Announcement has been made that a suite of rooms in the Blazier Building, West Park and Washington streets, has been secured into which the Oregon City Land Office will be moved July 1. It has been decided by the board of directors of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association to remodel the kitchen building at the Chautauqua grounds. Deserted by a faithless husband and father three months ago, Mrs. E. A. Roberts and children, who have since been dependent on the county and charitably inclined persons, were this week furnished transportation by the county to Michigan where they have relatives who will care for them. Drafted into the service of his country, I. Mori, proprietor of a restaurant in this city, this week closed his place of business and will leave for the recruiting station. Information of Mori's calling into the service of the Japanese government reached him Monday and notwithstanding the fact that he was having a very prosperous business, he has suspended work at his restaurant. Although the summons to service reached Mori simultaneously with the news of Togo's signal victory over the Russian squadron, it did not have the effect of dimming in the slightest degree the broad smile that has decorated the Jap's countenance since Monday's dispatches were published.

As the time of the three days' celebration approaches, the details of the combined Firemen's Tournament and Fourth of July celebration are being worked out by the committees in charge and the present status of things indicates that the demonstration will be among the most successful ever held at Oregon City. All of the committees are working hard. Several fraternal organizations are arranging to participate in the industrial parade and compete for the various prizes that are offered. Interest in the Goddess of Liberty contest is increasing and the wise ones say that the finish will not be slow. The horse team is training hard for the tournament races, which will comprise one of the most interesting features of the three days' celebration.
