Monday night was a red-letter day for Oregon City. Aerie No. 954, Fraternal Order of Eagles. On that evening the charter was closed and twenty candidates were initiated, increasing the charter membership of the order in this city to about 125. Arrangements were also made for the observance of the Eagle's annual Memorial Day which falls on the first Sunday in May.

An energetic lady can secure the agency for this city and surrounding country for a high grade line of Flavoring Extracts, Perfumes, Toilet Articles, Toilet Soaps, etc., by addressing the Pearsall Manufacturing Company, Des Moines, Iowa. They allow a big commission, also give premiums. Write them for sample outfit.

The Oregon Development League convention will be held at the Marquam Grand Theatre, Portland, April 26 and 27. Among the speakers whose names appear on the programme are: Governor Chamberlain, E. L. Smith, Tom Richardson, H. W. Goode, J. R. N. Bell, Frank I. Vawter, B. A. Worthington, C. V. Galloway, J. H. Scott, J. W. Bailey, W. S. Newberry, C. C. Beckman and Jefferson Meyers.

The ardor of trout fishers is beginning to cool so that the general public by a comparison of reports is enabled to judge something as to the most successful anglers. It appears that the record for making the largest catch this season belongs to Ed Reckner and Frank Brown, who returned a few days ago with 700 trout, after a day's fishing on Busch's place, which is reputed to be a source of great inspiration alike to hunters and fishermen.

Sam Morris, the Indian pitcher that Portland used a couple of years ago is now pitching for Joplin, in the Missouri Valley League. Last week Morris pitched against the Chicago American League team and got trimmed 4 to 1. It was not the Indian's fault however, for he held Chicago down to four hits. The men behind him got bucked from being up against big leaguers and they booted the ball around as if it were an old tin can in a game of shinny on your own side.—Exchange.

John Gleason, the good natured member of the city's street department force, actually thought he had lost one of his hands Tuesday. In fact, the extent to which the member had been bandaged suggested a fearful injury, perhaps requiring amputation. Gleason's friends joked him until he finally exhibited his hand when it was observed that the only injury sustained was the severe mashing of one of the fingers that had been caught between two timbers while in the act of constructing a cross-walk.

Every detail connected with the first annual ball to be given by the Eagles at the Armory Monday evening has been attended to and the prospects are bright for a very enjoyable dancing party and a large attendance. The Eagles propose to do things just about right at this, their first public function, and have made ample provision for the comfort and convenience of their guests on this occasion. Those who attend the dance Monday evening may be assured a good time.

The Oregon Semi-Weekly Journal, in addition to containing Paul De Laney's new serial story, "The Sheepherder," is issued twice a week and is brim full of the cream of the news of the world. It has decidedly the best market reports of any paper on the Pacific Coast. For the citizen whose postoffice facilities do not justify a daily paper, the Semi-Weekly Journal is the best investment in reading matter that can be made. For clubbing rates see the editor of this paper.

Pat Harris of Parkplace, who visited St. Vincent's Hospital at Portland, Sunday, reports that Otto, son of Adolph Aschoff, is one of the patients at that institution where he recently underwent an operation for the treatment of a broken leg that had never healed properly since the fracture occurred two years ago. Among the other Clackamas county patients at this hospital Mr. Harris found Mr. Bramhall Sr., of Oak Grove, who has been receiving treatment for falling eyesight and is much improved.

Hon. F. L. Mintie, a former representative in the state legislature from Clackamas county, died last Thursday at his home at Oswego. The deceased was aged 66 years and had resided in Oregon since 1891. He was a native of Thompsonville, Connecticut. During his residence in this county, Mr. Mintie was a prominent church worker. He also figured in politics, having for three years been in the employ of the internal revenue service in Alaska following his term in the state legislature.

Superintendent Dixon and the members of the committee having charge of the Clackamas county Lewis & Clark exhibit have been authorized by the executive committee to employ all help necessary to canvas the county and secure suitable products for use in making up the exhibit from this county. The committee on awards for samples contributed to the display made its report and awarded the cash prizes among the successful competitors. The samples contributed form the nucleus for the making of a splendid display of the products of this county.

The annual graduating exercises of the medical department of the University of Oregon were held at Portland Monday evening. Among the members of the class was Harvey O. Hickman, of this city, who passed third highest in the final examination in a class consisting of 27 members. Mr. Hickman has the hearty congratulations of his many friends in this city who predict for him the successful career in the medical profession that follows a strict application to business and the mastery of every detail. For the present, Dr. Hickman will continue to fill the office of house physician at the St. Vincent's Hospital at Portland, a position he has acceptably filled for several months.

District Attorney Harrison has returned information against Charles Straight and Jacob Wind. The former charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Deputy Fish Wardens Smith and Hall as the result of an altercation as to fishing rights. The charge against Wind is that of selling liquor to a minor. Both men will plead tomorrow. The indictment of Wind is the sequel of the juvenile court that was held by Judge Ryan Monday when six young lads of the city, charged with pilfering, disclosed that they had been expending the proceeds at one of two saloons or a prominent drug store in this city. The charge as to the illegal sale of liquor is being investigated by the authorities.

James Ballantyne and W. W. Boyer, recently from Illinois and old-time friends of our townsman H. P. Brightbill, have established at Hubbard a general merchandise store. The firm has purchased a complete stock that is fresh, new and up-to-date, consisting of everything that goes to make up such a business. These gentlemen are possessed of that quality—push and energy—that is essential to success in any business venture and the people of Hubbard and surrounding country are to be congratulated that the firm decided to establish itself in business at that thriving town. This firm expects to have extensive trade with the farmers who will receive the highest market price for all kinds of farm produce.

Among the noteworthy contributions to the exhibit that is to be made by the Lewis & Clark Fair is that of G. Wallace, a successful farmer at Highland, whose samples did not arrive in the city in time to enter into competition with the other samples that had already been left. Otherwise the committee's awards would unquestionably have been different. Mr. Wallace brought in samples of wheat, oats and apples, each of a superior quality. In addition he left at the court house two samples of the finest potatoes the writer ever saw in the state. They were the Beauty of Hebron and McKinley varieties and average samples of each weighed one and a half pounds. The potatoes were perfectly formed, fully matured and without a blemish. The contribution may be considered a valuable one to the exhibit.

Those Barclay High School baseball players are not afraid to tackle anything. Winter Rates to Yaquina Bay. In order to accommodate the many people who wish to make a winter trip to Yaquina Bay, the Southern Pacific Co. will sell, on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week, until March 31, 1905, round trip tickets at low rates, to Yaquina and return, limited to sixty days from date of sale. Those who desire to take advantage of this rate should apply to nearest Southern Pacific agent for tickets. Milwaukie Grange has purchased from the Master of the Pomona Grange the prize wagon for $70.00. The payment being guaranteed by O. E. Freytag by July 1st. Mr. Freytag, as a committee from said Grange, came before the Executive Committee of the Lewis and Clark Clackamas County Exhibit—with a proposition to sell to the committee the prize wagon for $120.00, thus securing $50 for the Milwaukie Grange. The committee rejected the proposition as the time has past for the Lewis and Clark Committee to handle the selling of the wagon successfully to its cause and did not see the necessity of paying any one grange a bonus now, when the wagon could have been purchased directly from Pomona Grange by the Lewis & Clark Committee for $70.00. OREGON CITY was this week visited by two smooth, transient photographers who perpetrated the old graft of photographing residences, offices or place of business. After introducing themselves, the fellows with the camera would request the privilege of taking a photograph. The request being granted, the picture was taken and the next day an order was solicited for a number of the photographs. To the credit of the people of Oregon City, it may be said that the pair did not prosper in any great extent this time. The pictures made by such photographers may be good, but there are located in Oregon City two competent artists who, in conducting galleries, strive to keep abreast of the times and offer the people of this city the very latest pic-
