TERSELY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Pioneer's Reception—Governor T. T. Geer will deliver his address at the reception to be tendered the pioneers of Clackamas county by the Women's Club at the Willamette Hall in this city Wednesday. Individual invitations will be issued but the entertaining Club has arranged to arrange to attend the event which is celebrated annually by the Women's Club of this city.

Are Getting Fat—F. Jones, of Toledo, passed through the city on his way to Oregon City. He is trying a land case this week. "The claims are growing fat," remarked Mr. Jones, referring to the thirty days of claims he is to furnish for the take to be given in connection with setting of the Willamette Valley in Independence soon after the signing of the Lewis & Clark Fair—Enterprise.

Warriors Entertain—Friday evening the members of the Iroquois Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men of this city, held open session and dined in a thorough manner the members of the Fraternal Order of the and a few invited guests. After formal programme of speechmaking, music, refreshments were served. Kelly was chairman of the meet which was productive of much fun and in attendance.

They Fishing Illegally?—A question has arisen as to the right of fishermen to fish for salmon in the bay of the Willamette River and Pocompany's mill on the island below falls. The matter has been referred to the district Attorney Allen for an opinion. It seems that if measured diagonally across the island the men are fishing in the prescribed unlawful distance. The ladder, but if measured around the waterline they were fishing in the water and are not under the jurisdiction of the wardens.

Wonderful Sagacity—C. I. Cozard, of Cozard's Call-a-Dog, Monkey and Goat Circus will bring one hundred dogs that Cozard exhibits with his splendid animal and canine paradox. Over hundred demure Shetland ponies and boys are also with the show and the ships between these dumb animals much a source of constant wonder. Exhibitions will be given at Oregon west end of suspension at 2 and 3, Sunday, May 28. Admission, 15 cents; adults 25 cents.

Husband is Much Married—Saying that her husband had another living from whom he had not been separated when she married him in Portland in March, last, Mrs. C. M. of Portland, has filed in the Clackamas county circuit court a suit for divorce against H. R. Timothe. Because of the perjury of the defendant, the plaintiff admits that she abandoned her husband in April following her marriage to him. Plaintiff asks to have matrimonial alliance between herself and defendant dissolved and desires to use her maiden name which was C. Smith.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Women is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some defect or displacement of the female organs they are barren. Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it restores tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation. A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the heritage of a good constitution. Is it not an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity? Expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in bleeding, and in disappointments at birth. The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Many Women Have Been Benefitted by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.

Fourth of July Notes—The present standing of the candidates for the Goddess of Liberty for the Firemen's Tournament and Fourth of July Celebration to be held here, July 3-5, is as follows: Miss Lutz, 1937; Miss Klemsen, 856; Miss Kelly, 723. It has been decided to terminate the contest on Saturday evening, June 17. The general committee has received much encouragement in connection with the horse race tournament that will be a special feature of the celebration. There will be competing teams from Vancouver, Salem and Portland, which with the Oregon City team will make five. Eugene, Forest Grove, Albany and Corvallis may also be represented.

More Divorce Suits—Bumming around the streets and drinking booze' is a charge preferred by her husband to which Maud F. Davis takes exception. The wife has filed suit for divorce from Adelbert J. Davis to whom she was wedded at Seattle in August, 1904. In the complaint the husband is accused of failure to provide besides making himself generally disagreeable. Mrs. Smith wants to resume her maiden name, Maud F. Page. Ida McNutt has brought suit for divorce from R. U. McNutt on the grounds of habitual and gross drunkenness that was contracted subsequently to the marriage of the parties which took place at Glencoe, Washington county, in 1890.

Letter from Lincoln—Among the many interesting relics that will be exhibited at the Lewis & Clark Fair will be a framed letter that was written by President Lincoln under date of December 2, 1861. This communication is now the property of Miss Mary B. Barlow, of Barlow, this county. The letter was addressed to Mrs. M. A. Barlow and was an expression of thanks from the President for a beautiful silk quilt that had been presented to him. The quilt was afterwards sold for $500, and the proceeds were used to establish the first soldier's home in the country. Another interesting curiosity is the old-fashioned carriage, the property of the late Wm. Barlow. This vehicle was received in Oregon in 1845 after a voyage around the Horn. It will also be included in the exhibit at the 1905 Exposition.

Miss Williams' Concert—Despite the very unpleasant evening, the many friends of Miss Veda Williams braved the storm and attended the farewell concert that was given for Miss Williams at Woodmen Hall Monday evening. In giving the concert, Miss Williams was assisted by local and Portland talent that combined to give a programme of excellence. The soloists included Mrs. C. W. Pope, Miss Harding, of this city, Miss Conyers, and Mr. Stuart McGuire, of Portland. It was Mr. McGuire's initial appearance at Oregon City and he made a very favorable impression on his auditors who hope for frequent opportunities to hear him. Miss Williams played a number of difficult selections in her usual skillful manner while the other soloists also did well. Miss Dorothy Cross, whom it is a pleasure to hear, gave two excellent readings. While regretting to hear of her prospective departure from Oregon City, Miss Williams' many friends here wish for her added success in the pursuit of her musical studies which she expects to take up at Chicago this Fall.

Crushed by Logs—Irvin Lacroz sustained painful if not serious injuries and miraculously escaped with his life Tuesday morning while working on some logs two miles from Viola. One of the timbers broke loose from the chains by which it was held, and Lacroz was caught by it and carried into Eagle Creek, being caught between two logs in that stream from which it was impossible to extricate the lad until help arrived about thirty minutes later. Dr. Mount was summoned from Oregon City and made the trip to the scene of the accident in the remarkable time of one hour and twenty minutes. Use was made of the rural telephone line by means of which the news of the accident was conveyed to this city and summoning a physician who had started within a few minutes following the accident. At different points along the road, the doctor was notified by some farmer, who had been in communication with Viola over the telephone, to hasten rapidly as possible for the injured man was in great pain. Lacroz, who is unmarried and only 25 years of age, was badly crushed at the waist, his condition requiring his removal to a Portland hospital.

General Summary—The past week has been too cool for rapid growth. Frosts occurred on Wednesday and Thursday mornings in nearly all portions of the State. No damage resulted except to potatoes and tender garden truck, the vines of which in many places were killed to the ground. The rainfall of the week, although light, was general and very beneficial. Warmer weather is now needed to advance the growth of corn, hops gardens and spring grain. Fall wheat and fall barley are heading nicely, and these crops are making satisfactory progress. Spring wheat and oats have made but little growth during the week and a few complaints are received of spring grain turning yellow and of its being infested with aphid, which is retarding its growth. Hops are growing unevenly, with the new yards doing better than the old yards. Corn is nearly all planted and the farmers are now busy planting late potatoes. Pasture and stock are in excellent condition and the cutting of the first crop of alfalfa will begin in the southern counties next week. Cherries, peaches, prunes and apples are very uneven, and fruit yields are generally expected to be below the average.

Central For Farmers' Lines—J. L. Campbell was in Beaver Creek Saturday night attending a meeting of the citizens of that section relative to the establishment of a central station in Oregon City for the various farmers' telephone lines throughout the county, says the Telegram correspondent. Several mutual and independent lines are now in operation and have been very successful. Mr. Bonney, who operates a system toward Logan and Redland, has a franchise over Oregon City's streets, but as yet has no central station. The plan of the Board of Trade, of which Mr. Campbell is secretary, is to apply for a franchise from the Council that would permit the lines of any farmers' company to enter, and then establish a switchboard and central office for all of the outside systems. By so doing quite an extensive system could be maintained at small cost. Beaver Creek people are inclined to consider the plan in a favorable light, and tendered Mr. Campbell a vote of thanks for his interest in the matter. He urged upon the citizens there the necessity of forming a commercial body to aid in upbuilding the county.

Entertained at Barlow—More than a score of the members of the Oregon City Women's Club very pleasantly spent last Thursday at Barlow, the guests of Miss Mary S. Barlow. During the afternoon Miss Veva Tuill sang two solos, being accompanied by Miss Barlow. Miss Katie Barclay played an instrumental selection and at the noon hour a splendid dinner was served. Rev. P. K. Hammond, who was the only gentleman in the company, appropriately suggested three cheers for Miss Barlow as the company departed for their homes and the vigor with which the cheers were responded to was a most convincing evidence that the guests had thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Mrs. Emille G. Hendricks, vice-president of the Salem Women's Club, was also one of the guests of Miss Barlow on this occasion. Those in attendance were: Miss Emille G. Hendricks, of Salem; Liddle L. Irwin, Mrs. S. A. Carpenter, Miss Mary S. Barlow, Mrs. Jennie Sheppard Clark, Mrs. W. W. Jesse, Miss Dorothy Clark, Miss Veva Tuill, Miss Bessie Sheppard, Mrs. M. W. Sheppard of Barlow; Mrs. M. E. Norris, Mrs. C. G. Miller, Rev. P. K. Hammond, Mrs. Rena Kinnaird, Mrs. Emily M. Hammond, Mrs. Erma Lawrence Jones, Mrs. Sara S. Sommer, Mrs. Hattie Barclay Pratt, Miss Katie Barclay Pratt, Mrs. Rosina Fuchs, Mrs. Maggie Gardiner, Mrs. Elizabeth Fuchs, Mrs. Mary B. O'Ren, Mrs. Emma Galloway, Mrs. Jennie B. Harding, Rev. P. K. Hammond, Ward Hammond, Marguerite Hammond, of Oregon City.

WILL HOLD ANOTHER INSTITUTE.

Interesting Programme for Milwaukie—The second of a series of Farmers' Institutes that are being held by Milwaukie Grange at their hall at Milwaukie, will be held Friday afternoon, June 2. Dr. James Withycombe, of the state agricultural college experiment station, will be the principal speaker and will discuss "Intensified Farming." Other addresses will be delivered as follows: Prof. A. B. Cordley, "Spraying"; Prof. F. L. Kent, "Dairying on a Small Farm." The farmers of Milwaukie and in fact Clackamas county are taking a great interest in these institutes which are helpful to the farmer. James H. Reid, of Milwaukie, was in the city Tuesday arranging the details of the coming institute which will be largely attended by the producers throughout the county.

Decomposed granite has been spread over the flooring of the Trail and Bridge of Nations at the Lewis & Clark Fair. This material has been used to advantage in making all of the paths and roadways at Centennial, and it greatly improves the appearance of the gaily boulevard.

CONCERNING WATCHES!

Quality is the first importance in selecting a watch and it requires expert knowledge of the business to actually know the real value.

There are all sorts of watches on the market and all look somewhat alike. There are differences, however in constructive workmanship, in finish and decoration, in wearing quality, time keeping and in price.

That is why you must rely entirely upon the party from whom you purchase your watch.

Our record for honest, straightforward dealings is what has made us the largest house in Clackamas County. We are constantly adding new goods of the latest designs and are showing an unusually attractive assortment of handsome patterns in solid gold and filled watches.

We have watches in nickel for boys from $1.00 up; for men from $5.00 up. Ladies and gents gold filled watches from $10.00 up. We would like to have you come and see our $15.00 and $20.00 watches. They are beauties.

We do fine watch repairing and guarantee all work.

TALK OF THE FARM.

tion, as the beaver usually worked in a depression, filling it with roots and logs, which must be worked out. There were many formations to contend with. "I am very particular about the seed I use. I must know that it is first-class," said Mr. Johnson, "and I do not purchase anywhere in the market. Poor seed will not produce a good crop. In raising seed pick out the largest and plumpest so grow seed from. I prefer to pay $2.50 per pound for good seed than 75 cents for poor. Once in the ground you must keep the weeds down, for the onions will not contend against the weeds. You cannot properly cure them unless free from weeds. I have grown as firm onions from beaver land as any onions I have ever seen. I always use seed, and do not transplant, as is done in the East. I get good results from the seeds. Salt is a good thing to kill out the small insects in the early season. I never use the commercial fertilizers. They simply force the season's crop without benefitting the land. It is like patent medicine; you must increase the dose constantly to get any good out of it. I have found that the barn manure is the only fertilizer which does the land permanent good."

J. H. Reed—You don't transplant onions? J. L. Johnson—We don't transplant onions in Oregon. That is the way we do things in the East. I sow the seed all the way from October to April. Mr. Reed—At the Oregon Agricultural College an experiment was tried. From one acre of onions transplanted they got 94 bushels of onions, and from one acre of seeds they got 348 bushels. How do you account for that? Mr. Johnson—I usually get 600 bushels per acre from land sowed in seeds. Taking in consideration the cost of transplanting onions compared with drilling in the seeds, the balance is largely in favor of the latter method. Captain J. T. Apperson said the best results were from transplanting and this method produced the best, firmest onions for keeping and for the market. He said he considered that there was much land in the Willamette Valley where first-class onions could be produced that was not beaver dam land. He did not consider beaver dam the best for the purpose. His contention was that the farmers of the Willamette Valley could produce thousands of high-grade onions on their land by proper cultivation. He contended that the best results came from onions transplanted in rows three to four inches apart, and not from the seeds. Sometimes a row became a solid mass of onions each three and four inches broad, firm and fine for keeping. O. A. Freytag, who raises high-grade vegetables, said that preparation of the land spelled success or failure. He said he prepared the land first and then gave it rest for two weeks before he planted anything. Better results were obtained. He had obtained the best results from the Danish snowball cauliflower, called the Japanese bullet. He sets out the plants about three feet apart. Some people, who have small tracts, set out plants one foot apart, but these can never produce high-grade vegetables. Mr.

Deserves Your Patronage. The growth of a community and the success of its local institutions depends entirely on the loyalty of its people. It is well enough to preach "patronize home industry" but except the service given at a home institution equals that of out-of-town enterprises, this argument carries no weight and is entirely disregarded, as it should be. But with Oregon City people it is different. A few months ago E. L. Johnson established the Cascade Laundry. It is equipped with the latest improved machinery and is daily turning out work that is equal to any and superior to much of the laundry work that is being done in Portland. Being a home institution and furnishing employment for many Oregon City people it is enjoying an immense patronage. The high standard of the work being done commends it to the general public. Laundry left at the O. K. barber shop will be promptly called for and delivered to any part of the city. Telephone 1204. E. L. Johnson, proprietor.

Freitag said he was able to obtain two or three crops of cabbage by setting out the plants wide apart, then setting out again plants between the rows, so that after the first crop is out of the way there is another. He often obtained the best results from the last or third crop. In his garden are growing about 12 different kinds of cauliflower and cabbage from which he hopes to develop something better than he now has. He strives to get something better every year. Mr. Freitag said only the best of seeds should be purchased. He had obtained best results from seeds purchased in Europe, as the growers there seem to take more pains. All the seeds he had purchased from abroad had turned out exactly as represented. Clackamas county will make an effort to win the $1000 prize offered by the Lewis and Clark Fair Commission for the best agricultural display. Captain Apperson, of Parkplace, was at the Milwaukie Grange Saturday to ask the co-operation of the Grangers in the preparation and maintaining of the exhibit. He asked that everyone begin now in the collection of grasses. "We want to show the Yankees who come out here," said Captain Apperson, "that we can grow fine grasses and everything else. Send your contributions either to the courthouse at Oregon City or to Portland where they will be received and taken care of. Clackamas county has a space 18 by 50 feet. We asked for 100 by 50 feet, but that was all we could get, but we have as much space as any other county in this state. We want to make the very best display possible from Clackamas county by the co-operation of the farmers."
