Mr. and Mrs. Warnock took her to Oregon City to visit her brother and sister, Robert Hughes and Mrs. Robert Wilson, and to have medical care. The writer and all of her old friends wish that when she goes back to the Palouse country, she may have regained her health.

The writer was in Oregon City the other day and conversing with a young Socialist who appeared to be very much absorbed in the study of Socialism and political economy. He cited W. V. Meyers' theory that two classes cannot be given justice. It would be far more sensible if this young man would not reach out so far and be so melancholy and brood over the troubles of the laboring man. He would come nearer learning the size of his problem if he would try not to help the whole world at once but the few people he meets each day. In that way he would do much more good in the end.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber, of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used. Sold by Geo. A. Harding."

John Mays, who is generally known as "Curley" was returning from Willamette on Wednesday when the draw-pin holding the single-tree broke coming down the hill beyond the Fields bridge and he was thrown from the carriage and dragged a short distance. The accident was witnessed by Mrs. Miller and she called Mr. Hiatt, who was waiting for the car, and they thought at first that the man was dead and it took quite a little time to bring him to life. A telephone message was sent up to friends and Frank and Walter Sharp drove down and got him. They found him able to walk to the road and ride home. His face and leg were badly skinned and he was shaken up generally but remarked that he would be, all right by morning. It was a close call for him.

Geo. Saum, Jr., who narrowly escaped having his eye hooked out by one of his oxen, has almost entirely recovered, although it is still a little blood-shot.

BEAUTIFUL OREGON CITY WOMEN.

The Secret of Their Increasing Charm. It is really surprising that in such a short time there should be so marked an improvement in the appearance of so many Oregon City ladies, but it is not surprising when the cause of this improvement is known.

Few women are willing to disclose their complexion secrets but it is pretty well known that in many instances the improvement is due to Laxakola.

Rarely indeed does any purchaser fail to receive immediate benefit from the use of a 25 cent bottle of Laxakola and in not more than one or two instances have Huntley Bros Co. been called upon to refund the money.

Laxakola is a fine tonic as well, it brightens the eyes, quickens the circulation, opens the pores, stimulates the liver and by its beneficial action upon the bile pigments it freshens and clears up the skin and gives it a clean, velvety appearance.

This statement should interest every one who is costive or bilious or subject to nervous spells and sick headache with coated tongue and a cloudy, sallow complexion, for Laxakola is the only liquid laxative sold in Oregon City with the positive understanding that it absolutely must relieve these conditions or Huntley Bros Co. will cheerfully return your money.

Dr. G. G. Green, of Woodbury, New Jersey, will mail for a 2c stamp, (simply for postage), one of his great novelties, a wooden box with glass top containing six little colored balls. He Went.

"If I could read your thoughts," said he, "What secrets I should know!"

"And in addition," answered she, "You'd take your hat and go."
