CROWN PAPER CO.

In every leading community there are certain commercial and manufacturing industries whose importance, success and high character constitute an essential element in the growth and advancement of the locality wherein they are located. They are important factors in the business community, and, when describing the progress thereof, it is eminently necessary to give them prominent mention, and the business that comes to the locality through their efforts. Such is the special line of the Crown Paper Company. This enterprising and progressive firm is a manufacturer of wrapping papers of all kinds. Their trade has increased very rapidly since their inception, at the present time giving employment to two hundred and fifty to three hundred men, and the firm has gained a very enviable distinction for fair dealing, promptness and carefulness in the filling of orders, which is very instrumental in bringing to them an ever increasing volume of business. They are also very aggressive, and ever pushing to the front with new ideas, conforming to or leading in, any change for the better in their industry. They have been the recipients of very large orders from all parts of the country and ship an immense quantity of their products every year. Mr. W. P. Hawley is the efficient and able manager of this immense plant and he has given his every attention to the perfecting of the output in quality and quantity and in facilitating the movement of the product. His wide experience and business training and intimate knowledge of conditions of manufacturing were acquired in the East where Mr. Hawley was for many years engaged in the paper making business at Watertown, New York. This knowledge he brought with him to the Coast and to it and his energetic management is responsible for the growth to its present large proportions of the Crown Paper Company in which he is the second largest owner.

Advice.

Bertha L. writes: "I am 27 years old and have just received my first proposal."

Would you advise me to marry a man whose income is only $8.00 a week? Yes, Bertha, snap him up. You may live to regret it, but the chances are 100 to 1 that you'd regret it more if you permitted him to get away.

"Owed" to Spring.

In the days of early April, Days of sunshine wet and rain, Mother rallies all her forces, Opens up the Spring campaign.

First we carry out the sofa, Bank it round with every chair, Headstead, bureau, mattress, table, Till the house looks gaunt and bare.

Still we show no weak relenting, For the carpets still on floors, And all down things must come upward And be carried out of doors.

When the rooms are bare and empty, 'Tis the point where mother looms Large upon our near horizon, Armed with rags and mops and brooms.

Also pails of soapy water, And perhaps some air slacked lime Go to swell enthusiasm In the glad house cleaning time.

O, the joy of pasting paper On the ceilings and the walls! Oh, the sweet smell of the varnish On the woodwork in the halls!

Oh, how nice to sort the cupboard, Where we keep our cures for ills, See the lotions, powders, potions, Liniments and salves and pills.

Now we eat our dinner standing All around the kitchen range, If we get too tired on one foot Then we "make a little change."

With our lumbar muscles aching, And the biceps like to crack, With what joyous looks and actions We begin to put things back.

Oh, the gay and glad house cleaning, All its joys I may not speak; I must save my breath and muscle— We expect to clean next week!

The One Great Purpose.

They work, they cheat, they plan, they fret, They harbor earnest yearnings, And hate the ones who scheme to get Possession of their earnings.

Through busy days and trying years One eager hope they treasure; One call assails their listening ears In sorrow and in pleasure.

They pray for wealth and when the fates Are kind enough to send it They hurry from their native states To gay New York and spend it.

Mistaken Identity.

"Well, my son," said the stranger who was taking in the sights of Salt Lake City, "I'm glad to hear you whistling."

I hope you are as happy as you seem." "I ain't your son," returned the child. "Ma told me my pa was a short, fat man with whiskers."

Your Birthday.

Your birthday, dear me! And you still repose In me sweet confidence, still deem me brave And wise and good, and give no heed to those Who scorn me and withhold the praise I crave.

Your birthday! And you still can come to me With trust and love, and my lost hopes restore— But, oh, my little one, how shall it be When you are worldly wise and five times four? —S. E. Kiser.

After the Play.

She—Do you believe dreams go by contraries? He—I guess they must. I dreamed last night that I asked you to supper after the play, and your order came to only 20 cents.

Nat All One-Sided.

"Why," she complained, "is a man allowed to do things that a woman cannot do without being disgraced? Tell me that, if you think our privileges are as great as the ones you possess."

"Oh, that's all right. Women are allowed to do things that men couldn't do without running the risk of being shut up in a lunatic asylum. Think what they would do to a man who, being in moderate circumstances, would want to pay $30 for a hat."

Let Off.

"Now," asked the lawyer, "have you ever written a musical comedy?" "Must I answer that question?" the witness implored, turning to the judge. "Oh, no, never mind, if it will incriminate you."

Their Only Excuse for Existing.

It is pretty hard to make some people understand why there should be old bachelor uncles in this world if they don't know enough to get rich.

He—As I sat there alone, Hilda came along and offered me a penny for my thoughts.

She—The extravagant creature.—Boston Transcript.

Jim—Say, Bill, wot would yer do if yer had a million dollar?

Bill—Oh, I s'pose I'd blow about half uv it making meself sick an' de other half trying ter find out wot wuz de matter wid me.

Their Stay.

"I suppose your wife and daughter had a grand time in Europe?"

"Yes." "How long were they in Paris?" "I don't remember now, but long enough to learn to call it a pon-say-on without batting an eye."

tone up the stomach and purify the blood so surely as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Most medicines as sold on the market contain large quantities of alcohol.

Dr. Pierce is always willing to give free medical advice to all who are suffering. If you are sick and afflicted, write him, stating fully all your trouble, and he will consider your case carefully and send you reliable medical advice and directions to bring about a cure of your condition. Special medicines are recommended in cases where the disease is one which does not yield readily to the family medicines. All letters and information are regarded as sacredly confidential and no letters are printed without the full written consent of the patient.

A chemical test of the water from the human body will tell whether the kidneys are in good health or not. These tests of health are conducted by expert physicians every day, and such examinations are no small part of the work of the staff of physicians and surgeons under the direction of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute there. Many wonderful cures are accomplished every day through this means, as witness the example of Sergeant Campbell, one of the many:

"About four years ago," writes Jerome Campbell (Sergeant, 73rd C. Coast Artillery), of 106 Clifford Street, Detroit, Mich. "I began to notice that I suffered from backache which kept getting worse and worse. I felt weak and faint, had frequent vomiting spells and felt sick all over. The doctor examined me and finding urine highly colored, strong in odor and containing considerable brickdust, said I had Bright's Disease and bladder trouble. This naturally worried me, and I at once took a course of the treatment he prescribed. As this did not help me any I changed doctors, and after two months' trial of the second one without getting better decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which some of my comrades advised me to try. Within two weeks I felt that my general health was improving and in two months more I was cured. Only those who have suffered as I have can know what relief and what a blessing I experienced, and how grateful I am to Dr. R. V. Pierce for my recovery."

A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

requires a powerful army and competent leadership. The necessary rules of hygiene and health to wage successful warfare against disease are fully laid down and explained in The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. This great book of 1008 pages is sent free to all who apply, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. The Anatomy and Physiology of the Body, Nature and Prevention of Disease, are all fully described and explained in plain English. Over 2,000,000 copies have been distributed, and it should be in every home. It has saved much suffering and many valuable lives.

GIVE FULL HONOR WHERE DUE.

FORCE, success, power, in war or peace, depend upon the physical condition of the soldier. Most important for success in any life of strenuousness, where brain energy is required as well as muscle power, is a healthy stomach. We do not depend on the food eaten for strength, but on the proper digestion. Very often the stomach is powerless to digest the food properly and the blood gets out of order in consequence, not only because of stomach weakness, but also because the liver and kidneys are not able to get rid of the poisons in the system, and poisonous matters are thrown back into the blood, causing headache, backache, bowel irregularities, and often severe illness, accompanied by jaundice, where these liver poisons are so abundant as to give a yellow color to the skin. The several organs of the body which take care of the worn out tissues, as the kidneys, bowels, liver, get out of order without being noticed, and this poisonous matter becomes an active poison if it remains in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery helps in driving out the poisonous matter and brings to the blood a tone and vigor which will resist disease. All these organs require nourishing blood as well as the body tissues. The best means of assisting nature to "clean house" and put the system in good order as well as furnish pure, rich blood to the system is by taking that well known vegetable tonic and alterative, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Being made without alcohol, this "Discovery" does not shrink up the red blood corpuscles, but gives them a healthy tone and a rich color.

THE CONTROL OF A STRATEGIC POSITION

often decides a war, and may influence the destinies of a great nation. The strategic points in the body are pure blood and a healthy stomach. The onslaughts of the germs of disease are futile and unavailing, if the strongholds of the bodily defenses are impregnable. The battle of the cells, wherein the blood corpuscles of the body are arrayed against the germs of disease may be decided in favor of one side or the other, and it is only reasonable that we should give the soldiers of the system every advantage. If the blood is poor, their base of supplies is shut off, and if the poisons of the system are retained, the flank attack thus encouraged often results in a complete victory for the disease germs. There is no remedy that will

We guarantee that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does not contain alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. It is a pure compound of medicinal plants scientifically combined. Centennial News.

The Boston Herald will send a large party of New England teachers to the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Oregon's mining display at the Exposition will show astonishingly rich deposits of gold, silver and copper, with specimens of gold from very rich new discoveries that run as high as $20,000 to the ton.

The Fair Japan concession building on the Trail is now in course of construction. It will be finished a week before the opening day. This is to be one of the most interesting features of the Trail.

The Easter dress parade at the Exposition was gorgeous. Many thousands of people entered the exposition gates, the day being delightfully bright and balmy. Everybody was astonished at the rapid progress of the work of finishing the exposition.

Officials of the War Department and the Interior Department have arrived from Washington and are hard at work installing the exhibits of those branches of the government at the Exposition.

Two special trains, magnificently equipped, will bring to the Exposition in July several hundred of the leading business men of Denver, under the auspices of the Denver Commercial Club. In the party will be a number of millionaires. This promises to be the most elaborate commercial "junket" ever undertaken in America.

Macleny's Canyon, a wonderful scenic park leading up into the mountains from the Exposition grounds, promises to attract thousands of people who will visit Portland this summer. The park is still in its primeval state, except for winding paths that lead through the trees and up and down the steep hills.

The customer brought the parrot back to the dealer's. "I want a bird of correct habits, of course," he said, "but I didn't want one that had been raised in a Boston family. It doesn't do anything but spout Ibsen at us. Have you got one that swears?"—Ex.

GREAT GOAT INDUSTRY.

Mohair Clip in Oregon Will Aggregate 400,000 Pounds This Year.

The great mohair harvest of the state is over and it is estimated that the clip this year will aggregate from 350,000 to 400,000 pounds, which is a slight increase over the crop of last year. The market, too, for this high grade and much-demanded product has opened up well and 20 cents a pound is being paid at the present time, which is considered a high average price, says the Salem Statesman.

This is another of the many products in which the state of Oregon excels, the Oregon mohair being classed as the very best on the market and it commands the highest prices. It is chiefly a Willamette valley product as it is raised almost exclusively in Polk, Yamhill, Marion, Washington, Linn, Benton, Lane, and Douglas counties. There are a few small and scattering herds of goats in Eastern Oregon, but the attention of the stock men there is devoted principally to raising sheep and cattle rather than goats.

This is an industry which does not increase very rapidly, not so much as in the case of sheep because the goat is not as hardy an animal, especially when young as the kids require great care and attention in raising until they arrive at a certain age when they are more hardy than sheep. The goat industry is perhaps one of the least expensive of any in the state, therefore making the profit all the greater. The greater portion of the expense in raising goats is in the taking care of the kids, as they are very delicate when extremely young. About 75 per cent of the kids that are born are raised to maturity.

The market is strong and with a slight upward tendency. The usual annual pool of the mohair has been formed by the Polk and Yamhill county Mohair Growers' Associations, the aggregate holdings of these two pools amounting to about 100,000 pounds, which is about the same as that of last year. This pool will be placed on the market at Dallas on April 1. They are always successful as the growers usually receive from 2 to 4 and 5 cents above the market price.

Roosevelt's Old Buggy.
Richard Johnson of Minot, N. D., owns a buggy which was used by Theodore Roosevelt on his Maltosa Cross ranch in North Dakota nearly twenty-five years ago. The buggy had been in use for fifteen years prior to the time young Roosevelt used it. Mr. Johnson will send the old vehicle to the Lewis & Clark Exposition as an exhibit. Many of the trappings used by Roosevelt during his two years' sojourn in Dakota have been preserved by his admirers. One of these relics is a dinky little old straw hat which looks very funny now, but it was the New York style when the young man wore it out to Dakota in 1881. Efforts are being made to send this hat and other Roosevelt relics from North Dakota to the Exposition.

Finally.
"Do you think we shall ever have universal peace?"
"Well it will depend on whether people finally quit building the fences or not."

"It's bad enough for you to come home intoxicated," said Mrs. Lushman, "but why so late?" "Well, you see, m' dear, my friend's foolishly shent me home by methenger-boy."
