the result of an recent last Spring, the centenarian is unusually hale and hearty. Mr. Loney is a native of Tennessee and has resided for twenty-three years in Oregon. He is making his home with an only surviving daughter, all of the other members of a large family being dead.

More Illegal Fishing—Late last Friday night, Deputy Fish Warden W. W. Smith and Louis Hall appropriated two net nets that were found in the Willamette river just below the falls in this city. In the nets were found two salmon. Under instructions from State Fish Warden VanDusen, all confiscated property of this character will be forwarded to that official at Astoria to be disposed of to the best interest of the state. Deputies Smith and Hall are extremely vigilant in their patrol of the Willamette and Clackamas rivers in this vicinity and while it has proven impossible to secure a conviction in the courts for illegal fishing, these officers propose to make it especially inconvenient for fishermen in their violation of the law until the fishing season opens on the 15th inst.

Gave Drill at Portland—The Uniform Rank of Oregon City Camp No. 148, Woodmen of the World, consisting of nineteen men, went to Portland last Friday night to attend a meeting of Maitmohm Camp, when the Oregon City team did some drill work exemplifying the work of the Order. The membership of the Uniform Rank is as follows: M. D. Phillips, captain; Tate, first lieutenant; Simmons, second lieutenant; Cromer, Curtis, E. Hendricks, Gosler, E. Frost, R. T. Barbour, D. Bain, O. Erickson, A. Lewis, A. Cannon, E. Waldron, Bruce, Oliver, Still, C. Simmons and H. Saunders. A large number of Woodmen, not in uniform, accompanied the team. On the following night, the Uniform Rank gave a dance at the Army in this city. Everett's orchestra furnishing the music.

Was Landry's Paralysis—The cause of the death of the young daughter of Richard Petzold of this city has been established as a pronounced case of Landry's paralysis, cases of which are very rare with the medical profession. It is the conclusion, however, of the members of the profession in this city, that the fact that there are three other cases in the city of a paralytic nature, is a coincidence, rather than an epidemic. This conclusion is based on the grounds that the other cases under treatment differ essentially from that of the Petzold child and are believed to have resulted from aggravated nervous conditions, since neither of the three cases offers a single symptom of the illness from which the Petzold child died. Landry's paralysis is a rare thing with the medical profession, and thus far medical science has been powerless to intercept its certain fatal results. Frequently death ensues within two or three days following the first symptoms while a case has never been recorded in which the patient survived more than two weeks. In the case of the Petzold child, the little one spent Sunday with her parents visiting the Fair Grounds and City Park at Portland, romping about throughout the day. She complained some of being fatigued Monday and Tuesday although she attended school and partook of her meals regularly as usual. Wednesday morning she complained of not being able to fully use her lower limbs and a physician was called. The lower limbs became paralyzed first, despite the efforts of the attending physician. Then the arms and hands became helpless, the paralysis gradually affecting the entire body until the following Monday morning when death ensued. During the progress of the fatal disease, the patient did not have the slightest fever, retained her appetite and was conscious to the end.

Pupils Are Good—Miss Cochran, a teacher in the Barclay school of the Oregon City public schools, has devised a novel means of punishing disobedient pupils. When the conduct of a pupil becomes such that punishment is deserved, the teacher effects on the desk of the mischievous child a small scarlet flag that is denominated the "danger flag." The effect of the raising of this flag is to place the disobedient scholar in isolation so far as the other pupils in the room are concerned. The pupil, whose desk receives this decoration, is ignored by his classmates and he is left strictly to himself. Usually but a few minutes of this treatment yields from the fractious pupil a solemn promise to mend his ways and in the removal of the scarlet flag, he is restored to his customary place among the other pupils. The experience of this teacher has been a practical demonstration of sparing the rod without impairing the discipline of the school room.—Oregon City Item in Oregonian.

Home For a Visit—Miss M. E. Libbker, professional nurse, formerly of this city, has returned from her ranch near Goldendale, Washington, to attend to some business and at the same time enjoy a short visit with her numerous friends who are glad to see her cheerful face once more. However Miss Libbker did not come to stay, but intends to return shortly to Goldendale where she will remain until she proves up on her claim. Miss Libbker's many friends have greatly missed her and regret that it is necessary for her to absent herself from this community. She was for sixteen years a resident of this city and during that time relieved a great deal of pain and suffering through her professional ability. But what is Oregon City's loss in this particular instance is the gain of the people of Goldendale and Miss Libbker's friends wish her success in her work and profession wherever she may go. Sincerely, loyalty and conscientiousness to her friends and her profession is Miss Libbker's motto, and the success of her work is due largely thereto.

Held to Circuit Court—After a preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Stipp here Monday, Dan Mays, of Portland, was held to the circuit court with bonds fixed at $500 on a charge of stealing seven head of horses from farmers residing on the West Side. Deputy District Attorney Schuchel conducted the prosecution which called only two witnesses, Chas. Mochrke, one of the farmers from whom the horses were stolen and Isaac Bergman, of Astoria, who purchased the stolen animals and identified the prisoner as the man of whom the purchase was made. Attorney Brownell, for the defendant, offered no testimony. W. E. Milan, who is indicted as an accomplice to Mays, waived an examination and was held to the circuit court in cash bonds fixed at $250 which he furnished. The preliminary examination of Neil Olsen, against whom a double charge of horse-stealing is pending, was also given an examination. He will waive an examination at this time and was held to the circuit court.

ONE WORD IN TIME.

Is Better Than Two Afterwards. Oregon City People Have a Chance to Profit by Another's Experience.

It is a strange thing how people will put away an opportunity until too late; its only little things that go to make up every day existence; the trouble is we don't pay sufficient attention to them. Backache is a little thing. Sometimes it comes after a hard day's work, or a slight cold. It will pass off, you say, its only the result of overtaxing my back. It isn't the fault of your back but your kidneys. The exertion or straining has interfered with the delicate mechanism. You call it backache, but it really is kidney ache. If the kidneys are not relieved, chronic disorders set in and this is where the "little things" should not be passed over.

Lee M. Mohr, of Clackamas county, Oregon, writes: "I have used four boxes of Dan's Kidney Pills for kidney and bladder trouble from which I had suffered for fifty years. It was the first medicine I ever used during that time that gave me any relief. It has rid me of a severe pain in the bladder which caused me a great deal of suffering and also has regulated the action of the kidneys."

Plenty more proof like this from Oregon City people. Call at C. G. Huntley's Drug store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Forget About Your Stomach.

begin taking it. This is because it gets a rest—recuperates and generally grows so strong and healthy that it troubles you no more. E. L. ### Good Forage Plant.

For many years Mr. Richard Scott of Milwaukie, Oregon, has been sounding the praise of Thousand-Headed kale as a winter forage plant for feeding milk cows and other stock. On his well-manured farm he secures from 30 to 40 tons of forage per acre from this plant which remains in a growing condition all winter. In our last issue, Mr. W. K. Newell added his testimony to that of Mr. Withycombe also tells us that he forages a large field of usefulness for Thousand-Headed kale in Western Oregon, particularly in the Coast counties. The nature of the soil throughout the large share of the Willamette Valley is such that the daily cutting and hauling from the fields would be a muddy job and injurious to the land. On soils of a different character, however, this objection would not apply. Along the Coast in Western Oregon, kale finds the winter climate ideal and on rich land will produce an amount of succulent food per acre which can not be obtained in any other way now known. Kale, fed in connection with good hay will make winter dairying profitable in the Coast districts which at present confine their operations mainly to the production of milk in summer. It is always to be kept in mind that kale should be fed soon after milking and at no other time.—The Rural Northwest.

CHEER UP!

Why Worry About Indigestion When Pepsikola Will Give You Relief.

"Why any one should worry about indigestion," said the head clerk in Huntley Bros. Co. drug store, "is hard for us to understand. We have been selling Pepsikola for several months now and in all our experience we never knew a remedy to give such universal satisfaction. We know four or five old chronic dyspeptics on the verge of despair for years who to-day are cheerful and happy because all of the beneficial effects of a little chocolate coated tablet taken after each meal.

"If people only realized what a wonderful remedy it is and how much good it has done right in this very town they would not doubt or hesitate another minute." Words can not express the great good it has done in Oregon City, and Pepsikola must be a remedy of more than unusual merit for if Huntley Bros. Co. had to refund the money to very many dissatisfied customers they would certainly discontinue selling it on their own personal guarantee. Ask yourself if this is not true. If you are thin, nervous, worried and in low spirits just cheer up and try a 25 cent box of Pepsikola on the druggist's say so and if it fails to give you new nerve force, new ambition and new energy you can get your money back without any question or argument.

Postmaster T. P. Randall this week made application of the Post Office department at Washington for a free delivery of mail within Oregon City. For the year ending March 31, the receipts of the Oregon City post office aggregated $10,024, exceeding the $10,000 that is required before a city is entitled to this service. This free delivery if mail is enjoyed by the people of Albany, and Eugene, and there is no reason why Oregon City should not have the same service. In asking that this delivery of mail be established at Oregon City, Postmaster Randall should have the support and indorsement of every business man and enterprising citizen.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease from which such a varied and useless set of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured, is therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which now enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Geo. A. Harding.

Aguinaldo's Birth Place.

Aguinaldo's birthplace, and the present home of Aguinaldo's mother, is located in Manila, well out toward the border of the city. It is a plain, unpretentious house, built much on the same style as all the other houses of the masses in Manila with its light, thin walls, cool basement and thatched roof. It stands close to the street, and is crowded in among a number of other houses of its class.

Visitors to Manila frequently visit the place and chat with the aged mother of the famous Filipino leader. While she is the mother of several sons, it is plainly evident she loves Emilio more fervently than any of the others, and her eyes blaze with patriotic fervor when the name of her favorite son is mentioned.—From the Pacific Monthly for April.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Geo. A. Harding.
