

Constipated All His Life.

MR. and MRS. WILBERT THOMPSON,
801 Main St., Peoria, Ill.
MULL'S GRAPE TONIC CURED HIM.

Wilbert Thompson never knew a well day until last June—he had been constipated all his life—many doctors treated him, but all failed to even help him—his health failed rapidly and on January 21, 1903, Mrs. Thompson asked us to suggest a treatment for her husband—We thought the case too serious and recommended that a specialist be consulted—but he also failed to help the patient—NOW HE IS WELL.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cured Him

Mrs. Thompson first wrote us as follows: "My husband, aged 25, suffers from sharp pains in his stomach and sometimes thinks it is his heart. Let me know by return mail what causes the pain, if you can. Mr. Thompson has been treated by several doctors, but they have given him up."
We promptly advised that a first-class specialist be consulted. We quote: "We want to sell Mull's Grape Tonic, because we know it will cure constipation, but $60 a bottle is no object to us when a human life is at stake, and if your husband's case is as serious as you state, we suggest you consult a reliable specialist, not the advertising kind, promptly." At the same time, knowing that Mull's Grape Tonic could do no harm, we advised its use until a physician could be consulted. January 25 Mrs. Thompson wrote that a physician had been consulted. He diagnosed the case as being chronic constipation and dyspepsia. His treatment was followed faithfully, but there was no perceptible improvement in Mr. Thompson's health. Then he began taking Mull's Grape Tonic and on Sept. 2, 1903, we received the following letter from Mrs. Thompson:
"You will remember that I wrote to you last January in regard to my husband's health. It is four months since he quit taking Mull's Grape Tonic for constipation, which he suffered from since birth. He took just 24 bottles of it and is perfectly cured. He is much stronger and has gained considerably in flesh. I cannot thank you enough for Mull's Grape Tonic. 'It is worth its weight in gold.' Just $12 cured him and he has spent hundreds of dollars with doctors who did him no good. Now I want to state my case to you and expect your early reply. I also have constipation, have had for three years. Kindly let me know as I am sure it will cure me if you say it will, as it did all you obtained it would be my husband's case. I await an early reply."
Very respectfully yours, MRS. W. H. THOMPSON, 801 Main St., Peoria, Ill.

GROWING ALFALFA FOR HAY.

P. G. Holden, of the Iowa Experiment station, gives some excellent notes on growing and harvesting alfalfa and a few of them are as follows:

It is important first that the ground should be sweetened with barn yard manure (eight or ten manure spreader loads to the acre will be sufficient); second, that we have a firm, solid and well prepared seed bed; third, that no nurse crop be used; fourth, that weeds should be kept mowed off during the first season in case the alfalfa is sown in the spring; fifth, that the first cutting each spring be made as soon as the first blossoms begin to appear (generally not later than the first of June).

The best results are generally obtained by sowing in August, using ground that has grown a crop of oats, barley, or wheat. As soon as possible the grain should be hauled off the ground, and either stacked or threshed, and ten loads of manure to the acre be spread on the ground at once. The ground should then be double disked, plowed, again double disked, harrowed and left until about the 10th or 12 of August, when it should be again disked, harrowed, seeded, and re-harrowed to cover the seed.

It is important that the small grain be removed as soon as possible after it is cut and the ground manured, disked, plowed, and redisked at once. If this work is properly done the ground will accumulate sufficient moisture by August 12 to germinate the seed at once even in the drier seasons. This may seem like a great deal of work, but there is absolutely no use of trying to get a stand of alfalfa unless the work is done on time, and thoroughly done, too.

The alfalfa should make a good growth in the fall and not less than two cuttings of hay should be made the following seasons, and three if conditions are favorable. Remember that it is necessary to make the first cutting early, generally not later than the first of June even though the weather is such that the crop can not be kept.

No piece of ground on the farm will bring greater profit than the five or ten acres put into alfalfa, provided the work is properly done and a good stand is secured.

Twelve to fifteen pounds of seed to the acre is sufficient. It is a good plan to sow about half the seed on the field the first time over, and then across the field, sowing the other half. This will insure a more even distribution of the seed.

The points which should be emphasized are the manuring of the ground before plowing, removing the small grain and preparing just as soon as possible the small grain has been harvested, thorough preparation of the ground, and sowing not later than August 12 to 15, and beginning on a small scale. Four to six acres where it can be used for hog pasture will make a good start. Remember that alfalfa will not endure wet feet. There should be no standing water within four and a half or five feet of the surface of the ground.

Alfalfa cut for hay should be handled in the same way as clover except that it will require more attention. When we remember that the leaves are nearly as valuable as the stem the importance of preserving them in the hay will be recognized. Alfalfa should always be cut when the very first blossoms appear. Never let it get into full bloom, as in the case of clover, for the leaves will fall off and the stems become woody and the next cutting will be practically ruined. It is best handled by putting up in cocks as soon after cutting as it can be raked well. It may be necessary to open the cocks a few hours before hauling.

Do not waste any time worrying about inoculating the ground with bacteria. If you will prepare the ground as described above, spreading it with a light dressing of manure before plowing, there will be present all the inoculating organisms necessary for the best growth of the alfalfa.

After the second year the alfalfa will be improved by disking the field in the spring, as it mauls the ground, kills out the grass and splits up the crowns of the alfalfa roots, and in this manner thickens it.

Alfalfa is adapted to almost every kind of soil except those that are cold and wet where the water stands for several weeks during the year within four or five feet of the surface. Sometimes during very wet seasons in the humid region the alfalfa is struck by rust, the leaves turn yellow and begin to fall off. In this case the alfalfa should be cut at once and either cured for hay or fed to the hogs. The next crop will then start at once.

Every farmer should have a small field of alfalfa, and if the work is done thoroughly and at the proper time, you will almost certainly succeed in securing a good stand; on the other hand, if the work is half done and out of season, you will just as certainly fail.

Blood

Keep your blood clean as you keep your body clean. You don't wait until your body is foul before you cleanse it.
It is a matter of surprise that many people who are so careful to have clean bodies make no effort to keep the blood clean. Everyone knows that uncleanliness breeds disease; that those who do not keep their bodies in a wholesome condition and who dwell in filthy surroundings are the first to fall when some epidemic of disease sweeps the country. But foul blood is more dangerous to the individual than a foul body. An unclean body is rather a passive than an active hindrance to health. But unclean blood is an active threat against the very life—it makes the body a prepared breeding place for disease.

It is part of Nature's plan for human safety that in many cases where the blood is impure or corrupt she sets a sign on the body in proof of the corrupt current that is flowing through the veins. Scrofula with its disgusting sores and scars, eczema with its irritating, salt-rheum, letter, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions are only the outward signs of the impurity of the blood. But often in the earlier or simpler stages of the blood's impurity there are no outward signs of this condition; only dull, languid, sluggish feelings, which are commonly attributed solely to the sluggishness of the liver.

Of all preparations for purifying the blood Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery easily takes the first place. It eliminates from the blood the elements which clog and corrupt it, and which breed and feed disease. It acts directly on the blood-making glands, increasing their activity, and so increasing the supply of rich, pure blood which is the life of the body.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing card. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Until my new building on Main street is completed, I will be located in the building on Main street near Fourth street, recently vacated by G. A. Heinz.

The trip was made at the leisure of the travelers who left Southern California March 24 and en route stopped at numerous resorts and points of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Mark passed through the Yosemite Valley and, following the Sacramento river, crossed the mountains into Oregon.
