I. W. VETERANS TO GET PENSIONS.

New Pension Commissioner Requires Compliance With Spirit of Law.

Washington, May 9 .- After three years of more or less bitter contention with the Secretary of the Interior, the Pension Office has decided to place a liberal construction upon the Indian War veteran act of June 27, 1902, and will hereafter allow pension claims filed under that act without requiring an endless amount of irrelevant evidence that does not have any especial bearing on the case.

The Indian war pension law was passed main entrance to the entrance to the Lewis & Clark Exposition has been comwith a view to affording immediate re-Idaho. The law provided that each claim allowed should be at the rate of $8.00 a month. and all should be allowed from the date of the passage of the act.

Unfortunately the interpretation of this law fell into the hands of some one of more subordinate officials of the Pension persons per second, or even more in a Office, men who were sticklers for technicalities and regarded the word rather sons may pass through these gates in a than the spirit of the law. In one way or another these men have been able to defeat the purposes of the law in dozens of cases, and have, by adroit means, kept deserving veterans from drawing pensions to which they are undoubtedly entitled. Commissioner Ware, when at the seum of Arts, one at the American Inn head of the Pension Office, declared that and the other at the northeast corner of it was his purpose to liberally interpret the grounds, which will admit visitors the Indian War act, but he relied upon coming by boat on the Williamette river his subordinates, who pulled the wool over his eyes, and handled Indian War claims to suit themselves. It has required persistent effort to bring about a condition in the Pension Office whereby pension claims of Indian for $20, good for 137 admissions, or one war veterans shall be acted upon generously, and in accordance with the spirit of the law of June 27, 1902.
